JAMES P. DONAGHEY

Mr. James P. Donaghey, long a resident of this town and identified for many years with the leather industry here, died on Monday morning at his home on Water street. He had been in failing health for some time. Mr. Donaghey leaves a wife, Annie (Smith) Donaghey, six sons: Messrs. John F., James P., of the local police department; Thomas W., Joseph W., of the Winchester Post Office department; Arthur L., of the Boston Post Office staff, and Robert V., and two daughters, Mrs. Annie Stover, of Worcester, and Miss Mary F., of this town. He also leaves five grandchildren. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's. A large mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. Joseph B. Early, with Mrs. James McGrath, soloist. The bearers were the six sons of the deceased and the burial was in the family lot in Willowood cemetery.

CHRISTMAS CHARITY WHIST—
D. OF L.

The Christmas charity whist of the Daughters of Isabella, held at Whites Hall December 16, was a grand success and was greatly enjoyed by all present, knowing that the success of this party would bring happiness to many on Christmas day. The D. of L. knowing that this was a year of great need of charity, made a special effort to do their part to bring comfort to the needy. We also wish to thank the people of Winchester and Women for their cash donations and articles of service. Mr. Patrick Noonan of Canal street was very kind to the committee, by giving them the use of his automobile, which enabled them to do their work more easily and bring about the desired results.

Mrs. William H. Vayo, chairman.

A largely attended and most enjoyable dance was held at the Winchester Country Club on New Year's eve.

Venezuela.

Venezuela consists of 20 states and two territories, with a total area of 813,970 square miles, and has an estimated population of 2,840,000, of which approximately 1,000,000 live in Caracas, the capital and metropolis of the country.

Beneficial Vegetables.

The value of dried apple as a protective food is shown by experiments in the laboratory. The green leaf vegetables are next in value in the protection from scurvy. A small amount of cabbage added to an otherwise deficient ration will keep Guinea pigs in good condition for more than a year. The third class of foods in the prevention of scurvy is the root vegetables. Onions, potatoes and carrots were found in the experiments to retain enough of the protective element to carry Guinea pigs through reproduction.

GAS LIGHT EMPLOYEES TO HOLD DANCE

The second annual dance of the Arlington Gas Employees' Association will be held in Toldens Memorial Town Hall Wednesday evening, February 2, 1921.

The general committee is headed by Mr. Frank A. Woodhead, the popular manager of the company as chairman, nobly assisted by ever-smiling Manuel Lopez as sub-chairman, and the following employees: May Sheen, Alice Torrey, Elizabeth Torrey, Marion McManis, Katherine Kelley, Marion Mastere, Mrs. Grace Woods, Mrs. Pearl Miller, Edward Cross, John Bradley, Frank Aborn, Bert McGeece, O. F. Pulli, A. P. Lopez, James F. Haley and Daniel Sheen.

The above committee promises all those that show up at the dance one good, lively time. This is a good chance to get acquainted with the service men employed by the company who answer s'ry complaints.

YUBA DAMS THIS YEAR

"Yuba Dam" was the title given Dr. C. H. Tozier's community which installed itself at the Eagle Mountain House, Jackson, N. H., over the holidays this year. The party was the largest yet and included besides Winchester people, many from other places. This year's gathering was one of the best. Snow showing, consisting, dancing and all indoor and outdoor sports were enjoyed to the limit. A special feature was a town meeting of Yuba Dam, City of Carroll. The selectmen were known to many, the signatories being Grace G. Atwood, Nellie E. O'Brien, Harriet E. Pollock, Blanche V. Shultz and Margaret Erdahl. The articles in the warrant were very progressive, including a six-monthly school fall. The incident of the lost Harvard students, who climbed Mt. Washington, provided ample excitement for the trip.

TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC

It is reported that the local Board of Health has plans under way for the establishment of a tuberculosis clinic in the former White Block, in the quarters used by the Winchester Red Cross. Announcement of this important innovation will be made within a few weeks when the plans mature and the details arranged.

Master Russell Billman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Billman, of Cabot street, is at the Winchester Hospital recovering from a broken thigh, received while coasting last Friday.

COMPOSERS' NIGHT

French composers' night was observed by the Music Garden of this town at its regular monthly meeting held at the home of Mrs. Frank Jones, Crescent road, Tuesday evening. A feature of the program was an original paper on "Musique Française" composed and read in French by Monsieur Gustav Beldion of this town. There were groups of French songs, violin solos, a trio and a quartet, all by French composers. The Music Garden will furnish the music program at the meeting of the Mothers' Association later this month.

In a letter received this week from Mr. Robert J. McGuinity of Flint, Mich., a former well known Winchester boy, he states that he received a pleasant surprise Christmas week by a visit from two Winchester boys, James McCreaven and Anthony Cullen. The first evening of their visit, Mr. McGuinity writes, was given over to talking of all the things that have happened in the old home town. Mr. McGuinity is in the employ of the Buick Company, and writes that that firm is turning out some fine specimens for the coming automobile shows. Messrs. McCreaven and Cullen are in the employ of the Ford Co., now closed for inventory.

WINCHESTER BOARD OF HEALTH

The bacteria count in this chart gives the number of bacteria found in one c. c. taken from the center of the sample after it had been well shaken. It should be remembered that another c. c. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed ten per cent.

IN REGARD TO THE PROPOSED
WAR MEMORIAL

tainment for the public and not felt the need of such a building? Let those who have not, undertake something, and I know their vote would be added to ours.

It is a sad awakening for a chairman to find how little help one gets in the way of housing gatherings or committees necessary to perfect their plans. For instance, call up someone who has an empty hall, the price quoted would amaze you call up the Men's Club, which has a fire hall not occupied at all times, and you get this reply: "We've voted not to let the ladies in, this is distinctly a men's club," or, "if we let you in, 'Mary Jones' or 'Bill Smith' may want it and we would get in a row." I agree; if one has it or other should, but why shouldn't they all have it?

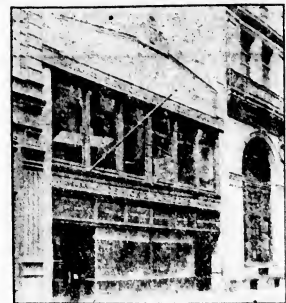

Then try to get the High School. You are told that it is only for the High School pupils. Last, you try to get in church and find they are the only ones who consider anybody; it is the only place you find public spirit and co-operation.

It seems to me the united effort and co-operation of our fellowmen would make a most happy situation in Winchester. Selfishness is not one of God's teachings. Therefore, let's cast it out and be "good fellows" enough to see further than our hands can reach out.

The Woman's Club in town is a great medium through which many philanthropic ideas are extended; it is comprised of six hundred active and thinking women and deserves consideration.

It was the Fortunately that introduced telephone books and supplied suitable clothes for same; also the summer schools; the kindergarten, which was strongly opposed as the "movies" are now. It has a scholarship fund, from which many young people have furthered their education. It has made it possible for folks on the outlying districts to obtain good books through its circulating library; it gives one hundred dollars for the feeding of undernourished children in town and it gives twenty five per cent. of its entire income to charity. It also established the public playground which has been taken over by the town. Surely to one can argue that the Fortunately is not doing community service work. Do not the committee on the proposed War Memorial think co-operation with an organization doing so much for the town, worth while?

Have the people been awake to the good work these ladies have done and are still doing? Do the men who seek the selfish comforts of their exclusive clubs realize that the women are their wives, sisters and daughters reaching a helping hand in every way they can to their community? Let us hope they have never thought much about it, but that they will think and come to the side of this organized body, lending assistance in whatever is undertaken, thereby accomplishing great things along community service lines which can only be brought about through united and earnest effort.

A NEW YEAR RESOLUTION, 1921

(Amy Wyman)

With high resolve shall I declare
As the New Year is ushered in
With tinted sky and frosty air
Lord, give me strength the goal to win!

I look not back with vain regret
On the mistakes that mortals make;
No stumbling feet my spirits fret,
As I, the waning year forsake.

I wish to live a higher life
While treating friendship tenderly
Avoiding angry words and strife
And seeking help from Heaven on high.

Movement of Solar System.
Astronomers agree on the fact that the sun is moving through space toward a point in Lyra with a velocity of about 12 miles a second. The whole solar system is necessarily involved in this motion.

Might Be Condemned.
It's a lucky thing for some architects of their own fortunes that there were no building inspectors around while the job was being done.

CALUMET WON FROM COLONIAL

The Colonial Club of Cambridge was the guest of the Calumet Club on Tuesday evening for the usual matches in bowling and cards. No pool or billiards were played. Calumet teams being present, but Colonial players absent. Calumet won seven out of the eight points represented by the two bowling matches and divided honors at bridge. Calumet's one bowling point was lost by three pins, the visitors defeating the first team of the local organization 210-106 in the third.

Calumet rollers walked up on their toes all through the matches, although both teams found some difficulty owing to an unfavorable mixture of old and new pins. Except for the third string between the first teams none of the scores were particularly close. Evans of the visitors led in individual work, he rolling a total of 312 with 129 for his best single. Newman led the Calumet men with 334 on a single of 122. S. H. Taylor got 311 with 112; Berry 315 with 118; Aseltine 304 with 113; Goldsmith 300 with 112; Hildreth 107; Golia 105; Murphy 102; and Stephenson 101. Special New Year's bowling at the Calumet Club Saturday took the form of a ten-pin box match, the idea being to secure the largest number of ten-pin boxes in three consecutive strings. Higgins, who rolled twenty boxes of solid tens out of thirty. R. L. Purinton with 16 took the Class B prize and J. P. Heaton with 9 took the Class C trophy.

LADIES' BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Interesting matches, including the raising of two individual records, featured bowling games in the Calumet ladies' tournament Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. W. J. Brown rolled a total of 296 with 127 for a single string. Her string was instrumental in securing two points for her team from Team 3 and Team 2 took two from Team 10. None of the matches were close except in the totals of the 9-10 match, which the former won by two pins. Mrs. W. S. Parsons rolled an individual total of 184 with 90 for her best string. WINCHESTER MEN INTERESTED

Middlesex Sportsmen Open New Home at Arlington

The annual meeting of the Middlesex Sportsmen's Association was held last Thursday night in the new clubhouse of the organization, formerly the Arlington Boat Club. The meeting was a record breaker, all available space in the big building being occupied. This was the first gathering in the newly acquired quarters of the organization and many Winchester members and friends attended. Winchester was also well represented in the election of officers. Mr. Thomas Quinley, Jr., was elected a vice president, a member of the committee for the distribution of fish, a member on the committee on meetings in cities and towns and a member on the committee on outings. Dr. Herbert E. Maynard, another enthusiastic local sportsman, was made an honorary vice-president.

Know Where You Stand

Many people allow household bills to accumulate because it requires effort to check and pay them.

In many well-regulated homes a budget has been established for household expenses. The home manager is given a regular allowance which is deposited in a checking account and used for prompt payment of all bills.

We suggest that you start the NEW YEAR by opening such an account with this bank.

MRS. FRANCES E. LOTHROP

Mrs. Frances E. Lothrop, who died at her home on Herick street last week, was born in North Fayette, Me., July 6, 1835, the daughter of Sophia and Captain John S. French, who was one of the original Methodists of the town. She was a Maine Conference. She came to Charlestown as a bride and had lived in Boston and vicinity ever since. She was a typical New England woman, practical, industrious, resolute and brave, of a quiet, reserved nature which expressed itself in kind deeds. Throughout her long life she was deeply interested in her church and home. For many years she was actively identified with the Broadway Methodist church in South Boston. Since coming to Winchester she had been a regular attendant of the Methodist church of this town until failing health prevented. Her pastor, Rev. A. B. Gifford, officiated at the funeral services which were held last Friday afternoon. She was the last of her immediate family, but leaves a grandson, Mr. G. Dwight Cabot of Winthrop, a granddaughter, Miss Helen L. Cabot of this town, and a great granddaughter, Jeanette Cabot of Winthrop.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the excellence of the music, rendered by the High School orchestra, and while it is possible that Director Richard W. Grant may enjoy the assistance of exceptional talent at the school this year, he deserves credit for a most successful organization and capable training.
The composition of the orchestra was as follows: Violins, Thomas Gilchrist, Miss Marion Winn, Miss Guendolyn Muldoon, Miss Rebecca Barrett, Miss Katherine Rossey, Miss Pearl Prime, Miss Dorothy Astorine, banjo-mandolin, Miss Ruth Chamberlain, cornets, Stanley McNelly, Ralph Scammon, trombones, Junior Kelley, Wallace Downer, saxophone, James Josling, clarinet, Richard Chantman, drum, William Bower, piano, Miss Kathleen Case, director, Richard W. THE LADIES' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

The January luncheon of the Ladies' Friendly Society was held at the Unitarian Church on Tuesday, the 11th, at 1 o'clock. The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. E. Barrett and Mrs. H. W. Hildreth.

At 2 o'clock the afternoon meeting opened with a charming piano solo by Mrs. H. E. Eberence, chairman of the Music Committee. After the usual business there were two interesting talks given by Mrs. W. B. Nichols, who spoke of the work of the Office Letter Committee, and by Mrs. Murlack M. Clark, who spoke of Post Office Missions.

During the afternoon there was a sale of food and household articles.

C. F. DUTCH SHOWS NEED OF UNITED EFFORT TO BRING NORMAL BUSINESS

Charles F. Dutch, of Brooks street, former town counsel and now lecturer on maritime law at the Harvard law school, and during the war admiralty counsel and general auditor for the United States shipping board, speaking on a Sunday afternoon at the Old South forum, asserted that the ocean transportation of this country is just about normal today.

"If we could only get Boston up to normal," he exclaimed. "In general we are up to normal all over the country, but here in Boston the situation is sad. That is the only word for it."

Other Ports Crowded.
"All up and down the coast, at New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, the port facilities are crowded while here we are using only about 30 or 40 per cent. of what is available on our magnificent waterfront and harbor. It is cheaper to bring a ship into port in Boston than it is in New York, and yet the latter place is crowded."

"We are a goodly run of most European ports than New York and that represents thousands of dollars for every vessel. A map on Mercator's projection shows us that Boston is actually only one mile farther from a South American port, such as Rio de Janeiro than is Jacksonville, Fla. We are geographically situated then to become a great port. Some southern ports have the advantage of us in inland transportation rates, but our shorter shipping routes should counteract that."

"We haven't the trunk lines needed to bring us the business. None of the trunk lines are interested in developing New England as they are in New York. We must get together and work with a united effort. We must think and fight in terms of Boston. In that way we can secure a fair deal for this section of the country. It would not only afford an outlet for local businesses, but a developing port brings additional prosperity in its train through auxiliary businesses."

Business Men Too Cautious.
"The men in business must back the venture. The statesmen and diplomats are helpless without the tradesmen. It has appeared of late in New England that the business men, many of whose fortunes were established by their ancestors in the shipping business, are afraid to invest in anything that has the word ship in general."

Mr. Dutch said that the recent step of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in organizing the Maritime Association was a move in the right direction, and praised the auspicious manner in which it has started. He also intimated the donors bill, saying that it is a club that can be used by this country to force the other nations to fair trade. He reviewed the work of the shipping board and the history of shipping in this country in general.

He said that much of the waste made by the board was due to the haste of producing ten ships with only the means of producing one existing at the time it started work. He said the board has brought the percentage of our foreign trade carried in American bottoms up from 8 or 9 per cent. in 1914 to 10 or 12 per cent. for the year ending last June. This latter percentage, he declared to be about the normal for any country.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS' COURSE

Once more the wholesome work of the Girl Scouts is brought to us, this time in a series of lectures during February. This will be the only course open to prospective leaders, parents of Scouts or council women nearer than Cambridge.

It means much to have these ideals which make for good citizenship worked out in practical pastimes and exercises and adapted to our junior citizens by the Girl Scouts.

This course is held under the auspices of the Winchester Girl Scout Council. It is conducted by Miss Dorothy Dean, Mayor's appointee and Captain from the Massachusetts Girl Scout headquarters and is to be at the Winchester High School.

Four lessons in February will cover the Girl Scout Temperance work, and six more lessons in March and April, if those attending desire, on further scout work, Thursday evenings, 7:30 to 9 o'clock, starting the first Thursday of February. No charge to residents of Winchester.

For further details apply to Mrs. Stillman P. Williams, Mrs. Arthur T. Smith, Mrs. Anna T. O'Sullivan, Mrs. W. J. Drake, Miss Elizabeth LeNaven, Education Committee of the Girl Scout Council.

about of its needs. Not until the children are knocking at school doors will the necessary appropriations be made. In periods of unemployment, children should be in school and not on the streets seeking jobs. What we would not desire for our own children, we should not want for the children of less fortunate parents.

Mr. Stetson was not sure that he opposed this bill, but believed that opposition was a good method of reaching a decision as to its merits. Unfortunately it is the fashion of the legislature to rush legislation, and in this matter it would be wise to stop and consider. It is true that we do not have an increase in schoolhouses until we have more children to attend them, but where is the money coming from when our taxpayers are already so overburdened? Mr. Stetson believed that children in industry are entitled to every protection and assured his audience health conditions are carefully safeguarded by nurses and physicians; no one has proved that children suffer in industry; they certainly appear healthy and seem happy and interested in their work. Children in industry compare favorably with children in schools both as regards health and morals. Children in school have more leisure which has a tendency to offer temptations which they might not meet if they had less time for themselves. Then, too, the child who can work means much to the widowed mother or the invalid father and the support of the family is a small consideration. We must be sure of our ground before we go ahead with this legislation.

2. Physical Training Bill for Public Schools.

Proponent: Mr. Lyman V. Rutledge of the Massachusetts Civic League.

Opponent: Mrs. Jessica Henderson of the Medical Library League.

Mr. Rutledge brought forward the well known facts concerning the draft. In Massachusetts 47 per cent. of the boys did not enter training camps because they were physically unfit, and of the 53 per cent. who did get in, many had to take special training. The committee appointed a commission to study the problem and this commission recommends physical training in the schools which takes the form of exercises under supervision to develop the physical vitality of the child. To opponents who declare this bill will promote centralization of power the answer is made that the matter is in the hands of the school committee and not under the authority of the State House. A child is born a savage, as it were, and therefore he must be trained to the nobility of manhood. So it is that the highest faculty in a child is his capacity for freedom, physical, intellectual and spiritual. We must concede that physical training is a leeway, an opening by which we may lead on to the training in the intellectual and spiritual freedom.

Mrs. Jessica Henderson, representing drugless healing and stating that there were in this country 25,000,000 people who do not enjoy regular physicians, deplored the fact that the schools were becoming public clinics practically speaking, that physicians were not being examined by physicians of one school only. She feared the teaching of sex hygiene in the schools would be the outcome of this measure. There would always be a suggestion of disease which would lead to the creation of an atmosphere of fear, most unwholesome for the child.

3. The Maternity Bill.
Proponent: Dr. Merrill E. Champion, State Board of Health.
Opponent: Dr. Quessy of Fitchburg.

Dr. Champion thought this to be one of the strongest humanitarian measures yet proposed. A commission appointed by the legislature to investigate the mortality of mothers found out that the majority of deaths were due not to poverty but to ignorance of hygiene.

The report of this investigation brings out these facts:
39% of deaths among mothers were unquestionably preventable.

39% of deaths among infants under one month were preventable.
28% of deaths among infants from one month to one year were preventable. The Maternity Center in New York dealing with these cases lost six out of 4,500 cases. In Boston the Maternity Center reduced mortality among mothers one-half and still births one-third. This bill plans that pre-natal, natal, and post-natal care may be given by nurses who are always to act as assistants to physicians to mothers throughout the commonwealth who may so desire it. It will give in the outlying districts what we all would want, and most of us have in such a community as Winchester. The cost of this care will be less than $200,000, a small amount in comparison to bridge and road appropriations and a wise investment in the conservation of human life. This bill happens to be almost identical with the Shepard-Towner bill, which if passed by Congress will provide a subsidy for which we must provide the machinery.

Dr. Quessy opposed the bill. He questioned the statistics and stated his belief that poverty was the prevailing cause of infant mortality. He felt that this bill might be taken as an indictment of physicians who have been active and faithful in the performance of their duties. Bad habits, wrong living, wrong habits of dress and venereal disease render women unfit to bear children. These conditions cannot be remedied by prenatal care. His remedy would be the education of the people to proper ways of living.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Rutledge made a plea that the law which reads "The Assistant Commissioner of Labor must be a woman" shall be amended to read, "The Assistant Commissioner of Labor shall be a woman."

Ten was served under the direction of Mrs. Chandler Wood, assisted by Mrs. C. E. Fish, Mrs. A. Miles Hubbard and Miss Barbara Fernald.

FORTH-NIGHTLY NOTES

The next meeting of the Current Events Class will be held in the High School Assembly Hall on Friday, January 22, at 8:30 p. m. These attending the last Friday found it very interesting. The committee hopes that many more will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these five lectures. The next meeting of the Literature Class will be in the High School library on Monday, January 17, at 3 o'clock. Subject: Life and Works of Harold P. Brichouse, whose plays are often given in the Copple Theatre. Two of his plays will be read and tea will be served. Any number of the Fortnightly will be welcome.

There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the chain parties. As originally planned the first and second group of guests must ask their guests to entertain. There are now a good many members of the club still to be entertained before April 1st, so the committee request that those who came in the first or second group of guests should do their part as soon as possible.

The chairman, Mrs. Charles Tarnell, phone 774-M, has a correct list of those yet to be invited, and will gladly give any information, as it is desired that no club member shall be omitted from these good times.

The Thrift and Conservation Committee will hold a meeting in the High School library on Thursday, January 20, at 3 o'clock.

On Monday at the regular meeting Mr. Roland Sherman, chairman of the War Memorial Committee, gave a very good idea of the work being carried on by that committee, with the assistance of the War Memorial Committee appointed by the government. He made very clear the ethical side of the question in distinction from the practical side. "First to be considered in such a memorial are the boys who gave their lives in the war, second the boys who returned, and third the community interest." A discussion followed.

The program opened with a group of songs by Miss Brenda Bond, accompanied by Mrs. Lefavour. The beauty and flexibility of her fresh voice was particularly shown in the last selection, "Hay Fields and Butterflies," by Del Riego. We are glad "she belongs to us" that we may often hear her sing.

The address given by Frank W. Wright, Deputy Commissioner of Education, opened our eyes to many things in regard to which he said we are asleep.

After this terrible period of war, the educators in general, school committees and teachers must realize that we need a new slogan, "New Schools in a New Way." Instead of a school term from six years to eighteen or twenty years of age, it must be a term for any time in life, day or night, that the millions of foreign born in this country may learn what it means to gain an education, where the law requires parents to send their children to school at least to a certain age.

There has been great advance in law and in medicine in the last decade, but the profession of the teachers has not been recognized. Now is the time to work for better teachers better paid, with better results.

He thinks the public schools are the only solution of the war difficulties, and that a systematic course of American geography should be introduced into the school curriculum, to bring a keen and sacred regard for the laws of the country, and something of the great strength of the men who made them, into the mind of the children who some day will be responsible for their fulfillment. The names of Washington and Lincoln should be mentioned at least once a day in the schoolroom as a matter of safety, a guide to their ambition.

BUY ONE THRIFT STAMP EVERY DAY

G. H. Jenkins of Manchester Road is Nation's Star Collector

George H. Jenkins of 14 Manchester road, is credited with being the most consistent purchaser of thrift and war-savings stamps in the United States by F. C. Ayers, director of the savings division, first federal reserve districts. A stamp a day since March, 1918, is his record. Year in and out he lays down a quarter once a day and receives a thrift stamp. On Saturdays he buys two, on vacations and holidays likewise purchasing ahead of time.

He started collecting thrift stamps in December, 1917, when they were first issued, but then bought $5 ones, starting his daily plan in March. He accumulated $125 in 1918 and 1919 and $115 in 1920, with $205 represented as his investment on January 1, 1921.

"I undertook to purchase one stamp a day as a sort of a test," said Mr. Jenkins. "After a time I was surprised to find how easy it was to go on buying, how little I missed the quarter a day and how fast it counted up. Instead of buying seven stamps each week I persisted in the daily purchases. It has proved well worth while. I have not missed the money, needless to say, and I really get enjoyment out of setting myself such a task. It is the best of training in a system. It shows how even a very small amount of money, saved daily, may be made to count up to a respectable sum in a year. I believe that if more people would set themselves such a task it would help them and help the government."

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Few girls would care for style if kissing were unfashionable.
Please remember that a statement isn't necessarily false just because you disbelieve it.
No woman who is now married ever passes an old admirer without looking back.
Always give the devil his due—but it is far better to keep out of his debt.
If a sprinkler system were provided to cool the temper of some folks the premises would be flooded most of the time.

Dodgson will hold his town meeting in a few days, it is said, in order to care for the increased voting strength secured by the recent election. Other places, sufficiently fortunate, have hastened to secure the State armories for the purpose. Winchester town hall, which will accommodate a little over 1,000 persons. As we have over 4,000 voters, do not be puffed if your absence is not missed.

Mayor Haines of Medford has petitioned the legislature that his city may be authorized to borrow $100,000 to reconstruct Main street, Salem street and High street. Possibly he has Winchester on his mind. However, do not let your spirits rise too high. The request has not yet been granted.

HIGHLAND AVENUE BUILDING LINES

There was a large attendance at the hearing on building lines on Highland avenue, held at the Town Hall on Monday evening. The selectmen's room was taxed to its capacity to accommodate those present. The hearing developed the fact that portions of the avenue are to be restricted to a 15-foot line and other parts to a 25-foot line. Those speaking were all in opposition, one objecting to the 15-foot line and others to the 25-foot line. The suggestion was made that the line be fixed along the avenue by blocks, varying in accordance to the nature of the present development. In certain parts, Highland avenue has never been laid out to its full width, a ten-foot strip remaining to be developed. Along this portion of the avenue the 25-foot line is equal to one of 55 feet, unless the avenue be widened to its full line, which appears very doubtful for many years to come. No reason was given for the variation of the line.

WINCHESTER GRANGE

Winchester Grange held its installation exercises Tuesday evening at Lyceum Hall. Many visiting granges were present, a compliment to the popularity of the worthy master, Frank Tyler Marston, who was unanimously re-elected to the office. The installing officer was Hon. Angier L. Goodwin, mayor of Medford, who spoke during the evening, that Brother Marston had a knack of reminding himself all over, the grange community being a past deputy and well known and welcomed in every grange of the state. The other officers of the installing suite were: Marshall, Mrs. Eleanor Goodwin, who also acted as Mrs. Teresa Jewell, who also acted as Mrs. Geo. B. Lester, master-elect of Stonham Grange.

A feature of the evening was the presentation of a cold fountain to W. M. Marston, a tribute of esteem and appreciation from the members of Winchester Grange. Brother Marston was much pleased with spirit prompting the gift and responded most fittingly.

Another officer installed in Winchester Grange was the Worthy Overseer, Frank B. Patterson, who comes from Grotton Grange to fill the station. Brother Patterson now resides in Winchester, but wished to remain a member of Grotton Grange, where he has served many years in various stations, being a past master also, who chose their own chairman from the members succeeded in persuading him to accept the office. Winchester Grange members highly appreciate his sacrifice and hope to imitate his example.

The chairman of the several committees to serve for the ensuing year were appointed as follows: Each committee consists of seven members not officers, and while the chairman is named, the privilege is extended to choose their own chairman from the seven who will be named at the next meeting. The committees follow: Literary Committee—Mrs. Helen Pomeroy.
Relief Committee—Mrs. Marguerite Barton.
Music Committee—Helen A. Brown.
Feast Committee—Mrs. Gertrude Natch.
Tournament Service—Mrs. Nellie G. Lafayette.

TWO SONS DIG FATHER'S GRAVE IN STONEHAM

Two sons of Daniel Desmond, Centre avenue, Reading, dug their father's grave in St. Patrick's cemetery when it became known that the rules of the cemetery forbid the placing of bodies in the ground after January 1.

When they went to make arrangements for the interment they found that the body under the rules would have to be placed in the cemetery tomb till spring. The vault was crowded and the family decided that they would have the grave dug. Superintendent Frank Woods of the cemetery refused to open the grave, so the sons, Daniel and James Desmond, with William Carney, Daniel Kennedy and Bartholomew Carney, went to the cemetery and dug the grave.

Mr. Desmond was fifty years of age and well known in Reading. He is survived by two sons and eight daughters.

K. OF C. CLUB HOUSE BURNS

Home on Vine Street gutted by fire Friday night. The fire broke out in the large house on Vine street owned and occupied by Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus. What at first appeared to be a small fire developed into a menacing conflagration before the first piece of apparatus arrived at the scene, and before the blaze was under control a motor pump was called from Woburn to assist.

The alarm was sounded just before 7:30. At that time the heavy rain storm which had been in progress during the day had become a deluge and water was coming down in torrents.

The fire was discovered by George McLean. As he was leaving the building to get a bucket of water, he noticed smoke in the hall.

When he reached the basement, he found it coming from the laundry in one corner. Returning to the first floor, he found the smoke coming from the door and he could not get out by the door and had to leave by a window.

From his description it was not thought a serious fire was in progress, and the Parkard truck was sent to the scene. But as the fire spread, a general alarm was rung in, box 21 being sounded.

The fire was largely in the partitions of the laundry, and the house was plastered from attic to cellar, the firemen had a hard job to fight it. The flames finally broke out on the south-west side of the roof and as the house sets on a hill in the center of the town, the blaze was seen from all directions.

The fire was a hot one, and the houses adjoining were very close, so as a matter of precaution, especially the Bryant street side, the fire department was called to assist.

The firemen fought the fire for over three hours before it was extinguished. The cause of the fire is not yet known.

At present plans have not been formed for the future. There is some talk of selling the property and building a new one, while other opinions advocate repairing the old one.

The house is large and well known to Winchester residents as the Winsor home. It was owned by Mr. Winsor, Mr. E. L. Barnard and later by M. C. Ambrose.

REPORTS ON SCHOOLS

Advance Sheets from School Committee and Superintendent.

The annual report of the School Committee of the Town of Winchester, soon to appear, is the annual report, has been secured through the courtesy of the department and will be published in the Star, the first installment appearing on Tuesday night, February 1st. Mr. Willey, the schools of Winchester provide one of the most interesting items of the annual report.

Norman Hapgood, has been prominently connected with public issues since he became editor of the Weekly in 1903. He was editor for 18 years of the Weekly until its merger with the Independent.

The School Committee believes that the past year can fairly be called a record year for the schools of the town are concerned.

The enrollment of the system has been maintained and that of the High School very considerably increased.

In spite of the increasing difficulty of filling vacancies in the teaching positions with first-rate teachers, the Committee has been able to secure very satisfactory results.

Through the enlightened generosity of the voters, the Committee has been able to advance the salaries of the teachers, and many other places can be kept to the best teachers we have or to get equally good teachers to take the places of those who leave us for one reason or another.

During the year the Committee elected Mr. Edward L. Thompson, who has been a valued teacher in the High School, to the position of principal, and we are glad to believe that the citizens of the town were generally satisfied with the Committee's choice.

In accordance with the vote of the town the national survey of education undertaken a survey of the Winchester school system last spring.

We hoped to give the report to the town at the first of the year, but congestion in the Government printing office delayed its publication. The Committee hopes that it will be available for the town meeting.

Many pretty dances are introduced. Mrs. Harriet Reynolds has an attractive part and leads a set of pretty girls through a very interesting drill and song.

Tickets can be had from the following committees: Mrs. Freeman Hovey, tel. 379-W; Mrs. Arthur Lombard, tel. 117; Mrs. William Bowe, tel. 1290-W; Mr. Doherty, tel. 701, and the Star Office.

We advise you to hurry if you want good seats.

FISHING EFFICIENCY

Two well known gentlemen gave up a fishing party, scheduled for Tuesday, owing to the cold. We wonder why. This is their usual program: Hire a man to proceed them at the pond, and they have him and set the tackle. We do not know what time they usually arrive at the fishing ground, but presume they get there at 10 o'clock. They travel in a heated limousine. This is drawn at the edge of the pond while the affords him baits the hooks. The car has a table in the equipment, and this is set up, together with cigars and cigarettes. We presume they also play "Rummy." When a fish is hooked, they take turns running out on the pond and bringing it in. This program is continued until the exhausted sport fails to excite their jaded nerves, and they go home for lunch from the vacuum basket, they return to town. Fishing efficiency to the ninth degree! We would like to see these fishing gentlemen are, but you only need two guesses.

BAPTIST MEN'S CLUB

An illustrated lecture on "The Lafayette National Park and Wild Life on the Coast of Maine" will be given in the First Baptist Church, Tuesday evening, January 25, at 7:15 o'clock by Arthur S. Dockham, the official photographer of the Lafayette National Park, Mr. Desert, Me.

The Men's Club of the First Baptist Church, under whose auspices this lecture is to be given, are to be congratulated on being able to secure Mr. Dockham for this evening of entertainment. His pictures are beautiful and probably the best ever made of the Winchester shore.

The public are invited.

First Congregational Church, 14 P. M., Friday, January 22, 1921. Subject: "What Is Happening in Russia?"

The fourth meeting of the Community Forum will be held in the First Congregational Church at 4 p. m. Sunday afternoon, with Norman Hapgood as speaker. His subject will be "What Is Happening in Russia," and there is no one better equipped to deal with this situation.

Norman Hapgood, has been prominently connected with public issues since he became editor of the Weekly in 1903. He was editor for 18 years of the Weekly until its merger with the Independent.

RED CROSS

Mrs. Gale, chairman of the Knitting Committee, reports a ready response to her demand for forty children's sweaters and sixty pairs of children's stockings. The wool for these garments has been provided by the Red Cross.

A local branch of the Junior Red Cross has been established in each of the elementary schools. A collection of six hundred dollars for the children of Poland, thirty-eight dollars of this amount was raised in the High School which has not been organized for the work.

Red Cross chapters everywhere wish to continue their labors, chiefly to help the children of Poland, who have been the victims of physical defects, the greater number of which could easily have been prevented and can now be healed. This work will be undertaken and conducted by the Health Center, a local, healthy enterprise.

TREMONT THEATRE

David Warfield is booked to appear at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, on Monday, January 24, for an engagement of two weeks, in David Belasco's most noteworthy play, "The Return of Peter Grimm." The distinguished star appears under the direction of Mr. Belasco, who has supervised every detail of this revival of his dramatic masterpiece.

Mr. Warfield's portrayal of the gentle old florist, Peter Grimm, who returns from the spiritual world to rectify the mistakes that he made while living, was accounted by many critics an achievement rarely if ever paralleled on the American stage. The figure of Peter Grimm, and the mind and heart and soul of Peter Grimm—as revealed by Mr. Warfield live in the memory not as a character of the stage but as a noble-hearted, well-beloved friend.

The play is revived in exactly the manner of the first production, and several members of the original cast are to be seen in the role that they created. Among the most important of these players are Marie Bates, Joseph Brennan, John Saville, John E. Weider and William Boag. Notable among the new members of the organization are Marcus DeLoe, George Wellington, John Saville, Charles Crompton and David Malloy.

The usual matinee will be given on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

COLD WEATHER HERE

Snappy weather struck Winchester this week after a fall and winter of mild temperature. During Monday the temperature fell steadily, a high wind making the cold keenly felt by all who were out. Tuesday the glass was an even zero and Wednesday it was four below, both readings being at 4:30 a. m. Yesterday the cold abated somewhat in preparation for a storm.

The cold caught many auto owners unprepared, frozen radiators being very much in evidence. On Wednesday afternoon while a frozen Ford was being towed in, it suddenly skidded on Church street and jumped the curb on the Common at the Congregational Church. It struck a small tree, but no damage resulted.

Fires were numerous. Beginning with the big fire of Friday night small blazes followed through the week. On Sunday a telephone call took the chemical out for burning grass at the corner of Highland avenue and Forest street, Monday at a p. m., burning grass on Palmer street near the cemetery necessitated a visit with the chief's car at the chemical shed to the residence of Mr. A. B. Sanders on Fletcher street for a burning chimney, and on Wednesday at 2:30, a run was made to the Garland residence on Webster road for a burning tree in a closet. At 4:15 p. m., Wednesday, it was thought the chimney of the Getty residence on Main street was on fire, and neighbors telephoned the fire department. The chemical responded and found that only a fresh fire was being built.

The skating through the week has been excellent, and all the ponds are safe. Wedge Pond has been especially patronized by many skaters.

WINCHESTER COUNCIL K. C. MINSTREL SHOW

On the evening of January 26 Winchester Council 210 K. C. will present its annual minstrel show in the Town Hall. This year the council will produce a show which is a combination of farce, comedy and minstrelsy. In a few words it is a home brew of minstrelsy, melody, music and mirth, all leading up to the glorious crowning of the "King of Loveland." It is a story of a mythical love and when the king has given up his job of looking after the state the affair of the state are all upset his people are despondent that he return. The show is interspersed with wonderfully good sketches. The soloists are exceptionally good as has always been the case in shows of the past. The principals of the show are the King, played by George McLean, and his aid, played by John M. Cullen. The numerous sketches are lead by Royal McCarthy, Lucy Glendon, Thomas McKee, Mae Kennedy, William McKee, Charlotte Mooney, Helen Foley, Daniel Collins. The cast men comprise Thomas McKee, Thomas Farrell, Charles O'Connell, Michael Farley, Josephine Mullin, Grace Stone, Ethel Kane, Eleanor Lawley and his

DISCUSS WINCHESTER BUILDING LAWS AGAIN JANUARY 25

Judging by what happened at the last meeting of the Winchester Board of Trade when the local building laws were discussed, there will be a lively time at the meeting next Tuesday evening, January 25, which will be held in Waterfield Hall over the Post Office, when the committee appointed at the last meeting to study the building laws and suggest improvements will make a partial report.

The members of this committee hope that all persons interested in the local building laws will be present at this meeting. If, as it is claimed, the laws are so stringent that they impose unnecessary hardships upon builders and saddle unnecessary costs upon those who pay the bills, changes ought to be made.

The chief speaker of the evening, Ralph Byron Wilson of Wellesley, a statistical organization of Wellesley Hills, will tell what his organization sees ahead for business men during the remaining months of 1921.

Mr. Wilson has just returned from a trip around the country and therefore is in position to give a first-hand report on what the leading business men are thinking and doing.

Ex-representative W. A. Kneeland will speak on "The Representative Town Meeting Plan." With our towns growing so large that no hall is large enough to hold the voters the old-fashioned town meeting plan no longer serves. Mr. Kneeland will explain in detail the substitute plan which comes closest to meeting the approval of those who know most about town government.

The usual good dinner will be served at 6:30. Members are urged to bring guests.

The Arlington Gas Light Company employees are to hold their second annual dancing party in the Robins Memorial Town Hall, Arlington Centre, on February 2, 1921. It is the desire of the employees that each and every one of the Gas Company's consumers will favor them with their attendance at this party as the employees wish to become acquainted with the consumers in a social way which they feel will be a mutual benefit.

REPORTS ON SCHOOLS

In this report I shall discuss the following subjects:

The Committee of Fifteen and the United States Bureau of Education Survey.

The Need of a Junior High School Building.

The Re-organization of Grading in a Number of Schools.

The Raising of the Age for Entrance to Grade One to Five Years and Nine Months.

The Making of a New Course of Study for Elementary Schools.

The Need of Expert and Intensive Supervision for the Lower Grades.

A Special Room for Mentally Retarded Pupils.

The Extra Payment of Teachers for Professional Study.

The Carrying Out of a Program for Americanization.

The Furnishing of Musical Instruments by the Town for Pupils' Use.

The Committee of Fifteen and the United States Bureau of Education Survey.

At the annual town meeting held March 31, 1919, it was voted that a committee of fifteen be appointed by the moderator to consider the advisability of having an educational survey made of the public schools with a view to improving the same.

The committee was appointed, sent out an exhaustive questionnaire to parents of children in the schools and to the teachers, reviewed the material it had collected and made a report to the town prior to the annual town meeting of March, 1920.

The Committee of Fifteen in its report summarized the opinion of parents about the public schools and the opinion of the teachers. It did not conduct an investigation in the schools. Its chief recommendation was that an educational survey be made by experts. At the town meeting the town voted that the sum of $2,000 be raised and appropriated for an educational survey of the public schools of the town to be expended under the direction of the School Committee. The School Committee immediately arranged with the United States Commissioner of Education, P. P. Claxton, to have a survey made, and the field work was done during two weeks of the latter part of May, 1920.

The survey was conducted under the supervision of Dr. Frank E. Barker, who was assisted by a corps of eight experts, most of them members of the United States Bureau of Education staff.

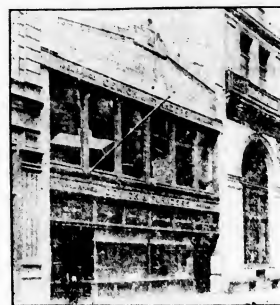

The printed report of the survey has not as yet come from the press, although Dr. Barker has had assurance that it would be forthcoming early this fall. The advance sheets of the findings of the surveyers regarding school buildings have been placed in the hands of the School Committee.

Before the copy of the report was ready for the press, Dr. Barker gave me a report of its findings, so I have a general idea of their nature.

In general the survey purports to be a comprehensive examination of the Winchester schools made from a number of different points of view. It deals with educational administration, finances, need of school buildings, courses of study, teaching in the elementary schools and in the High School, and the achievement of pupils as shown by the results of standard tests.

The chief recommendations of the surveyors are the following:

REPORTS ON SCHOOLS

That a radically progressive building program be adopted by the town. That a supervisor of primary work be employed.

That a supervisor of drawing be appointed. That considerably more pre-vocational shop work and technical training for the industries be introduced in the upper grades and High School. That the salaries of teachers be considerably increased and that the course of study for the grades be revised.

Several findings of the surveyors are notable, especially so when compared with the findings of the Committee of Fifteen.

It is notable that the Committee of Fifteen thought the work of the lower grades superior. Relatively to the work of the High School, while the experts of the survey commission apparently think the reverse.

It is notable that criticism of the High School on the score of its being weak in its college preparation work was one of the chief reasons for the appointment of the Committee of Fifteen. The experts of the Bureau of Education give the High School on this score a pretty clean bill of health. They rather criticize the High School for paying too much attention to college preparation, and not enough attention to broader education for all pupils. The survey says criticism on the High School on the ground of weak college preparation work is unwarranted.

It is notable that while the parents, as shown by the Committee of Fifteen report, show a decided disposition not to extend the time devoted to school work or the control of the school over the time of pupils outside of school; the experts are decidedly in favor of extending the influence and control of the school.

It is notable that both agree that support of the public schools by the parents should be stronger than it is. It is notable that the standards of judgment set up by the Committee of Fifteen were those of the opinion of parents, while the standards of the surveyors were those of current educational theory and practice country wide.

While the report of the Committee of Fifteen did not make any specific statements regarding the work of particular teachers, there was internal evidence in the report which pointed to a number of places in our teaching program where changes in personnel or methods seemed advisable. So far as I know in every instance so indicated, the change has been placed in the hands of other teachers. This was done for the most part before the report of the Committee of Fifteen was written.

The chief specific recommendations made by both committees have been under advisement by the School Committee and will in time be dealt with conclusively.

That part of the survey report having to do with professional and technical training will be made the subject of careful study by the teachers and the superintendent and will no doubt result in a substantial improvement in our educational program.

The Need of a Junior High School. My report last year dealt with the building situation at considerable length. It presented a building program organized on the so-called 6-3-3 plan and recommended the building at once of a new junior high school and a new elementary school building for the Wyman district with other elementary school buildings to follow as needed and the town was able to provide them. At the annual town meeting in March, the following vote was passed:

"Voted, That a committee of seven, consisting of the three members of the School Committee, one member (To be continued next week)

FINE BOWLING SCORES

Highest Figures of Season at Calumet—Central Match

The invitation tournament between the Central Club of Somerville and the Calumet Club, held Tuesday evening in Winchester, produced some of the best bowling here this winter. Both Calumet teams rolled remarkable scores, and the visitors were not far behind, although they could in no instance approach the local men. Calumet had all but one of the ten men engaged over the 300 mark, its first team totalling 1643 and its second 1615 for the three strings. The first team rolled the best single with 578 and the second team made one of 574.

The individual work was very uniform. Goldsmith led with a total of 363, his best single being 140. Higgins got 354 with 141; Aseltine 355 with 141; J. H. Taylor 352 with 129; Newman 329 with 127; Stephenson 328 with 125; Berry 327 with 126; Gould 319 with 138, and Gendron 305 with 113. The visitors were not by any means off form, for Bruce made a total of 312 with a string of 142; Bray got 333 with 140; H. Gastin 311 with 140 and Wheeler 295 with 106.

A feature of the matches was the pool game between Harry Stevens and Jackson. Both men are members of the Central Club, and while Stevens played for Calumet, Jackson is his teammate in the Mystic Valley League pool matches. A peculiar feature also was the loss by Jackson of the first frame by making three consecutive scratches on the break.

Both players were evenly matched, and for a time Jackson led by a fair margin. Stevens lost 100 to 85.

Besides the bowling Calumet won everything but this one pool match. A. D. Rogers won his pool game, R. A. Reynolds won the three cushion match and Edward B. Snoddy took the ball line billiard.

The bowling scores were as follows:

TOWN OF WINCHESTER.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING.

January 17, 1921

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

The records of the meeting of January 10, 1921, were read and approved.

Moving Pictures. Mr. Vincent Farnsworth and Mr. Ralph E. Joslin appeared before the Board representing the directors of the Winchester Theatre, Inc., in regard to having an article inserted in the warrant for the March town meeting relative to the granting of a license to the Winchester Theatre, Inc., to maintain a motion picture theatre in the Town of Winchester.

By-Laws. The following petition signed by a number of citizens of Winchester calling for a special town meeting to consider the matter of the present building by-laws was presented to the Board by Mr. Thomas Barrett. "To the Honorable Board of Selectmen of Winchester, Massachusetts: We, the undersigned, registered voters, in view of the fact that practically no building has been or will be undertaken under the present Building Law, request that a Special Town Meeting be called early in January to act on a proposed revision of said Building Laws.

We believe that to postpone revision until annual meeting in March would, through the lateness of the season prevent plans for extensive spring building, which would otherwise be undertaken at once, and that the delay would create a serious lack of necessary housing facilities and cause, not loss of new revenue to the town."

This matter was referred to Mr. Dolben to take up with Mr. Boone, a member of a special committee appointed by the Board of Trade to look into the building by-law matter. Mr. Dolben to report back to the Board at its next meeting.

Nelson Street. Mrs. Mary J. Bolling and Mr. Robert B. Bolling of 13 Nelson street and Mr. H. M. Long of 51 Nelson street, and Messrs. Rowe and Shurtleff of the Planning Board, together with Parker Holbrook of the Engineering Department, appeared at the hearing in regard to the proposed establishment of a building line on both sides of Nelson street. No objection seemed to be raised by anyone present to a building line at least ten feet. After the hearing was closed the Board voted to recommend to the town that a 10-foot building line be established on each side of Nelson street, its entire length.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Town Hall, Library, War Memorial
To the Editor of the Star:
Dear Sir:

In the near future the people of Winchester will be taxed somewhere between one and two million dollars for new public buildings. The building program has been sadly neglected and construction has been postponed as long as it can be. Therefore a thoughtful consideration of what must be done and what ought to be done is now most pertinent and desirable. Those who know tell us the school buildings are most inadequate, behind the times, and ready a disservice to the town.

There is needed, we are told, some three quarters of a million dollars to bring the school buildings up to date, construction in this department has been gravely neglected. The public library is a treasured and precious element and choice books are liable to destruction by the flames. A new fireproof library with fireproof book racks and vaults, large, light and airy reading rooms with modern equipment, is most urgently needed and has been too long deferred. Years ago the lot where the High School now stands was recognized at that time. A large sum of money is needed for such a building.

A town hall or auditorium, suitable in size and correct in appointments and acoustic properties is greatly needed, especially by the women, who are now banded together in large numbers, who meet frequently—in other expensive items. A memorial for the sons of Winchester who died in the great war must be erected and give suitable quarters for the Winchester Post.

All will agree that this is an imposing list of much needed buildings. Which is most urgent? How shall we go about this great task? Let us think it over. The best interests of all the people should be our guide. Some of us believe that the public school buildings should be first considered—they have long been neglected. Should a new library or a town hall come next? What of the war memorial and the Post house? Shall the town hall, the war memorial and the Post house be erected as three structures, as two, or one? Some suggest a beautiful memorial library. Others, a memorial school house in classic design. One beautiful building has been suggested, a structure of dignified and imposing character, suitable for all purposes, correct and modern in every detail; a memorial, an auditorium, a public library, Post quarters, offices, etc., all in one. This is a fine idea, but it is a favor with many. This would call for one heating plant, one janitor, and its compactness would make maintenance easier and cheaper. This matter should be considered by all the people. Whatever is done should be for the best interests of the taxpayers as a whole.

This leads us to the consideration of the design for a war memorial and hall which has recently been published in the Star and exhibited in the shop windows. It seems to us that neither the proposed location on Manchester Field nor the design of the structure are suitable for a war memorial and public hall for the following reasons:

First as to location. It is proposed to erect this building on a blind street that is filled with taxicabs and automobiles upon the arrival of every passenger train from Boston. A rush of automobiles to an entertainment in a hall there located would seriously crowd and impede traffic during train time, making transportation slow and dangerous. It is proposed to erect this building, containing a hall, near the railroad track, at a point where every Winchester passenger train starts and stops, where express trains and freight trains thunder by. On this spot there was once a freight yard, an old livery stable, a tannery, sheds and cheap houses. Through the untiring efforts of Ernest C. Manchester, of the most kindly and sincere man and one of the best citizens Winchester ever had, these unsightly structures were all removed and the place was converted into a beautiful park, open to the sunlight and the pure air. After he died, the town named the park in honor of his memory. Manchester Field. We submit that no public building should ever be erected in this park, that it should remain as a rest place for the people. Perhaps at some future date an ice-skating stadium, with shower baths and lockers underneath, may be erected there in harmony with the field. Nothing else ever should be. So much for the location.

Now as to design. It is proposed to erect on the southwest side of the hall and club rooms a grandstand, thereby excluding the sunlight, the view of the park and the western breezes. If these structures are to be erected on Manchester Field, the club house should be separate from the stadium, and built farther to the south, so the sun would pour in through large windows upon the swimming tank and club rooms, and an unobstructed view afforded of the whole field. A 2000 public swimming tank would never be used by thoughtful people. A 2000 tank is not large enough, and if it were made large enough it would not be kept even approximately clean without great expense and constant care.

This building, devoted to athletics, would be used by a very small minority of the members of the Winchester Post and by that small minority only for a few years, because they will soon be married and with families, and too old for athletics. Does the town desire to go to the great expense at the present time of erecting a clubhouse for the young athletes of the town in addition to school houses, library, town hall, and still have no suitable war memorial or suitable clubhouse for the Winchester Post? It has been said that this is not a woman's memorial or a memorial rial to the mothers and fathers of the town. Even less, we submit, is it a memorial to the young athletes of the town.

In conclusion we may state that this design is not a suitable memorial to the dead because it is not sufficiently dignified or imposing. It is not a suitable town auditorium because it is not large enough and it is too near the railroad track. It is not a suitable club house for the Winchester Post because the majority of the members are not athletes and the minority will not long be athletes because they will be too old and they will be occupied with more serious things; their wants will be the wants of men, and their comforts the comforts prized by men. Books, papers and a comfortable club room will be more desired than a swimming pool, a gymnasium and a baseball stand.

WILL PROTECT FARMERS

So many cases of petty thieving have been called to the attention of District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex County by farmers in the agricultural districts throughout Middlesex County and there have been so many calls for help on account of losses which farmers have suffered, and which the district attorney has been unable to meet because there have been no men to take care of the work, that he has filed a bill in the general court to provide for a division of the state police to take care of the agricultural districts. It is his idea to have a special force of police officers to be known as the agricultural police patrol which shall be under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Safety, Colonel Alfred Foote, and whose duty shall be to patrol the agricultural districts and see that farmers get some protection for their property which is either now lacking entirely or utterly inadequate.

WINTER BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Some of the best scores of the season were made in the winter bowling tournament at the Calumet club Wednesday night, when the winners of the week-end individual figures ran remarkably high. Marshall Berry again struck his gait to the total of 375 and a single of 141. This was the best rolling thus far. The bowlers who failed to reach 300 were in the minority. The scores were: Team 1 vs. 2, 1st round, 1st game, Marshall Berry 141, Arthur Sanford 127, Arthur Sanford 114, Bart Stephenson 296 with 111, F. W. Aschewitz 297 with 121, and Stackpole 300 with 197. In addition, numerous single strings of note were rolled, among them being the following: Miner 117 and 311 for a total of 428; 100, Larry Lee, Wood and Barrett 100 each, Hunt 105, Simmons 104, Koppers and Adams 100 each. As much as expected, the team figures ran high and close. 3 took four from 1, the first by seven and the second and third by ten pins. 1 and 7 split even, the first taking the second string by twelve and the third by four pins after losing the first by a big margin; a took all four

Health Center Rooms Being Equipped

Satisfactory progress is being made in equipping the rooms over Randall's store which are being fitted up as a Health Center by the Red Cross, the Board of Health and the Visiting Nurse's Association.

This Health Center will serve as a real clearing house for health resources.

It will make it possible for Winchester to benefit by the accumulated experience of modern medical science and it will also bring to our people the wisdom and resources of the great public and private health organizations.

As to the Winchester, especially during "flu" or other epidemics, cannot be overestimated. As the Health Center there will be kept a live and up-to-date registry of nurses, both trained and practical. Definite information will be available as to the rate and methods of admission to hospitals for sick and injured.

Of course a Health Center such as our local people are developing is of even greater service to the well, for by means of health education it will prevent disease and health campaigns to meet local needs will be conducted.

In fact, every device employed by the social workers of the Health Center will be used to create an intelligent, organized interest in the preservation of health.

All of the members of the American Red Cross will be brought to the service of the people of Winchester through this Health Center.

REPORTS ON SCHOOLS

rational leadership into either established them or are in the process of doing so. Even where the junior high school organization has not been formally adopted, the aims and methods of the junior high school are constantly gaining ground.

Some of the advantages of the junior high school are as follows:

Opportunity to provide for individual differences of pupils.

More departmental teaching.

Longer retention of pupils in school.

Opportunity to differentiate courses of study.

Opportunity to give more varied courses of study.

Opportunity to try out the different interests and abilities of pupils.

Opportunity for better teaching of special subjects, such as drawing, music, sewing and cooking, etc.

Opportunity to give some pre-vocational training.

Facilities for classifying pupils according to their native ability.

Better administration of health work and physical training.

Reorganization of Grading in a Number of Schools.

The difficulty of effecting an efficient organization with our small school buildings has been pointed out in former reports. This disadvantage has been felt especially at the Highland, Mystic and Gifford schools.

After carefully considering a new plan of reorganization, the School Committee voted on September 13, 1920, to make the following transfer:

Grades 3 and 4 from the Highland School to the Gifford School.

Grades 3 and 4 from the Mystic School to the Gifford School.

Grades 1 and 2 from the Gifford School to the Highland and Mystic Schools.

The Committee also voted to consolidate all the sixth grades, except the one attending the Chapin School, at the Prince School and to place all the seventh and eighth grades at the Wadleigh School.

These changes made possible the following distribution of grades:

Highland School—Grades one and two.

Mystic School—Grades one and two.

Gifford School—Grades three, four and five.

Prince School—Grade six.

Wadleigh School—Grades seven and eight.

Under this organization it is possible for any pupil attending the first grade at the Highland or Mystic schools to go through his entire elementary school course and at no time be in a room where there are two grades. With these changes, we have come about as far as we can with our present equipment of school buildings, to create an effective organization.

The objections to the change were that more pupils would have to cross the railroad track and that some pupils would be obliged to walk a considerable distance to and from school.

Looking at the situation after the present organization has been in operation for some time, it seems that as to distance our present arrangement is within bounds that have been pretty definitely fixed by experience in other communities. With the possible exception of some pupils in the sixth grade the limits of distance beyond which pupils ought not to be expected to have to go to school have been established as follows:

Distance From Home to School: For Kindergarten and first six grades: Maximum, not more than one mile; Desirable, not more than three-quarters of a mile.

For Junior High School: Maximum, not more than one and a half miles; Desirable, not more than one mile.

For High School: Maximum, not more than two miles; Desirable, not more than one and a half miles.

From the point of view of the work that is being done this year in the schools effected by the changes, I have no hesitancy in saying that it is substantially better than it was under the former organization and in the first grade particularly. At present there is no first grade in the Winchester schools where there are two grades in a room, and this fact rounded with the raising of the entrance age has strengthened our first grade work very substantially.

The Raising of the Age of Entrance to Grade One to Five Years.

Nine Months.

In my report last year I pointed out some of the disadvantages of admitting pupils to the work of the first grade under six years of age; that by admitting children who were too young to do the work of the first grade properly, the work of that grade and of subsequent grades was weakened, and that the presence of relatively young children throughout the different grades exerted a continual pressure upon teachers to lower the standard of teaching. Last June there were twenty-two children under six years of age who had entered the first grade the preceding September and who failed of promotion into the second grade. To remedy this condition, it seemed desirable to raise the entrance age. The School Committee did by the passage of the following vote:

June 21, 1920: "It was voted to change the entrance age of pupils into the first grade so that Paragraph 4, Section 10 of the Rules and Regulations of the School Committee shall read as follows:

"Children may be admitted to the Kindergarten at the beginning of the school year in September, if they are four years and nine months of age before October first, and they may be admitted at the beginning of the second half of the school year if they are four years and nine months of age before the first day of March. Children may be admitted to the first grade upon the approval of the Superintendent of Schools, if, upon examination as to their mental age, it is found to be equivalent to the chronological age required."

By this vote the admission of pupils under five years and nine months the first of September depended on their passing an intelligence test that would prove them able to do first—

BOY SCOUT NEWS

At the annual meeting of the Winchester Boy Scout Council the following officers were chosen for the year: Rec. Howard J. Chibley, president; Joseph T. Clark, secretary and treasurer; Francis E. Smith, Scout commissioner.

Mr. Charles A. Gleason, the retiring president, showing that he still keeps his interest in the Scouts, is continuing to allow them to use his land at Camp Gleason in Winchester and suggests that the Scouts build a Scout cabin in there. It is through Mr. Gleason that the Scouts procured their camping site for the summer camps they have had during the past two years. The Scouts are very thankful to have such a friend as Mr. Gleason.

Last Saturday Troop 1 played two basketball games with Arlington Troop 7. Winchester won both games, the Junior game 12 to 9 and the Senior 24 to 18. Winchester missed the services of Stanley Madden, Gordon Ryerson and Roger Sherman, but came strong at the finish in each game and won out. Albert Horn and Thomas White played well for the Juniors, while Harold Gray, Junior Kelly and Stanley McNeill played a strong game for the Seniors.

The Scouts have a hockey game arranged with Lincoln for next Saturday.

Another cold spell visited Winchester the first of the week, this time providing the coldest weather of the winter. Sunday proved a day of spring-like mildness, but on Monday the temperature steadily dropped and Tuesday morning saw it five below in the center. A high wind made the day doubly disagreeable and by far the worst this far this winter. The cold was so intense that considerable difficulty was found in heating the school buildings and classes were dismissed for the day at noon, the no-school signal being sounded. During the day the fire department was called to the residence of Mrs. E. L. Dunne on Main street, where a hot water boiler burst, and to 22 Everett avenue, for a grass fire at the rear of the John E. Page residence. No damage to amount to anything was caused in either instance.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING

There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of the Winchester Board of Trade held Tuesday night in Water-street Hall, notwithstanding the very cold weather. About thirty sat down to supper at 6:30.

The business meeting opened at 7:15. President Arthur T. Downer presiding. A report from the Building Law Committee, appointed from the membership following the previous meeting, was received. This committee offered recommendations that the present building laws of the Town be repealed, and the old building laws be put in force with such revisions as a committee of practical builders appointed by the Town may see fit to make. It was voted to insert an article in the warrant for the annual town meeting calling for such a committee.

It was also voted that the directors appoint a committee to be present at the hearing of the Legislature on the Board of Appeal Bill.

The Board of Trade went on record as recommending the plan of American Legion legislation, viz: Adequate appropriation for bureau caring for disabled ex-service men; hospitals; passage of Rivers-Capper Bill.

It was voted to appoint a committee to locate a comfort station for the Town, and that the next regular meeting be held in the Town Hall.

It was voted and seconded that the Town be asked to appropriate a sum of money for cleaning the Abenona River and prosecuting the defendants polluting same, and said motion be placed on the ballot.

Notice was given by a member of the Board of Trade that he would take up at next regular meeting of the Board the condition of Grade-Crossing at Centre.

After the business meeting, the members and guests moved to a talk by Professor Ralph Byron Wilson of the Babson Statistical organization of Wellesley Hills on what could be done to improve the business conditions of the town during the year 1921. Professor Wilson gave a talk of intense interest, making use of a chart to illustrate the various cycles of business boom and depression.

He was followed by former Representative William A. Kowalski, who spoke upon the representative town meeting plan, describing what was done in Brookline and outlining what could be done here. What might be done with regard to Winchester, now that our voting strength has doubled and far outnumbered our hall accommodations.

GIRL SCOUT LEADERS' COURSE

Have you considered what Winchester girls can gain from you, as their Scout leaders?

Have you considered what you can gain by working and playing with a group of Winchester girls, banded together by the ideas and ideals of the Girl Scouts, striving for better womanhood?

Have you considered coming to the High School, Thursdays in February, 7:30 to 9 p. m., playing that you are a young Scout learning to pass her Tenderfoot test and seeking to learn more of the Girl Scout work?

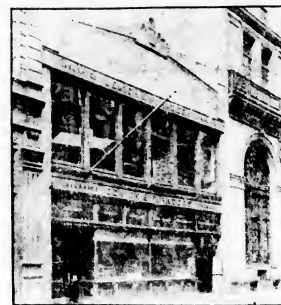

It is said that Leon Tuck will devote his whole time to coaching the Dartmouth hockey team and will not appear in the games with the B. A. A. Pat O'Sullivan in filling his place. Tuck is planning for a covered rink at Dartmouth for another year. Eversharp pens. Full line at Wilson the Stationers.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Eternal vigilance used to be the price of liberty, but you can't get liberty as cheap as that now.

Ability is measured by deeds rather than by intentions.

Many a girl has married a man simply to leave some other girl from getting him.

There are two sides to every question, as you will find if you take the trouble to investigate.

Ever notice how much easier it is to go from bad to worse than from good to better.

Winchester attracted considerable prominence in golf circles during the past fortnight when three well known residents were called upon to head some of the most important organizations in the State. Heading the list is Mr. Barton K. Stephenson, elected president of the Massachusetts Golf Association for the second year. Another honor to the town came in the selection of Mr. Donald M. Belcher, elected president of the Woman's Golf Association of Boston. This organization includes nearly forty clubs of Boston and Rhode Island, and the honor of holding the presidency has never before left the Back Bay except in the mere selection of Mrs. Arnold Jackson of Fall River. It should be added that Harry Bowler, professional at the Winchester Country Club, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the new association of Massachusetts Professionals. As is said: "Winchester is quite on the map this year."

FOURTH ANNUAL SHOW

Winchester Council, K. of C., Plays to a Crowded House

The fourth annual minstrel show and dance of Winchester Council, No. 210, Knights of Columbus, was held last night at the town hall. There was a record attendance and the show was one of the most successful thus far given by the Knights. It was held for the purpose of contributing to the building fund, now nearing more than ever through the burning of the clubhouse on the street, and it is anticipated that about $1,000 was cleared from the proceeds.

The program was given over in its first part to a minstrel show, opening with words of greeting and including a rapid fire series of jokes, songs and dances. In all, less than eighteen songs numbers were rendered, all good. Grand Knight Edward G. Boyle was intercomedian and there were about fifty in the company.

Following the minstrel program five special numbers were introduced in the second part, including songs by William I. Goff. Specialty numbers were given by Miss Mabel Goff, Mr. Harry Cox, Master Sonny Murray, Philip LeDuc and Miss Charlotte Mooney, and William McKee. Of especial merit was the singer by Miss Alice Lay and Mr. Archie O'Connell.

The program and cast was as follows:

SELECTMEN'S MEETING
January 21, 1921

The Board met at 7:30 p. m., all present.

The records of the meeting of January 17 were read and approved. By-Laws: Mr. Thomas H. Barrett appeared before the Board in regard to a petition for a special town meeting to consider the building by-laws which he presented at the last meeting. After consideration the Board voted unanimously not to accept the petition, and the matter was referred to the chairman of the Board to take up with Mr. Barrett. It was then pending legislation which, although a special town meeting should not be called that an article should be inserted in the warrant for the coming March Town meeting, and the article given such a position as to enable the matter to be taken up at the first evening session. There is now pending legislation which, if passed, will broaden the powers of the Board of Appeals. Committees in town are also working on the matter of the building by-laws. For both of these reasons the Board felt that a Town meeting should not be called.

Meeting March 7, 1921: Mr. William A. Smith of 9 Harvard street appeared before the Board and presented an article which he and several others wished to be inserted in the warrant for the annual Town meeting. The article referred to the fact that the Town sold to the New Hope Baptist Church Trustees, a parcel of land on Cross street, with the building thereon known as the old Washington School House Lot; and that the same be sold in exchange for a lot of land on Washington street owned by this church. The article also requested that the Selectmen or some other Board, officer or agent of the Town execute and deliver the deed.

Under suspension of its rule 14 the Board appointed the following persons, Election Officers to serve at the next meeting to be held on March 7, 1921:

Republicans
Edward A. Blackman
James W. Hazzard
J. Leah Johnson
Joseph T. McNeil
Frank H. O'Connell

James W. Hazzard

The Board passed the following order relative to the compensation of election officers:

ORDERED: That at the Town meeting to be held March 7, 1921, compensation of the ballot clerks and tellers shall be $10 for the day session.

Street Lights, 1920, Governor's Avenue: A. B. the Committee on Street Lights has not yet ready to report in regard to the request of Mrs. Belcher for a certain street light location on Governor's avenue, the matter was laid over for another week.

Street Lights, 1921, Dix Street: A petition was received, signed by Murray W. Dewar, 3 Glenbury road, and A. B. Corbett, 3 Glenbury road, for the installation of an electric light at the intersection of Dix street and Glenbury road.

The matter was referred to the Street Light Committee.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 p. m.

FIRST ANNUAL CONCERT AND DANCE

The first entertainment and dance under the auspices of the employees of the Winchester Laundry, Inc., was held at the Town Hall last Friday evening. A fine musical program was rendered by the Winchester Laundry Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. J. Parker Clarke. This orchestra, though only organized a very short time, has in its ranks some exceptional musical talent, and it was the consensus of opinion of everyone present that the orchestra is a great credit not only to the individual members, of the Winchester Laundry plant, but to the company as well. Much praise is due Mr. Arthur T. Downer, treasurer of the corporation, in bringing this orchestra into being, for it was through his efforts that it was made possible.

About 150 couples joined in the Grand March at 9:15, and favors were distributed by the officers of the company. Light refreshments were served during the evening, and the merry company danced until a late hour to music furnished by Perry's orchestra. Employees of the Lowell and Waltham branches were present and joined in the festivities of the evening, transportation being provided by the company on their well known fleet of delivery cars.

Everyone declared that the occasion was one long to be remembered, and the spirit of the occasion marked the well known feeling of good will on the part of all toward the company.

Mr. Robert E. Fay of Park avenue, vice-president of the Exchange Trust Co., was elected president of the Associated Savings Trust Companies of Massachusetts last night at the annual meeting and dinner held at Young's Hotel.

THREE WISHES

One of the most successful events of the season for those interested in the young people of the Unitarian Sunday School took place last Saturday evening in Metcalf Hall. Enough cannot be said in praise of the efficient manner in which Miss Helen Fox managed the drama "Three Wishes" which was played by eighth-grade girls of the Sunday School. The financial success of the affair was largely due to the unquestioned popularity of past good times of similar character by the Metcalf Union, and the fortunate placing of this evening on a Saturday night, with dancing to music by Fred McCartney's orchestra.

The entertainment was given to continue the support of the French orphan which a class of girls, under the instruction of Miss Rachel Metcalf, adopted last year. Over a hundred dollars was realized from tickets and the sale of candy and ice cream.

The play furnished an opportunity for us to see our young people advanced in years, all quite a few, and in a great many, in the part played by Frances MacKay, who as the grandmother in powdered hair and spectacles, sustained the dignity and moral lesson of the drama. Marietta Barnes as the ambitious and successful artist, quite made us forget she is still in the amateur group as did also Elizabeth Jacobs in the role of Maggie O'Brien. All of the girls played well. Miriam Eneary as Elaine, the young college graduate; Caroline Drisko as Agnes, a model who poses for the aspiring artist; Barbara Watters, also a young artist, whose success is slow in coming as did also Elizabeth Jacobs, who as an actress, Constance Watters, the French dressmaker, and Virginia Farnham, the grandmother, all did very well.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BUILDING LAWS

The report of the committee recently appointed by the Winchester Board of Trade to study and make such recommendations as appeared wise with reference to the new building laws has been made as follows:

Your committee met on January 19, 1921, and discussed the building laws, our conclusions are as follows:

First: That the present building laws are too complicated and hard to understand.

Second: That the building inspector has too much arbitrary power and is not responsible to anyone for his acts or mistakes.

Third: That the Board of Appeals has no power to use its discretion, and is practically useless.

Fourth: That the building laws in their present form will retard building. It is our opinion that the town should have a set of building laws that the average man could understand, that will protect him and assure him of a safe building, and that the town will be protected from an undesirable class of buildings and fire risks.

We would recommend that the old building laws be substituted for the new ones, and that a new committee consisting of men more familiar with local building requirements, be appointed by the town at its next annual meeting to draft new building laws.

THE WAR MEMORIAL ON MANCHESTER FIELD

The committee in charge of the War Memorial are desirous that every one shall be fully informed regarding the arrangements, location and uses of the proposed building. In this case, the plan is shown, two floor plans showing the arrangement and equipment of the building and a plot plan on which the building is shown in relation to the whole area of Manchester Field.

The proposed building is about 200 feet long by 34 feet wide with a central front portion 50 feet by 55 feet. It is to be first class, fireproof construction throughout.

The larger portion of the building is devoted to community interest, a stadium seating 1,000, facing the playground, for use in viewing athletic contests, and any other public function. On the easterly end of the stadium close to the river is a pavilion for hand parking.

By widening out the river at this point, a parking space for cars is made near the hand parking which with the much needed foot bridge from the Parkway to the Field helps to create a pleasing setting for the building.

Under the stadium, there is indicated space for public shower baths, toilets and locker accommodations for use in connection with the playground. In addition thereto, there is ample space for such athletic and recreational purposes as may be desired.

On the second floor of the central portion of the building, facing Waterfield road, the entire area is devoted to a Community Hall, seating between 1,000 and 1,500, with stage, dressing rooms, coat rooms, etc. Plankers the stage on either side there are spaces in which a really fine organ might be installed if it were desired. The hall is easily reached from the main lobby on the ground floor with a staircase, the arch other portions of the building.

There are now more than 100 women serving in national parliament throughout the world, a situation that affords a sharp contrast to the condition in the United States where one woman has been elected to sit in the next Congress. Women of other countries deemed it one of their duties to receive the full benefits of citizenship, they must become members of their national legislatures, and because of the keen political interest Continental and English women have had, they were ready to seek these positions. American women will move more slowly taking time to become informed about problems and procedures. As Madame Balieka, one of the six women in the Polish Diet says, "Women will not consider politics like a game of parties played one against another, but as a means of working toward ideals. Politics, rather than parties, will be woman's slogan in national politics."

It is interesting to all Massachusetts women to know how consistently women are facing their new condition. The Leagues of Women Voters offer the best encouragement to the understanding of politics, and we are glad to record that there are already 56 local leagues in Massachusetts, the Boston League leading with 1,200 members. Worcester, with over 700, Brookline 600 and Winchester, a close fourth with 500 members and still growing.

Former Governor Samuel W. Hoar, speaking at the Boston City Club before the Economics Club on Tuesday evening, declared it his conviction that the success of the trouble that afflicted Massachusetts lay at Washington and not within the state. He recommended less taxation and felt that although as a state Massachusetts might use every endeavor towards economy, conditions could not be remedied without less expenditure and less government at Washington.

The committee feel that the useful purposes for which the building is designed is of first importance; that it should express the defender by its dignity of design, by the permanent nature of the material used and by the fitness of the setting in keeping with its purpose; that its visibility from long distances, heightened in effect by combination with pleasing vistas of trees, river and bridges, is most fitting, all of which has been earnestly sought for in the preparation and presentation of this matter of a War Memorial on Manchester Field.

INTER-TOWN CHECKER TOURNAMENT

We have noted that considerable interest is evinced by our friends in that good old game commonly known as checkers or draughts. In fact, it is a much mooted question, who is the A. number 1, big 1 am of checkers in this community. In order to save further verbal assault on their contemporaries' ability, it has been decreed that on the night of Friday, the 11th, all who are, those who think they are, and those who would be, checker players, will repair to the quarters of the Inter-Town Club, Suite No. 9, Waterfield building. The winner in this tournament will be awarded a valuable prize and be crowned, "not as the wife, crown one" checker champion of this community. All entries must be in by February 8.

The moderating weather Friday and Saturday held up the freezing of Big Mystic, thereby eliminating the boat races anticipated over the week end. Redding and Curtis had their boats out on Upper Mystic, and enjoyed some fine sailing, while Frank Trott was able to sail his small boat around the edge to the upper part of the big pond, although he could not get through the current into Upper Mystic. All of the big boats are ready for sailing, most of them being set up. Among the next boats to be tried out is that of W. S. Manson who has a very speedy looking craft.

JOHN SPARZO

COMMUNITY FORUM

First Congregational Church, Sunday,
4 P. M. John Sparzo, Speaker

The closing meeting of the Community Forum will be held in the First Congregational Church, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. John Sparzo will be the speaker; his subject, "Post War Europe."

Mr. Sparzo was born in Cornwall, England, some forty years ago and was educated in the public schools, later taking the Oxford and Cambridge University Extension courses. While pursuing these studies, he earned his living and spent some time in the mines of Wales. At the age of 18, he became connected with the Social Democratic Party of Great Britain and until his departure for America in 1901, he was exceedingly active in the trade union and the Socialist movement in that country, where he was intimately associated with William Morris, Walter Crane and others.

H. M. Hyndman, the friend and biographer of Clemenceau, recently said of him: "Sparzo has done more than any other half dozen men in the world to expose Bolshevism, to show the dangerous trend toward it." Mr. Sparzo has just returned from a tour of investigation through central and northern Europe, having paid special attention to conditions in Germany, where he met and conferred with leaders of practically every phase of the national life.

An offering to defray the expenses of these meetings is taken each week. All townspeople are cordially invited to attend.

THE ELECTION CLERKS

Editor of the Star:

I was astonished when I read in the issue of the Star that the Selectmen appointed ten Republicans and ten Democrats to serve as election officers at the town meeting to be held on March 7, 1921, and passed the following vote: "That at the town meeting to be held March 7, 1921, compensation of the ballot clerks and tellers shall be $10 for the day session."

Now, Mr. Editor, I would like to ascertain if that means $10 will compensate the twenty clerks and tellers, or does it mean that each clerk and teller will receive $10; which means that the taxpayers will be called upon to pay the clerks and tellers $200 and their dinner, which will be served by an up-to-date caterer. Let us eliminate the extravagance and let each man who receives $10 for searching and counting ballots in a comfortable, warm hall pay for his own dinner.

By the way, I was surprised that there were no women appointed clerks and tellers; they can count ballots and turn the crank on a ballot box as well as the men.

Now then, when we consider the hard work that the Selectmen, Finance Committee and the various other department heads render to the town and receive no compensation for it, does seem to me that there are plenty of public-spirited men in town who would give their time for one or two days a year to the town gratis. Mr. Hoover and his able assistants worked a year and received $140 per man, and he had to purchase their own dinner, and we vote to pay our clerks and tellers $10 for one day's work and agree to purchase their dinner and give them five crowns, nickels and footpicks for deserts. Such extravagance should never be tolerated by the taxpayers of Winchester.

In conclusion I trust that the readers of the Star will not impute that I am a bit noisy because, you know, some one has to be noisy to raise the wind in order that the taxpayers may watch their step.

I remain very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell.

D. OF I. NOTES

The regular meeting of Court Santa Maria No. 150 was held at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, in White's Hall in a body the February meeting of the League of Women Voters at the Town Hall, such action being found advisable on account of the Court's vital interest in the Smith-Townier Bill which was discussed by Mrs. Gilson at the League meeting, together with other important bills. At the next regular meeting of the Court this bill will be discussed at much length and action taken thereon.

The officers of the Court were installed at the January meeting by D. B. Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, assisted by Mrs. June King, Monitor, after which a bounteous supper was served by a committee in charge of V. E. Mrs. Minnie O'Connor, chairman, who takes office for the second time, was presented with a purse of gold as a token of her splendid service to the Court. Rev. Father Joseph Early of St. Mary's Church congratulated the Court on its splendid achievements and gave to the members a most instructive talk, closing as his subject, "The Mexican Situation." Father Early's knowledge of this interesting topic was most obvious and was gleaned during his residence among the Mexicans and his spiritual work in their behalf.

Thirty-seven members of Court Santa Maria No. 150 journeyed by auto to Medford on Sunday afternoon to witness the investiture of the new Court there, Court Medford No. 605. The ceremony of initiation was beautifully accompanied by State Regent, Mrs. Katherine Salmon and the staff of Court Upsilon of Somerville. One hundred and sixty-eight members composed the new Court and the conf. members of visiting attracted large numbers of visitors. D. of I. from all over the State, many guests coming by special trains from the newly established Courts at Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell, Weymouth, Plymouth, Chelsea, Gloucester and Lynn, as well as from almost all the other Courts. The degrees were worked in the beautiful new Colonial Hall where standing room was at a premium, the number of guests reaching fully seven hundred and fifty, which necessitated the services of eight Monitors.

The records of the meeting of January 21 were read and approved. By-laws: A letter was received from Winchester Board of Trade containing a copy of the following resolution passed by the Board of Trade at its regular meeting held January 25th:

RESOLVED: That the Board of Trade endorse the following recommendation of the Building Law Committee:

"We would recommend that the old building laws be substituted for the new ones, and that a new committee consisting of men more familiar with local building requirements, be appointed by the town at its next annual meeting to draft a new building law."

Town Meetings (March 7, 1921): Word was received from several of the Election Officers appointed at the last meeting that they would serve. A letter was received from Mr. A. Miles Holbrook stating that he could not serve.

The following order was passed relative to the opening and closing of the polls:

ORDERED: That at the meeting of the voters of the Town of Winchester, to be held on Monday, March 7, 1921, the polls shall be opened at 5:55 A. M. and remain open until 4:50 P. M.

A letter was received from Mr. P. E. Fitzgerald stating that at a meeting of the Democratic Town Committee he was instructed to write the Board that the said Committee is in favor of women serving as election officers at the March Town Meeting and hopes that the Board will favor the request. The matter was laid over until the next meeting.

Several matters pertaining to the phraseology and the position of copy for warrant were decided upon. The warrant clerk at the Monday meeting.

Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company: A letter was received from Mr. Willard A. Bradley calling the Board's attention to the fact that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway was operating a car with flat wheels from Woburn to Medford. The warrant was referred to the Committee on Corporation to take up with the Street Railway Company.

Main Street: A letter was received from the Winchester Board of Trade calling the Board's attention to the condition of the sidewalk on the easterly side of Main Street caused by water running across the sidewalk from the alley between No. 525 and No. 529 Main street.

A report was received from the Superintendent of Streets regarding the matter and a copy of this report was ordered sent to the Winchester Board of Trade.

Sidewalks: 1921 Grandditch (Norwood Street): A letter was received from Mr. H. W. Brown calling the Board's attention to the condition of a sidewalk on the easterly side of Norwood street and asking that the Board consider the construction of a granite sidewalk. The matter was referred to next year's board.

Town Property: Mr. Chapman, Chairman of the School Board, proposed in regard to the giving the Board of Selectmen to turn over to the School Committee the town property known as the "Gardner House." It is the desire of the School Board to use this house for the practical teaching of domestic science. Mr. Chapman asked how the Board felt about the matter and also asked for suggestions as to the form of an article for the warrant which would re-appointing this matter before the Town. It was suggested to him that he take the matter up with the Town Council and submit an article for the warrant Monday next.

At the same time no one acquainted with school work can fail to appreciate the great advantage of local supervision in the so-called special subjects. Music is a good example. With the intensive supervision we have over our music teaching, our teachers accomplish for the time being from twice to three times as much as they do in some other subjects. Pupils in elementary schools in Winchester are receiving at best about one hour a week of music teaching, a pretty small amount of time in which to get definite results along any line, and yet because of intensive supervision we are securing unusually good results. So it is in other subjects, the better the supervision, the better the teaching.

Supervision is without doubt the most important single factor in school organization and we have been too long in recognizing that the teaching of primary reading or primary arithmetic is just as difficult as the teaching of music or drawing. The teaching of primary reading is a highly technical and difficult thing, and it is not surprising that the results are not so good. We provide a supervisor for music to supervise about fifty hours a week of music teaching, while there are from six hundred to seven hundred teaching hours a week in the grades devoted to the regular work which gets very scanty supervision. Our school organization if it has been developed in connection with our recent school plans lends itself to the introduction of this new type of supervision. There are about thirty teachers employed in the lower grades in Winchester who are teaching in buildings without a supervising principal. There are only three individuals in the whole force who have anything to do with the supervision of the teaching of the regular school subjects. These are the superintendent, the high school principal and the Wadleigh school principal. Below the level of the Wadleigh school there are no supervising principals and whatever supervision is done here must be done by the superintendent.

In towns and cities, equipped with larger school buildings, practically every teacher is located in a building where there is a supervising principal. In many localities the primary supervisor has become recognized as an important factor in the building up of the best educational practice. Our present organization of small school buildings without supervising principals reduces the cost of supervision considerably below the average for the entire country. Statistics for the entire country show that in the apportionment of items in the school budget there is a provision of instruction about 75% of the total. The percentage in Winchester for the past year is about 57%. In other words we could have had $3,000 more a year to supervision and still be about on an average for the entire country. Nothing else would so tone up the teaching in the lower grades as a skillful music supervisor, one who has had special training in this work and who has actually done it.

A Special Room for Mentally Retarded Children

The General Court of 1919 enacted a law to determine the number of children in Massachusetts mentally retarded and to provide for their instruction.

General Acts, Chapter 277
An Act to Determine the Number of Children Retarded in Mental Development and to Provide for Their Instruction.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The School Committee of each city and town shall, within one year after the passage of this act, and annually thereafter, ascertain, under regulations prescribed by the board of education and the director of the commission on mental diseases, the number of children three years or more retarded in mental development who are in attendance upon the public schools of its city or town, or who are of school age and reside therein.

Section 2. At the beginning of the school year of nineteen hundred and twenty, the school committee of each city and town in which there are ten or more children three years or more so retarded shall establish special classes to give such children instruction adapted to their mental attainments, under regulations prescribed by the board of education.

Any child under the age of twenty, for several years a special room has been conducted at the Prince School for children who are mentally retarded. Only children twelve years old or more have been admitted to this room. On November 19, 1920, the School Committee voted to establish a special room at the Chapin School and to authorize the superintendent to secure a suitable teacher for it. Plans are being made to start this room about February first. There will probably be from twenty to twenty-five children assigned to the room. Children will be selected on the basis of inability to do the regular school work as reported by the teachers, but before being placed in the room they will be examined very carefully and their mental and physical condition determined according to the directions of the State Board of Education.

Children assigned to this room will have their individual needs cared for much better than if left in the ordinary schoolrooms. At the same time, teachers and pupils in the rooms from which they are taken will be benefited. Teachers are agreed that every mentally retarded pupil in a class demands a great deal more of the time and energy and nervous force of the teacher than the average child, and that when there are several of these children in a room, the normal children suffer.

Extra Payment for Teachers for Professional Instruction.
Almost without exception the work of highest excellence now being carried on in Winchester schools is that done by teachers who since leaving normal school or college have taken special professional training for their particular work. The School Committee of Fifteen and the United States Bureau of Education survey commission both recommended that there be more adequate professional training of teachers and the Committee of Fifteen recommended that the town pay the expenses of such training. The School Committee on June 2, 1920, in order to encourage professional study, passed the following vote:

"It was voted that all teachers who take university extension or summer school courses of a professional nature shall be re-imbursed for the same for the current school year to the amount of fifty dollars, such reimbursement to be made under the following conditions:

"1. Courses shall be approved by the Superintendent of Schools before they are taken.

"2. Extra payments shall be charged to teachers' salaries.

"3. Such payments shall not be regarded as salary increases."

Taking advantage of this privilege seven teachers last summer took courses in various summer schools. Since the opening of schools in September, sixteen are attending university courses and several more intend to take courses beginning the first of February. During the school years 1919-1920 and 1920-1921 nearly all the lower grade teachers up to and including the fifth have taken a course in "Principles and Methods of Elementary Education," under the supervision of Teaching, given by Dr. Holmes of Harvard; "Teaching of Geography," by Professor Packard of Boston University; "Junior High School Mathematics," by Professor Voshburg of the Boston Normal School; "Teaching of Industrial and Commercial Geography," by Professor Fisher of Wellesley.

Americanization

Among the important acts concerning education passed by the General Court of 1919 was an act to promote Americanization through the education of adult persons to use the English language. This act provides that if a town or city conducts educational work for alien persons, unable to use the English language under the direction and with the approval of the State Board of Education, such town or city shall be reimbursed at the expiration of each school year with one-half the sum expended. Choice of teachers and directors and the salaries paid them are to be fixed by the local school committee subject to the approval of the State Board of Education. The law provides that instruction in the English language and the fundamental principles of government shall be offered in the classes organized.

At a conference held at the School Committee by a number of Winchester citizens interested in public welfare, Mr. John J. Mahoney, State Supervisor of Americanization, met before the School Committee and the Superintendent of Schools the advisability of carrying on work under this act in Winchester and the desirability of doing it quite definitely was established.

On November 29, 1920, the School Committee voted to appoint Miss Jane Davis, director of Americanization. Under her supervision there are classes being carried on at the Chapin School two classes for Italian men and two classes for Italian women, one of which meets in the afternoon, and a class for Swedish girls who are engaged in house work. In addition to these it is planned to start one or more classes for men employed in local shops.

The Furnishing of Musical Instruments by the Town for Pupils' Use

The supervisor of music, Mr. Richard W. Gray, firmly believes that the time has come for the town to promote more active interest in instrumental music among the pupils. To do this he recommends that the town purchase and own for the use of pupils certain orchestral pieces. He recommends that this equipment be furnished just as equipment is now furnished in sports, gymnastics or drawing. He makes the following statement:

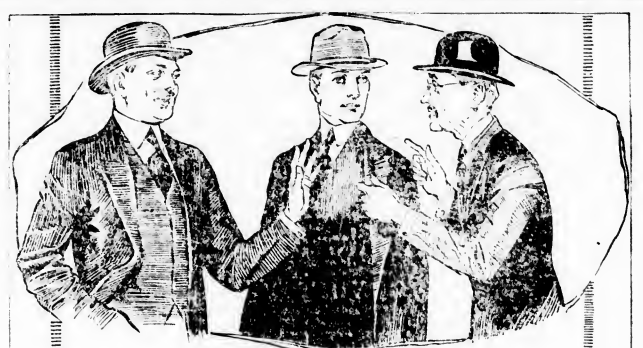

"Music appeals very strongly to certain children and they have a right therefore to instruction in music and should have a chance to learn to play instruments. The time for this will never be better than when they are in the formative period of their life, in the elementary schools. Educators of the schools should endeavor to find for an avocation as well as a vocation."

"The study of some good instrument will give to the pupil something that he can enjoy as well as the ability to earn, should it be necessary."

In purchasing instruments for the children, parents naturally get the melody carrying or solo instruments such as the violin, the cornet, the trombone and the clarinet, while the other instruments, such as the tuba and string bass are practically unknown in the average American home.

The development of instrumental music depends upon three essentials: First, instruction in the elementary schools, carried on through to the High School to insure continuity of instruction and skill in performing; second, the unusual instrument furnished free of charge to the children, either by entertainments given by individual schools to raise funds or by an appropriation from the school committee; third, instruction by special teachers of instrumental music who are themselves able to play the string, brass and reed instruments.

Unless the work in instrumental music is begun in the elementary schools, it will be impossible to develop the instrument of the orchestra with any hope of continuity. Many times a high school may have an excellent orchestra for a year, but with the graduation of advanced players the organization is left in a very depleted condition. A second set of performers should be receiving instruction in order to keep the orchestra efficient and continuous.

"One Man on the Block Makes Public Opinion"

No matter how good our service is, there is usually one man on the block who is forever finding fault with it. You know the man we mean. He is a good fellow at heart and talks sanely enough upon other subjects, but when he discusses this company's service he loses his balance completely.

What we regret most, however, is not that this man is soared against us, but that his attacks are permitted to go unchallenged by his friends who are also our friends.

In other words, you and hundreds of other satisfied customers in the same neighborhood take it too much for granted, accept it, and say nothing about it. Your silence thus becomes the golden opportunity. With lips sealed, you unwittingly give him an encouraging slap on the back.

We value your good will ever so much. This company is your company, the public's company. Now let us work together to convert this man from a knacker into a booster.

Arlington Gas Light Co.527 MAIN STREET, WINCHESTER*Tel. Win. 142*B. E. CASS, Winchester Representative*MEMBER OF THE AMERICAN GAS ASSOCIATION

"It is necessary that the unusual instruments be supplied by the school board in the English language and not merely consist of violins and cornets, but also of other instruments that are capable of producing the harmonies that make an orchestra worth while listening to."

"The supervisor of music recommends that an appropriation of seven hundred dollars be included in the budget for the purchase of the unusual instruments of the orchestra for elementary and high school and for the payment of an instructor for violin classes."

Conclusion

These matters I have discussed—some of them what we have been doing during the year—others what we would like to do—indicate in a general way the educational program we are endeavoring to carry out. That program has for its objective the education of every boy and girl according to the ability of each with equal opportunity for all. The support of the citizens of the town give to this program both by way of taxation and by way of confidence and co-operation is an investment that will bring the largest returns of any investment they make.

Respectfully submitted,
Superintendent of Schools.

FISHING EFFICIENCY A GREAT SUCCESSEditor of the Star:

In the January 21st issue of the Star there appeared an article entitled "Fishing Efficiency." The gentleman who wrote this article evidently does his fishing from the end of a wharf, or from a mud scow anchored in a box. So let us define Fishing Efficiency.

We left Winchester one morning last week at 8 o'clock in a comfortable, spacious and heated limousine, for the shores of a small pond some twenty-five miles away. In advance of our starting we had engaged a native to cut thirty holes for us, and as the ice was twelve inches thick, we could appreciate better than ever before the value of fishing efficiency. Our first real labor of the day was baiting the hooks. This must have been successfully done for business was good all day.

Now for the interesting part of such a day's outing, our dinner. By this we do not mean a lunch tied up in a newspaper, eaten with the assistance of one hand while the other holds a hook or pole, but a real dinner which consisted of fresh opened oysters on the half shell, hot baked beans, hot frankfurters, baked eggs, chicken soup, hot corned beef, cheese, olives, stuffed, seedless raisins, cigarettes and cigars. We used paper plates, spoons, cups, and napkins, thereby relieving those at home of the extra work in caring for china dishes.

The again how much more pleasant it is to sit with comfort upon upholstered cushioned seats, in a comfortable limousine, and with freedom catch one's line through the plate glass windows, than to sit on the ice eating frozen beans!

At 4 p. m. we drew our traps, arrived home at 5:15 with a catch of 32 picked.

We call this fishing efficiency.

LADIES TOURNAMENT CLOSURE

The ladies' bowling tournament closed Friday afternoon at the Calumet Club when teams 1 and 2 and 4 and 11 rolled. Team 1 won all three points, thereby taking first prize. Team 11 won two points, thereby making a tie for second place by one point.

The winners, team 1, took 25 of the 30 points in the series. This team is as follows: Mrs. George Golding, Mrs. W. A. Kneeland, Mrs. C. W. Nash and Mrs. A. H. Hill. Team 11 was a funny crowd, consisting of Mrs. A. T. Towne, Mrs. L. Parsons, Mrs. E. W. Hatch and Mrs. E. D. Chase.

The individual prizes for highest average without handicap was won by Mrs. Maurice C. Tompkins, who averaged 90.45 for the whole tournament.

The individual prize for high average with handicap was won by Mrs. Ernest W. Hatch, who rolled 81.12, which won a handicap of 21 pins gave her a gross average of 102.19.

Friday's matches were interesting owing to the possibility of two of the leading teams being uncertain. Team 6 made easy work of its win, but Team 11 got its total by only one pin. Mrs. Crafts led in individual work, rolling 186 for a total and 104 for high single. Mrs. Tompkins made 173 with 83, Mrs. Hill 171 with 83, Mrs. Hines 170 with 83, Mrs. Golding 81 and Mrs. Cutter 81.

ANOTHER SCALP FOR WINCHESTER

The Winchester Girls' Basketball team won their second game of the season last Friday, defeating Swampscott 34 to 28. The first half was one of breathless suspense on both sides. Swampscott played as never before to keep Winchester down. All in vain, however, since only a superhuman effort could prevent our team from scoring. Last night Swampscott hoped to make baskets with Elizabeth O'Melia and Mildred Smith playing guard. What center would have the court even better than before and simply strolled away with Swampscott.

Friday, February 11th, our girls are going to play Watertown at Watertown. If you have an automobile it will be well worth your while to come and see them. To judge from all reports it will be the closest game of the winter and they will need every vote to help them win.

The annual meeting of the Winchester Trust Company was held on Wednesday evening, the following directors being elected: Frank A. Cutting, James W. Russell, Frank L. Ripley, Charles E. Barrett, George C. Fernald, Fred L. Patton, Frederick E. Hovey, Charles H. Symmes, Ralph E. Joslin, Frederick S. Sawyer, Jerome D. Carter, B. Downer, William L. Parsons.

The matronesses were: Mrs. Anne Bond, Mrs. E. W. Morris, Mrs. Harry Cox, Mrs. Charles Hayes, Mrs. James McGarrah, and Mrs. Arthur Loftis.

YOUR AFFAIRS AND MINE

During the war we Winchesterites learned sacrifice and joy from being useful. But our minds are more frequently inspired by emotions than by reason, and emotion courts reaction. The reaction of usefulness is a return to selfishness with an urge to get a reward for virtue. We were unselfishly useful, and having had a reward, now we desire to be useful. One Winchesterite complains because he is not getting enough money, another because he is required to work too hard, and too long, and another Winchesterite complains because he is taxed too much, and another because he is not getting enough for his money because somebody fails to show him the respect which he thinks is due him. The ego is in the saddle and will lead the center of the stage. Each grievance is a little thing, magnified by a sense of one's individual worth. Each one is entitled to careful attention, and with tears of self pity, and because the eyes are focused upon it one is not conscious of the existence of more important things. A selfish child, being petted, returns to health and requires petting still. We, being a part of a mental fever, have grown accustomed to petting, and we let our backs and legs for something which we may have if we have patience a while.

It is an inspiring vision, that of picturing a future where in the motor truck should be the chief rival of the freight car in the arteries of commerce, and shall give to the shipper—especially the "small shipper"—a better and more economical method of shipping his goods. Of course, it is a little to talk of the motor truck super-charging the railroad. I can only supplement it, but a Winchesterite who believes that we are on the eve of a wonderful development in motor transport. A big Lowell manufacturer told this Winchester motor trucker that he found it infinitely easier to send his shipments to Philadelphia and Baltimore by motor trucks. Not only easier, but cheaper, and most important of all, faster. Of course, the motor truck as a freight carrier is still in the experimental stage. But it has various economical advantages and the day is not far in the future when every motor in Winchester will use the motor truck in preference to the railroad. The former gives both shipper and purchaser what is a more practical proposition, an express service. Good roads are an indispensable factor in the development of the motor. They are not to be feared, even though, at least in the great cities of the Eastern seaboard are linked together by splendid highways which are a unitarian as well as a tourist asset.

One Winchester man remarks that perhaps the current interest in politics will be supplanted by the coast influence.

How many Winchesterites smile? "The man who does not know how to smile has no business to keep store," says the ancient Chinese proverb. According to the correct Herald and Republican, "A smile is genuine nerve tone. The mouth is the digestive pole of the face. Hypertension turns its corners downwards as in the marks of old-fashioned tragedy, while the upward curving lips advertise a rapid digestion with the accompanying hearty and good humor, affability, and freedom from worry. A smile is the interrelation of body and mind that the process can be reversed. A thoughtful gaze can be a sour stomach. Cheekiness is the first requirement in a sick room. Modern doctors realize that a mental restlessness, riding the mind of all envy, jealousy, worry, fear, and other evil-eyes, some of which may lie below the consciousness of the patient himself and unrelieved by him, may precede any attempt at permanent cure. The physical attitude, the stimulation of feeling, assists in obtaining. That is why a smile is not only the index of well being but they also are the cause of it. That is why any kind of a smile, even forced, constrained, stereotyped, is better than none. We do not of course advocate that all human race become like the Chinese cut which every reader of Alice in Wonderland remembers, left its smile lying in the atmosphere. But after its own disappearance. But it should be used judiciously, and especially in times of stress. For we all know that the smile is the man worth while is the man who can smile.

When everything goes dead wrong. Not long ago the telephone company made it a part of their educative program to bring hands to their employees the force of the motto, "The voice with a smile wins." If it was a matter of good business for them to do this, it may well be good business for each individual to adopt for his own use the universal sign of courtesy and courage. A smile is the only universal language. Ask the boys who were in France. A baby's first learning is to smile. You can see it the first thing each morning or late in your desk where you can look at it at intervals all the day. Best of all write it on your countenance where everyone can read it. Smile and win!

In these days when China is so expensive that about any old thing in the way of dishes is acceptable, a Winchester lady who has had the benefit of all the discussion about the poor taste of eating off of flowers. A few years ago such a dish was rare in Winchester. The real artists claiming that not only it was mighty poor taste but distinctly discouraging to the appetite. From dishes had upon them floral designs, leaf designs or fruit designs. The claim was set up that flowers might be used in a conventional design and be acceptable to the appetite, but not the other thing, absolutely no artistic artistic individual hearily swooned once in a well-meaning Winchester young lady gave her an individual fruit dish that had the design of a naphkin on it. "Imagine eating off of a naphkin," said she. And the donor replied aggressively, "Well, did you ever go on a picnic?"

Long years some seek for happiness. Yet some find it in vain. And some perplexed they ever seem. Their failure to explain. With others, early on life's way, we truth do happily learn. That Winchesterite-looking could find happiness. Himself finds it in turn. The Spectator.

AN EXPOSITION

Editor of the Star:
Among the four State Bills which came before the last meeting of the Legislature for endorsement, was State Bill No. 100, which reads: "This bill is to come before the next Legislature."

To the writer it seems obvious that anything less than State Censorship would be inadequate. Suppose we had local censorship throughout the state. The cities and towns vary in type and character. It is self-evident the selections made by the censors of the first-class residential districts and the most satisfactory to the most discriminating judgment. But there would be other places where, while the integrity of the city would not be sacrificed, the censors would have to be sufficiently high standards to be qualified to select the best. If I think, would question the ability of the State to appoint persons entirely fitted for it.

We can find in every place there are those who are weak, easily influenced, immoral, or vicious. If they live in places where only high standards picture, the result will be that they will go to any adjacent place where the kind of thing their taste preferred was being shown.

A good parallel in one way was Local Option. The people who desired to get liquor were not helped nor hindered by it. If they happened to live in a "dry" town, it made some places better to live in by having no saloons. But the result that pain by making other places worse. For the latter had "added unto them" the "wets" of the dry town.

The censor of Canada have barred out "Way Down East." If the makers of this wonderful picture had omitted two features of the production which make one impression only, an offense to common decency and are so ineffectual as to affect its artistic or dramatic value whatsoever.

The people who want only clean pictures would not be hurt by the other kind—they have their standard set; it is not the good who need saving, but the bad. Any less uniform and standardized than State Censorship be effective. Thinker.

ADDITIONAL SPACE FOR BIG ADVERTISING FIRM
The Franklin P. Shumway Company, having its principal offices at 123 Washington street, Boston, and securing of additional floor space, have reversed the process for efficiently handling their rapidly expanding advertising and merchandising business.

The Shumway Agency is one of the oldest and best known firms in their line of business, having for several years been associated with many of our leading manufacturers, jobbers and retailers in extending the sales of their products.

They report that orders already booked for 1921 show a notable increase over any previous year and that they anticipate a steady growth, because producers now fully appreciate that we are to have, for some years, a buyers' rather than a sellers' market.

STOCK INVESTMENTS
One reason why people lose money in stock speculations, is that out there do not know the inside facts about investments. People will be told by some newspaper or broker that a certain stock is low and is going to rise. They buy on that tip but usually find out later that there was a good reason for the stock being low. Its business prospects were not good, and the insiders were selling.

IN DECEMBER
We stood within the old town
At meeting of the ways;
Through leafless trees the morning sun
Sent welcome warning rays.

Against a sky of tender blue
The maple's heads were shown,
Around the head of silver ash
A veil of gauze was thrown.

Upon the tinted background pale
From earth to heaven stretched,
Unvarying in its staidness,
The elm tree's leaf was etched.

The clang of coming car in sight
From pictures drew our gaze,
But not until an imprint clear
We had for future days.

Long may that storm-swept elm tree raise
Its lathesome branches high,
And by their tracings still make plain
Youth has not passed it by.

It is the desire of the committee of the Winchester Board of Trade, appointed to study and make recommendations regarding the new building laws, that there be no reflection cast upon the Inspector of Buildings. In making its report the committee state that nothing but the laws and their provisions were considered. In reference to the Inspector was only in this connection, as both individually and collectively the committee considers him a fair and competent official.

Poverty and Splendor.
I saw many poor, when I supposed to live in affluence. Poverty has, in large cities, very different appearances; it is often concealed in splendor, and often in extravagance. It is the care of a great part of mankind to conceal their indigence from the rest; they support themselves by temporary expedients and every day is lost in contriving for the morrow. Dr. Samuel Johnson.

There was an attendance of about 1000 persons at the annual concert and ball of the Winchester Firemen's Relief Association at the Town Hall on Friday night, the affair being as successful as any of the former years. Among those who attended were the Selectmen and other town officials, and many firemen from surrounding towns, including Chief Frank E. Tracy of the Woburn department, Chief Hugh Ames of Reading and Chief Frederick Peterson of Stoughton.

The evening opened with a concert program as follows:

A series of Organum Experiments with a skill that absolutely defies detection.

Professor Floyd, Modern Magic; "The Whoddy," Woodward; "Racety-Coo" from "Katinka," Ruth Brett-Zinn, Pianolist; "Your Fate," L. Hazel Childs.

"Maha," Telephony; New and marvelous tests entertaining and bewildering for which no explanation was claimed.

"Mighty Lak a Rose," Stella Mack Cushing.

Stella Mack Cushing, with Hawaiian guitar accompaniment.

Ruth Brett-Zinn, "Language of the Fan," L. Hazel Childs.

"Whispering," Stella Mack Cushing; "Somewhere, Someone is Waiting," L. Hazel Childs; "Your Love When You're Gone," Ruth Brett-Zinn.

ICE BOATS OUT

The ice boat enthusiasts at Mystic Lake got their first sailing of the season on Sunday. The weather was warm that the ice softened up and allowed the runners to cut so deeply that sailing was not possible, but although Sunday was a failure, on Monday, the high wind dried the ice and made a fairly hard surface. Nine of the dozen or more boats were out through the day, but sailing was confined to a lower third of the lake, no racing could be held. As it was the first day of sailing, the boats were not so well handled as they would be later and there was some lively maneuvering. Waldo S. Manson broke his boom in one small, and this was the only mishap. The little boat, including Carol Fisk's and Frank Trott's craft, had a time, but the larger boats were obliged to reef down to stand up to the squalls, and being so heavily backed sail to make the sport really exciting. It was predicted by some that there will be little or no sailing this season, as on Sunday the ice showed decided signs of breaking up and it was rather thin to say the least. The flaws in the ice, reaching from the Parkway to the shore, caused by the high wind on freezing days, has prohibited taking the boats to the lower part of the pond or into the upper pond.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Mother's Association! The Mothers' Association is the one organization in town which aims to help mothers in directing all phases of child development. It is unsectarian, and all mothers are invited to join at the annual fee of 25 cents a year. A social hour follows each meeting. Little children can be brought and left in charge of a kindergarten. Come and join up with other mothers, and we will try to help you.

At the regular meeting on February 10, in the High School Assembly Hall, Prof. Albert E. Bailey of Boston University, will speak on the subject, "Steering Them Straight." Mr. Bailey has brought up a large family, and can speak from his own experience and will bring us concrete help. Many will recall a previous lecture several years ago when this combination of wit and wisdom charmed us all.

MUSIC AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

The program for music at the Winchester Unitarian Church for Sunday is as follows:

Organ Prelude—Allegretto religioso, Calvin Quartet—For not, O Israel, Spieker Solo—Peace Be Unto You, Scott Quartet—Far From Me, Heavenly Home—Hamer Solo—Bruce-Stearns Organ Postlude—Maestoso

ASH WEDNESDAY SERVICES

More than 2000 persons were in attendance at the services at St. Mary's Church on Wednesday evening. The Rev. Father James of the Passionist Order of Missionaries delivered an inspiring sermon and blessed the Mission Cross which was erected at the altar. A warm benediction was given. This service opens the Lenten season.

The Winchester Board of Trade will hold its next meeting at the Small Town Hall, Tuesday evening, March 1st.

WINTER REUNION OF ST. MARY'S PARISH

Former Town Auditor and Moderator Passes Away

Mr. William C. Newell, a former well known resident, auditor of the town and one-time moderator, died at his Brookline home on Friday of pneumonia. He was 60 years of age.

William Crabbe Newell, son of Charles Newell, was born in Lawrence, Mass., July 6, 1862 and was educated at Trinity School, New York City, preparatory to the University of the Holy Cross, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi chapter. He was a member of the Board of Town Auditors and served from 1895 to 1902 and again in 1905. He married Miss Ellen Augusta Deane in 1877 and they had four children, William Stark Newell of Bath, Me., Charles F. Newell of this town, Carl D. Newell of New York and Mrs. Phillips S. Johnson of Shelton, Conn. Mr. Newell's first wife died a number of years ago. He was more recently married Mrs. William Taylor Brown of Boston. Four years ago they left Winchester and took up their residence in Boston and later at 1875 Beacon street, Brookline.

He was a member of William Parkman Lodge, A. E. & M. and of the Massachusetts Society, Sons of the American Revolution. In addition to serving the Town as Auditor, he had also served as Moderator at Town meetings during the year 1901.

The funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Advent, Rev. John W. Suter officiating. The burial was in Wildwood cemetery.

QUORUM WAS PRESENT

February 8, 1921.

Editor of the Star:

If since permits, will you kindly insert the following in the worthy columns of your next edition?

In reading the February 4th issue of the Star, I was very much interested to see an article there by Mr. Blackham, a member of the Board of Selectmen and also of our Post, in reference to the proposed War Memorial.

In the first place, Mr. Blackham's statements are in error, regarding the vote by the Executive Committee of the Winchester Post, No. 77, of the Amherst Legion. This statement stated that the vote taken by our Executive Committee at their meeting, which was held on March 12th, 1920, in favor of the proposed memorial was not a true expression of the Committee as only eleven members were present at this meeting, which was not a quorum. Mr. Blackham is not correct, and furthermore I, personally, informed Mr. Blackham before this issue went to print, that there was a quorum present at this meeting and that fifteen members constituted a quorum.

I cannot understand where he gets his information, as I am the only person who has the records of these meetings and Mr. Blackham was not a member of our Committee or present at the above meeting.

It would seem that an unfair advantage was being taken to kill this proposed memorial by using our last year's Executive Committee and misstatements, when in truth our Committee has heartily in favor of the entire plan.

Louis E. Goldin, Post Adjutant.

WATERFIELD, L. O. O. F.

On Monday evening, February 14, 1921, Harry Lodge of Waterfield visited Waterfield Lodge and conferred the first degree on a class of candidates. Lodge will open at 7:30.

Wednesday, February 16, Waterfield lodge visits Mr. Vernon at West Medford, and will confer the second degree. All members cordially invited to both sessions.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to all friends for their kind sympathy and beautiful floral offerings at the funeral of

THE WAR MEMORIAL

A Reply to Mr. Blackham

Editor of the Star:

The perspective of another expression of opinion on the subject of the "War Memorial" may be of interest to the readers of your excellent paper.

Mr. Blackham's article in last week's issue of the Star was indeed a great surprise, not only to the writer but to many other citizens and former service men; particularly so in view of his taking exception to already well established facts and to his apparent unbalance in the chronicling of certain glaring errors or misstatements. Since the gentleman has generally been counted among the "missing" at our Legion meetings, it seems the less likely that he should have informed himself from the Post Adjutant as to the correctness of his remarks before publishing them in your good paper.

I believe if he had done this, the Adjutant would have told him that not only the Executive Committee, but also the Winchester Post, in meeting duly assembled, had gone strongly on record as favoring the War Memorial Committee's plans.

The uniformity of opinion might easily gather from the tone of Mr. Blackham's communication and his specific charges, suggesting an understanding, indifference and lack of enthusiasm, and "Hobson's choice" that the entire plan was one conjured up in 1919 by a representative committee of fifteen to give the subject careful consideration.

The committee, of which Senator Lewis Burleigh was the chairman, submitted a report which was accepted by the townspeople by a large majority.

The merits of the project were then apparent to practically all our citizens. It was decided that a building properly commensurate with our departed heroes that would be of service and inspiration to a coming generation would be a fitting testimonial of Winchester's appreciation of their part in America's realization of its loftiest ideals.

THE WAR MEMORIAL

to cover up the issue by inference that it is wise to procrastinate, with the end in view of one day erecting a Community House or Memorial Library?

Let us ask ourselves if we are to falteringly hesitate now, eventually, perhaps, to forget, and later erect a structure which will be a War Memorial in name only.

The statement is advanced that Manchester Field is not the proper location, that it is a memorial as it stands, and so should remain forever. The economic reasons for choosing Manchester Field are too plainly apparent to the thinking citizen to be dwelt upon here. Furthermore, all will agree that it is one of the most centrally located spots in the town. The drawings show that a building such as is contemplated would not encroach upon the usefulness of the field. Yes, Manchester Field is a memorial as it stands, but would it be a desecration would its beauty or usefulness be destroyed by the erection of a fitting memorial to those of our bravest who have now lie buried on the battlefields of France? The answer is self-evident.

My hearty endorsement of the proposed War Memorial is not prompted by the fact that I am a Legion member. Were the town to decide that no quarters are to be provided in this building for the American Legion I would be just as strongly in favor of the project as I am now.

The plan has my endorsement, because, like hundreds of ex-service men, I firmly and sincerely believe that were our dead comrades and refreshment to their wishes they themselves would heartily endorse the War Memorial Committee's work, because the mothers and fathers of our missing boys are expressing their endorsement and approval; because of the six hundred or more ex-service men in Winchester there are very few who are hesitant to express their warm approval of the proposed Memorial.

It is difficult to agree with Mr. Blackham that we have a "problem" in the subject of the War Memorial, rather might it be more correctly termed a woman's privilege. Good common sense has prevailed since this subject was first broached more than a year ago, not only in the exercising of the town's will in meeting assembled, but also in the earnest, staid and highly intelligent planning of our subcommittee.

There should be no misunderstanding about the fact that the vast majority of our ex-service men are enthusiastically in favor of the adoption of the plans of the War Memorial Committee.

Mrs. Edward E. Bond was responsible for the saving of a valuable ball dog owned by Mr. E. O. Engstrom from drowning last week. The dog broke through the ice in the river.

It was seen by Mrs. Bayl, who asked several auto parties to rescue it. She finally found two men, who secured a ladder and pulled the dog out of the water, whereupon she carried it to its home. The dog was all in, but has now fully recovered.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

By way of co-operation with other societies the Winchester Union will devote its next meeting to the needs of the sufferers in the Near East, holding an all-day sewing meeting in behalf of the Red Cross. The meeting will be on Friday, February 18, at the First Congregational Church, the workers gathering at ten o'clock and having a basket luncheon at noon. The business session will be held at 2:30 and, as usual for the February meeting, will be in part devoted to a memorial for Frances E. Willard whose passing to the higher life February 18, twenty-four years ago, is still a sorrow to those who knew her and her work. The Union's throughout the country are asked yearly to give two dollars or more towards the Frances E. Willard Memorial Fund which is used to extend the work and thus in a very true sense extend her influence.

As the only woman to have a place in the group of famous people, two from each State, in Statuary Hall in Washington, she has one kind of fame; as the woman whose vision encompassed the victory won two years ago she will always be remembered as long as there is a Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Reports from the various Regional Conferences are all alike in reporting enthusiasm and renewed interest, and there seems to be a great awakening among those who had thought the work of the W. C. T. U. was over when the Prohibition Amendment became a part of the Constitution. That was a great forward step but it is time to fall asleep in the fond belief that the liquor traffic will tamely submit without protest. The young must still be educated for the future. The law must be a staid, public sentiment must be trained to greater respect for the Constitution. And when America is really dry there is still a world to be won for temperance. The W. C. T. U. is very much alive, and it will continue to live while there is need of it in any of its varied lines of work.

V. VETERANS 13, WINCHESTER 20

The Winchester girls' basketball team was beaten last Friday at Newton when they lost by a score of 18 to 20. At first this suggests that Winchester's game is deteriorating. However, we must consider the difficulties our girls had at face value. First, the Watertown team is long and narrow and exceedingly difficult to play in. Second, the game was played with six on one side instead of five. There is, therefore, some excuse for Winchester. It must be admitted, though, that the team did not play its usual excellent game.

The girls realize this and are practicing as never before in order to win from Natick at Natick Saturday.

WINCHESTER GRANGE

Winchester Grange holds its regular meeting next Tuesday evening, February 15 at Lyceum Hall. The lecturer announces there will be a time spent with a miscellaneous vaudeville program and refreshments.

The Pomona secretary sends the dues sheet and requests that annual dues be paid March 1, 1921 to secure the ten points at deputy inspection. A collector will be appointed Tuesday evening to collect the money.

MACHINE GUN PRESENTED TO POLICE

On Tuesday night Capt. Harold V. Hovey of the former Winchester Machine Gun Company presented the Winchester Police Department with one of the former company's machine guns. With the gun was given a quantity of ammunition. There was no formal presentation, the gun simply being left at the police station by Capt. Hovey. When Spring opens the police officers are to try out the gun and receive training in its use by some of the former gunners.

TALE OF A WELL-BRED DOG

General Joffre believes that the sun rises and sets by order of Roger Sherman.

Not because Roger Sherman is the son of the well known Boston and Winchester lawyer, Roland Sherman, or because he is grandson of the eminent late Judge Edgar Sherman, but simply because Roger is his master.

For General Joffre is a cocker spaniel, a beautiful little creature with fluffy hair of which he is very proud, and with clever tricks of which his young master is equally proud.

So when master Roger ordered the dog to wait on Allen Smith's doorstep until he the master, came out, Joffre did so, in spite of the cold, cutting wind that bit through even his luxurious yellow locks and in spite of the flurry of snow that lashed Joffre's face.

He did so for two hours—three hours—four hours. He did so, although the householders ordered him home—what, forsooth, had they to do with it, anyway, they were not his "master."

"Lafayette, I am here," barked Joffre although he said Roger instead of Lafayette.

And then when the master sat down to supper and was asked where the general was—Roger uttered not a word but bolted out into the cold for Billie Black's house. He did later explain that he had absolutely forgotten the little fellow when he himself went out the Black's back door to skate on Mystic Lake. But the faithful dog would not forget his orders. There he was—waiting! And gladly the little cocker raced home to the warm inside when at last his master came home.

But all that's another story. The real story, for which Lawyer Sherman is voucher—on affidavit, if desired—is this:

A day or two ago while Joffre was in the kitchen gathering up crumbs from the floor—not simply to eat, you know, but out of his inherent love for neatness and his ability to do the work of a vacuum cleaner—the "lady of the house," as the old-time romances say, exclaimed: "Why, I declare, we haven't a bit of bread in the house, not a particle. Nora, you must send at once for a sack of cake."

Ten minutes later there was a scratching at the front door. It was opened and there stood General Joffre with a string in his mouth and the rest of the time holding together a neatly balled lump of bread. And he wagged his tiny tail in glee.

There was consternation. What neighbor's hound had been killed? By telephone it was soon learned.

"Yes," said the Stars, "the grocer said he left a bag of bread in the basket on our doorstep, but it is certainly gone now."

And, provided, although this would not be in the affidavit—Joffre, when he heard this, winked the other eye.

But the curious thing is that there was also meat and sugar in that same basket, yet the discerning old general took only the bread.

Doesn't that settle it?

He does under stated what you say? Of course they do. Ask Roger's Dad—he knows.

[Sunday Post. The master MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER FOR MISS MINNIE T. O'LEARY

Autos and gaudiness were pressed into service last Saturday night when, despite the weather, a party of twenty enthusiastic but silent friends assembled at the home of Miss Mary Leahy, 21 Grove street, with the intention of "showing" Miss Minnie T. O'Leary.

When, after many desperate attempts on the part of Miss Leahy, the bride-to-be was lured from her home across the way into the midst of the conspirators, it was evident to all that the "show" was a complete success, though a trifling one.

Appreciation of Miss O'Leary's sterling qualities was certainly manifested in the wonderful assortment of silver ware, cut glass, and hand-embroidered linen showered upon her, and her pleasure in receiving each gift amply repaid the efforts of her well-wishers.

After a dainty lunch, served by the Misses Margaret and Anna Leahy, the company was entertained with piano selections by Miss Leahy, the West Medford and Mr. George Doherty of Woburn; and Miss Alice Lutz, the popular soloist of Abnott, added to the enjoyment of the evening by favoring the gathering with a group of songs. Friends from Cambridge and Arlington also contributed to the program, and when at a late hour the party broke up each and all declared the affair "the best ever" and expressed the hope of meeting again in the near future.

Every few days a Winchesterite hears or reads of some person who has lost interest in life and reached the conclusion that the world is out of joint and hardly worth preserving. These people have lost faith. They don't believe in anything or anybody. They have come to believe that all of us is a pose and that all truth is made of platitudes. They doubt the sincerity of everybody and search for the wholesome motive behind all decency. Their world is black and dreary, and for less than thirty cents they would jump off a bridge and end it all. Examine into the lives of these people and you will discover that they feel sorry for themselves. That is the trouble. They feel pity has them by the scruff of the neck. There is a very simple and wholesome remedy for their affliction. It is so very simple that the wise ones scoff when it is mentioned and cynical Winchesterites scoff. But the remedy works. Men may beat serve God by serving their fellows. Christ drew but one picture of the judgment, and in that seven men were rewarded or condemned by their record of kindness or indifference to their fellows. In nine hundred and ninety-nine cases out of each thousand the unhappy person who is weary of the world has descended to that state because of selfishness. No individual who thinks too much concerning himself can be happy. Only the unselfish have happiness. Let him seem to deserve it. If life seems bitter, make a heroic effort to get your mind off your own little sorrows and make yourself useful to persons who are in worse plight. They are self-centered who are miserable. Get busy and do good, and the world will seem a very good residence neighborhood.

A Winchester gentleman in the second of his "dilemma" looked backward nearly forty-five years and recalled Winchester as he knew it when a youth and he mused that he would give anything to be able to return to those days in his youth among old-fashioned people. A lot of us would like to do the same thing.

"I wish I knew of life's battles back then, and little we guessed of the sorrows of men; But that old-fashioned house and that old-fashioned street, With all that we needed of joy was complete. And in vain comes the longing to go back once more, To that house with the mother on watch at the door."

—Edgar A. Guest.

In logic and mathematics it is essential that a man should work logically. Yet what Winchesterite has not been puzzled when weather signs did so? The goose home may be thick but the distance is in the air. Perchance the birds in one locality fly south with practical unanimity, while in another they stay at home for a new year's aviation. I am sure they conclude to pass the winter in their home country. It is by no means certain that there may not be many hundreds of near relatives in the air. Our land is so large that even the groundling may be puzzled—he cannot see the birds in the air, while a relative at a distance may find it dark. It is because these rules do not work both ways that the non-generous disparage and the youthful venture to doubt the omens.

One Winchester man opines that no doubt a return to normalcy will reduce the rentality. Winchesterites who pay rent hope so!

In the getting of knowledge all men are specialists. True, one may know much of medicine or law and at the same time keep informed concerning the affairs of men and gather some knowledge of other professions and trades, but the greater part of his knowledge will concern the thing from which he gets his living. All men are ignorant. The one knows the woods can track a deer and cook over an open fire, but he knows nothing of the dark and shift for himself in the wild, and yet is very ignorant of the things contained in books. He feels superior to an "educated" Winchesterite who goes hunting in the wilds of Maine and who is helpless without a guide. Another has read many books, quotes rightly from authors, and is a philosopher of his day, feels himself an intellectual, and scorns common, unlearned folk. Yet he is preyed upon by scoundrels and taken in by liars and guides because of his ignorance and is held in mild contempt by all of them. No one mind can contain the whole of human knowledge. No one span of life affords sufficient time to make the acquaintance of all books. One must choose the subjects concerning which he would learn a little and be content with them. But if he would be just and reasonable, he must guard himself against the narrowness that comes of concentration. One who studies the art of classifying books or laying bricks is prone to magnify the importance of his interests and to think that other men, who study other things, are equally important in the scheme of things. Want of respect for the other man's work and accomplishments is in itself ignorance. To parade knowledge concerning some detail of the world's activity is stultifying. To be puffed up by a little learning is folly. There is much knowledge that is useless, and one second after a Winchesterite is dead he knows much more than the wisest Winchesterite yet living.

Early it is in the year, yet already the daylight saving controversy is on again in Winchester. The Spectator.

An open meeting was held last evening in Lyceum Hall by the Winchester Branch of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild when the Smith-Towner bill was discussed by members of the Fulton Debating Society of Boston. There was a large attendance and an attractive musical program and entertainment was rendered in connection with the discussion.

Miss Elmer J. Curry has been appointed Controller of the Wesley College Semi-Centennial Fund.

THE SMITH-TOWNER BILL

Criticized by Santa Maria Court, No. 150, D. of L.

Editor of the Star:

In taking an intelligent interest in all matters of legislation and in giving expression to our views on all questions that come up which are of national importance as the result of study and investigation, we feel we are simply exercising our rights and performing our most sacred duty as American citizens. The position we hold is not unique, as thinking men, prominent educators agree with us and some even go further in their opposition to this type of legislation.

Overlaid by the magnitude of the problem to be solved, and recognizing the seriousness of the educational situation as it exists in many parts of the country, well-meaning people have seized upon the plan of securing Federal aid through the provisions of the Smith-Towner bill. That the plan as presented is dangerous is proved in the attempt to make it an amendment to the bill to safeguard State rights in educational affairs. In spite of this provision, if the Smith-Towner bill becomes a law we shall undoubtedly have taken the first step in the federalization of education. As so many are not ready to take that step as we are equally certain it would not be sound American doctrine.

The National Catholic Welfare Council has given a very concise exposition of the dangers involved, which follow:

1. The Smith-Towner bill is another step towards centralization. However it may, in its wording, restrict the power of the Department of Education, it establishes the most effectual sort of control, that is, the financial obligation under which it puts the States. The proposed Department of Education would control the expenditure, not only of the money appropriated to the State by the Federal Government but also of the money which the State is required to contribute in amount equivalent to the Federal appropriation.

2. The result of this measure will be to make the States depend more and more on the Federal Government, not only in matters of national importance, but also in matters which concern the State itself. There is no surer way of destroying State autonomy than to give over to the Federal Government, even in part, the State's responsibility in the matter of education.

3. Winchester money is appropriated by the Federal Government must come out of the pockets of the people. It is a question of internal revenue. If this revenue be used to aid any particular State, the amount so appropriated must come in part at least from the other States. And since the bulk of the revenue is in the hands of the more prosperous States, the result will be that they are obliged to settle the educational bills of the less prosperous States.

4. Another effect of the bill will be to create a tendency on the part of the States to neglect their duty in the matter of public education. The annual appropriation now made by each State and now increased every year by the Federal Government, enough to secure the Federal grant, if this bill becomes a law. Therefore, home interest as well as home rule in education will be seriously lessened.

5. The Secretary of Education and his subordinates will be political appointees. They will change with the change of administration. Naturally, they will follow their political preferences in organizing the Department and shaping its policies. They will always have in view the possibility of using the educational system in furtherance of their own partisan interest. The public school system will become a vast political machine. And this politico-educational machine will give a Federal administration the opportunity of creating an educationally controlled, really endangering the liberty of thought and information, which is a basic right of the people. Therefore, we heartily approve the educational aims set forth in the Smith-Towner bill, we object to the method by which it proposes to attain them.

Frances T. Conlon, Historian.

HOW PINS ARE PAPERED

The first pins made in this country were very crude indeed—merely a bit of wire twisted into a knot for a head at one end, and sharpened to a point at the other. Their successors of today undergo a surprising variety of operations before they are considered fit for use, says the London Journal.

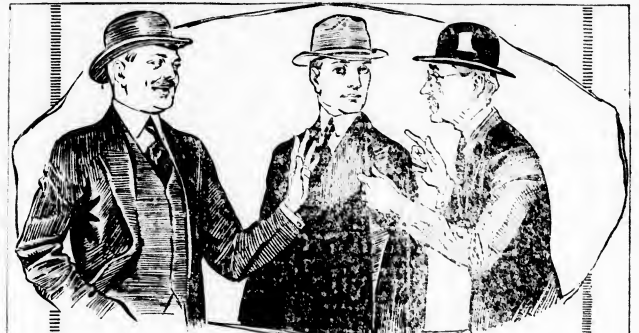

In comparison with the size of the object manufactured, the operations seem bewilderingly numerous; but if there be one process more remarkable than another it is "papering the pins." The papers having been passed through an ingenious machine which, at regular intervals, according to the size of the pin, pinches up a fold and pricks a hole in it, are ready to receive the pins.

For this purpose there is another machine, worked by two girls. One feels the pins, the other the papers. The first part of the machine is a box about 12 inches long, 6 inches broad, and 4 inches deep. The bottom is composed of small, square steel bars sufficiently far apart to let the shank of the pin fall through, but not the head. The bars are just as thick as the space between papered pins. The lower part of the bottom of the box is made to detach itself as soon as the row of pins is complete.

Row after row, at regular intervals, is received and passed down until it reaches the ready-pricked paper. By the nearest possible adjustment, these pins come exactly to their places, and are then passed into them. By this method two girls can in one day put up many thousands of pin papers.

Quick Printing

To celebrate the centenary of the printer's art, particularly its increase in speed, a Caxton one-color Bids was quickly printed and bound in 12 hours in 1877. Only 100 copies were struck off.

"One Man on the Block Makes Public Opinion"

No matter how good our service is, there is usually one man on the block who is forever finding fault with it. You know the man we mean. He is a good fellow at heart and surely enough upon other subjects, but when he discusses this company's service he loses his balance completely.

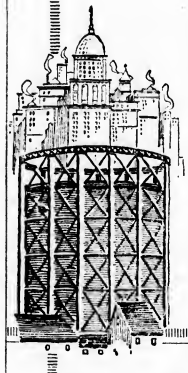

What we regret most, however, is not that this man is soared against us, but that his attacks are permitted to go unchallenged by his friends who are also our friends.

In other words, you and hundreds of other satisfied customers in the same neighborhood take good service for granted, accept it, and say nothing about it. Your silence thus becomes his hidden opportunity. With lips sealed, you unwittingly give him an encouraging slap on the back.

We value your good will, even if it is small. This company is your company, the public's company. Now let us work together to convert this man from a knacker into a booster.

FOGG BUYS TWO PLANES

Proposes to Make Concord an Aviation Center Next Summer

Lieut. Robert S. Fogg has purchased two airplanes from the United States Air Service to use in his flying operations in Concord during the coming summer. One of the machines, which will accommodate two passengers and pilot, will be equipped with a new 150 horse-power Hispano Suiza motor which became famous during the war. The other plane will be a new 110 miles an hour and a climbing speed of 1,000 feet a minute, which is three times the climbing speed of the Canadian Curtiss machine used last summer.

Lieutenant Fogg states that the quick take-off and wonderful climbing ability of the new machine will make it an exceptionally safe one for passengers. Special refinements will be added for the comfort and convenience of the passengers who will sit side by side, protected from the wind by a large windshield.

The other plane will be equipped with the same motor which he had last year and will be used for instruction purposes to subalterns. Fogg plans to operate a flying school during April and May, after which he will tour the state, carrying passengers, as he did last season.

The Chamber of Commerce is planning to finish clearing and smoothing the Black Hill aviation field so that a hangar may be erected at an early date. The hangar will be built on the edge of the field adjoining the boulevard, where it will be in full view of motorists who come from all parts of the country and where it will stand as a monument to the alertness and progress of the Capital City.

With Concord taking the lead, cities in this and other New England states will no doubt follow suit and will have a system of well-established landing fields in the various cities air travel is expected to become as popular as it now is in California and other progressive Western states.

Governor Hartness of Vermont in his inaugural address urged the establishment of such fields in his state, saying that the ruggedness of Vermont prohibited good railway facilities and that the airplane offered the only way of making the cities readily accessible to metropolitan centers. Several cities in Vermont have purchased tracts for municipal landing fields.

GRACE SAGE AT TEACHERS' CLUB

In order to promote a closer feeling between the parents and teachers of Winchester, the Teachers' Club is conducting a series of concerts to which the public is most cordially invited.

On last Thursday evening they presented Grace Sage, the reader of plays, by Booth Tarkington, a play in three acts. From the moment when she appeared on the platform to her last word the audience was most appreciative of her charming personality. Between the acts of the play Mr. W. Wesley Gilmore sang groups of songs.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

A man's idea of an evil communication is a written statement from his wife's dress-maker.

Never strike a man when he is down unless you are quite sure he will never get up again.

None of us would lend money to a man who told the interest when he felt like it. Yet many of us do that very thing when we buy goods and don't pay at maturity.

I have, so far, figured out a use for most everything except a grouch and poison ivy.

This has been an exceptional winter. Few people remember a season more mild and open, and coming after the extreme weather of a year ago, it is almost universally welcome.

Twenty thousand farm workers strike in New York just to show their strength. In the proportion of Boston employment agency is held $10 because he advertised for help without stating that a strike was in progress. Employers will have their troubles, notwithstanding the fact that it only takes two days now to get a letter from San Francisco to New York, so why feel bad if it takes the Star three days to reach Arlington.

The service of upkeep on our parkways does not seem to be quite up to par this year. With the closing of the Border road without any notifying sign (at this time) and the wretched condition of the Mystic Valley Parkway along the lake, Winchester residents have no road of even fair surface available for travel in Boston, if the route to Arlington and down Massachusetts avenue is excepted. The Border road opened a week and direct route to the city, and many people have been provoked at attempting to use it and be obliged to turn back. The parkway has never been in such poor condition as this, and the road to Melford is unspeakable.

One municipal need the Town of Winchester should provide, and for which there has been agitation for many years is a comfortable station. For years of this size, with the volume of travel shifting in its center, to be without such convenience is disgraceful. For years of building and more storekeepers have been for such a station, and the last time it was seriously considered it was sidetracked by incorporating the station in the police building, removed from the center and known only to a few residents. Allevy about the square are in a filthy and unsightly condition. The Board of Health should take the matter up. Not only do conditions menace health, but they also add to the risk. The proper station for such a station is at the corner of the Common, and when it is erected the police should meet promptly and effectively with all nuisances now put up with.

In view of the recommendation for new school buildings, a matter soon to be taken up by the Town, it is of interest to note a few of the figures compiled by the school census figures taken from the beginning of the school year, in the early fall, show a decline in the total school attendance this year of 54 children. Last year (1920) showed a total enrollment of 2145; this year (1921) the total is 2110. An analysis of children of compulsory school age (7 to 14 years) shows 423 males and 417 females, a year against 690 males and 706 females of a year ago. In other school grades (15 to 16 years) there are 105 males and 105 females against 105 and 105 females respectively. According to these figures our schools are not over-crowded, although in considering the situation should be borne in mind that St. Mary's Parochial School has opened one new room for several years, taking in a class of scholars who would otherwise enter the public schools. This year St. Mary's School was filled, and possibly next year will see an increase in the number of public school children. In 1920, 143 families with children between the ages of 7 and 14 years left town. These families took with them 255 children, and the average of 140, 50 per cent over the general average, the two previous years showing 107 and 179 respectively. There is no force, food for considerable thought in planning new buildings.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following permit has been issued by the Inspector of Buildings, the first since January 21:
Angelo Giovanni of 81 Cambridge Street, Wood frame dwelling at same address, 28x28 feet.
New Spring Stationer, Wilson the Stationer.

The following was related in my presence by a former business associate of the man mentioned below:
"My friend died and I found the widow much depressed over her husband's death. She said there were $25,000 in bank and only $56,000 life insurance."
"You are a rich woman, however," I told her. "For your husband's interest in his mine is worth nearly a million."
"But his partners say ready money is needed and they must make an assessment."

An assessment was made and the man's insurance more than paid his share. Later the mine was sold and the widow's share was three millions.
I know that this is true.

MRS. BARTHOLOMEW CONNOLLY

Mrs. Barbara Connolly, wife of Bartholomew Connolly, died at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, on Monday after an illness of two weeks. She was 51 years of age and well known in this town. Besides her husband she leaves eight children, the Misses Mary, Margaret, Sara, Angie, Katherine, Barbara, Winnifred and Bartholomew. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. J. J. Foley and Mrs. Joseph Duran of this town and Mrs. John Foley of Woburn.

Funeral services took place at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Dr. John W. H. Corbett, with Rev. Fr. Joseph L. Early as deacon and Rev. Fr. Francis E. Rogers as subdeacon. A delegation of the members of the Lady Redmond Branch, Irish National Foresters, and the Married Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's Church were present.

Songs among the floral tributes were pieces from the Lady Redmond Branch, L. N. F.; the Winchester Council, L. N. F.; members, classical notes of Mrs. Connolly's daughter at the Winchester High School, employees of Winchester Laundry Company, the Federal Bakery and the Laundry in Boston, if the route to Arlington and down Massachusetts avenue is excepted. The Border road opened a week and direct route to the city, and many people have been provoked at attempting to use it and be obliged to turn back. The parkway has never been in such poor condition as this, and the road to Melford is unspeakable.

POLITICS

Politics do not appear to be absorbing much attention to date, the only activity apparent being the announcement of four candidates for School Committee. This committee is to be increased from three to six members, and the election of one of the previous members, Mr. Chapman, it is announced that Mrs. Charles Zuehl, Mrs. Geo. H. Root and Mrs. J. A. Sullivan have been recommended. It is reported that Mr. Dunbar Carpenter will also run. There appears to be some confusion over the line-up of the candidates, as the new members are to be elected for one, two and three years respectively, and no one seems to know just what term is desired.

There will probably be no contest in the election of Assessors, two of whom are Messrs. Vinal and Wooster, coming up for reelection. It is not reported that Mr. Loring, last week announced as a candidate, will not run, but it is said papers are out for Mr. Peter Walling, and it is another candidate who will appear in the field.

It is reported that Messrs. Kidder and Parsons will be standing for reelection to the Board of Selectmen. Messrs. Dolben and Blackham, although not announcing that they will not run, have not signified their intention of running. Mr. Byrne being the only member of the present board who has announced his candidacy. As yet no names have been announced by the board other than Mr. Joseph A. Scott of Loring avenue.

GIBBONS-LANGFORD

Miss Julia Gertrude Langford of Wendell street was united in marriage on Sunday at St. Mary's rectory to Mr. William H. Gibbons of Montvale. Miss Mary McElhinney of this town was bridesmaid and Mr. Joseph Corcoran of Montvale was best man. A reception followed the ceremony, it being held at the home of Mr. Gibbons, and Mrs. Gibbons will make their home in Winchester.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

February 7, 1921

The Board met at 7:30 p. m. All Present.
The records of the meeting of January 31, 1921 were read and approved.
Town Meetings, March 7, 1921: A letter was received from Mr. Patrick E. Fitzgerald, Treasurer of the Democratic Loan Committee stating that he would appear before the Board representing the Democratic Loan Committee in regard to trying to have women appointed election officers at the coming Town Meeting. Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck both appeared in regard to this matter, and also in regard to the appointment of other election officers.

A letter was received from Mr. Loehman, Town Auditor, suggesting that an article be inserted in the warrant for the Town Meeting for the purpose of having a committee appointed to revise the Town property account and reappraise the valuation of said account. The Clerk was instructed to write Mr. Loehman that this matter could be taken up under the usual article relative to appointment of committees.

A letter was received from the Winchester Board of Trade stating that at a regular meeting of the Board of Trade held January 28, 1921, the following vote was passed:
Voted, That the Board of Trade recommend that the following articles be voted on by ballot rather than through the warrant: Tunnel at railroad station, Bacon street bridge, War Memorial Building, Motion Picture Theatre, Eliminating Pollution of Aberrona River."

A letter was received from the War Memorial Committee stating that the Committee had voted that it does not recommend placing on the ballot the subject of appropriation and acceptance of plans for war memorial, but that the matter be discussed at the open Town Meeting. The letter was ordered filed.

Letters were received from Dr. Clarence J. Allen relative to a bill in connection with the Flowers vs. Allen case. The Board voted to insert an article in the warrant relative to this matter. Mr. Byrne asked to be put on record as opposed to the Board inserting any article in the warrant.

The Board voted not to insert any articles in the warrant relating to the Building Line matters upon which several hearings had been held. The reason for not inserting any articles in the warrant relating to these Building Lines was because the Board felt a sufficient number of releases were not obtained.

Articles in regard to the Building Laws and several other matters were received and inserted in the warrant.

The Board voted to close the warrant.
Sidewalks 1921 Irving Street: Mr. C. B. Johnson appeared before the Board in regard to the condition of the sidewalk at Irving Street, and kind of a sidewalk be built on this street.

Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company: Mr. Parsons reported that he had talked with the officials of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company in regard to two matters referred to the Committee on Corporations at the last meeting. He stated that he had taken up with the railway authorities Mr. Bradley's complaint about the operation of a car with flat wheels. The railway authorities stated that they would have this matter investigated and would not allow any cars to run with flat wheels. The Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Bradley.

Side Streets: A letter was received from Mr. H. W. Brown in regard to improving the condition of the sidewalk on the easterly side of Norwood street.

The meeting adjourned at 12:10 p. m.

George S. F. Bartlett, Clerk of Selectmen.

Help the boys may their debts and hear an interesting and timely lecture. Admission 35 cents.

SMITH-TOWNER BILL DEBATE

Winchester Branch, M. C. W. Guild, celebrated its centennial night Thursday evening by holding an open meeting in Lyceum Hall. An audience of about 400 listened to a very interesting debate on the Smith-Towner Bill by members of the Totten Debating Club of Boston College.
Owing to the illness of the Regent, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Blake, the Vice-Regent Mrs. Sarah J. Barrett acted as chairman and introduced the speakers.
The first speaker was Mr. J. H. Sullivan, who made a very able and logical case for the bill. He was followed by Mr. Harold J. Sullivan, who, while highly commending the bill, was greatly opposed to the method of attaining them.
The most salient features of the bill, its centralizing and autocratic character, its tendency to free thought and its economic aspect with a burden of expense on an already over-taxed people, were strongly criticized by Mr. Sullivan. He also made a point of the "joker" contained in the bill, in that it gave no specific sum stated for the raise in pay for teachers this proposed raise might be set at one cent.

In summary, up, Mr. Eugene J. Sullivan dwelt upon the democratic attitude of the bill, claiming that in accepting it as a whole we merely turn our noblest, best, most patriotic political machine, manipulated for partisan interests only.

Rev. Joseph H. Barrett, pastor of St. Mary's, appealed to the staunch New England spirit that resents encroachment on the rights of citizenship, and in his closing remarks, warmly commended the Guild for its attitude toward the bill.

The meeting closed with the singing of "America" by all present.

The officers of the Branch acted as follows: Mrs. M. C. Anderson, Mrs. V. R. Harwood, Mrs. R. P. Harwood, Mrs. John E. O'Connor, Mrs. J. H. Harlow, Miss Ella F. Foley and Miss Helen Vailley, and Mrs. J. Chris. Sullivan.

THE CITY OF THE HAPPY MEDIUM: MONTEVIDEO

Montevideo, capital of the Republic of Uruguay, where Secretary of State Cully will make the second of his official visits in South America, is described in the following bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society:

Physically situated so that it is one of the healthiest cities in the world, with an equable climate which makes it a delightful place to live in, and possessing in the following bulletin the bustle and noise of the more modern and commercial Buenos Aires, and the more metropolitan Rio de Janeiro, has become the resort city of South America's Atlantic coast. Thousands of wealthy South Americans are to be found there at nearly all seasons of the year, participating in the carnival, gambling in the great government owned casinos, or merely enjoying the restful life of this city which still clings to the Spanish habit of looking to the future.

Montevideo is in the southern hemisphere its seasons are the reverse of those in the United States. The bathing season is numerous for the bathing season which begins in October, corresponding to the Christmas, and is at its height in November, the southern mid-summer.

Detached impressions of Montevideo will bring to mind many smiles and contrasts, with better known cities. Like New York it covers a narrow peninsula from shore to shore, but of which more than half is the city proper. The city is the antithesis of the North American metropolis, being made up of a seemingly vast number of low stone buildings, a few tall three stories in height, the great majority of them but one story. The principal thoroughfare, the avenue of the Eighteenth of July, extending along the ridge of the peninsula, with its colonnades and sidewalk cafes, gives the city a certain grandeur.

The highway department was called upon to cover the fluid with sand. The pump was badly damaged, but the auto was not injured.

Wesley Barry, who will be seen in "Hints" next week at the Stomach Theatre, beginning next Monday, made some easy pin money during the filming of that production by Marshall Neilan. He plays the part of a San Francisco newsboy. Wesley was made up to represent a typical street urchin and was provided with an armful of papers. When he finished the scene he went out to the street and sold the papers "just for fun." Before he went into motion pictures Wesley used to sell papers, but not for fun.

THE WAR MEMORIAL

Editor of the Star: I tried to make it plain in my letter of January 31st, published in your issue of February 4th that no criticism either of the Legion, the Memorial Committee, or the members thereof was intended and to give credit where credit was due. To my fellow Legionnaires, however, since accused me of making "glaring errors of misstatements" and "statements in error" although but one statement is referred to in each communication.

The information as to the number present at the Executive Committee meeting in question was obtained from a number of that Committee who was present at the meeting. In an attempt to verify it I was advised by the Post Adjutant that the records "were incomplete in that respect" in that they did not show the number present. I do not know by what and for what purpose he now concludes from such a record that there was a quorum present. The facts remain that the Executive Committee assembled appointed a committee to prepare plans for a Memorial on Manchester Field to the exclusion of all other plans, on the assumption that it had been approved by the majority of Winchester service men.

One of my good friends also accused me of being "among the misusers" of our Legion meetings, and that I have not in each case been with the majority? The further states that "not only the Executive Committee but also the members of the Legion meeting duly assembled had gone strongly on record as favoring the War Memorial Committee's plans". This is news to me, and if this member will consult the records to verify it I fear he will find them incomplete in this respect also.

This discussion suggests a point on which I, as well as perhaps some of our Legion friends would like some information, and that is by what authority the Post Adjutant in his official capacity as Post Adjutant undertakes to publicly censor the writer, a member in good standing, for alleged misstatements or for any other cause without a vote of the Post to support his action.

There is no action taken by individuals or committees of the Legion not in accordance with the constitution or by-laws has been taken, and without a full realization of its far-reaching effect. I have nothing but the highest respect for my fellow Legion members, and I am sure it was like to feel that the Winchester Post will measure up to Winchester's standard in other things. In consultation with the members of the Post must not lose sight of the fact that Legion members comprise only about half of our service men, that our service men comprise approximately thirteen per cent of the voters and that it is the voters that will decide this question. I have sufficient confidence in the citizens of Winchester to feel that they will do the right thing at the right time and that the ultimate result will be a fitting and proper Memorial to our brave boys.

I hope the Manchester Field plan will be defeated.

James W. Blackham.

POLITICAL

Politics appear to be opening up actively, the chief office of interest being that of School Committee, calling for three new members, increasing the number on the board to six, with the reelection of one former member. In addition, there appears to be increasing interest in the office of chairman, Messrs. Dolbey and Blumhain, two members of the present board, have stated that they are candidates for reelection, and several other candidates have appeared.

Rev. Howard J. Childie, whose name was mentioned this week as a candidate for School Committee, states that he has no intention of running. Mr. Edward B. Smalley has not stated his position, although he would make a desirable candidate. Mr. James M. Finn, treasurer of the Calumet Club and director of the Winchester Boat Club, will probably be a candidate.

Mr. W. J. Drisko and Mrs. S. P. W. J. Drisko, who are candidates for School Committee, are also candidates for the office of chairman. Mr. W. J. Drisko is a candidate for the office of chairman, and Mrs. S. P. W. J. Drisko is a candidate for the office of chairman.

THE WINTON CLUB CABARET

The second cabaret and dance of the Winton Club for the benefit of the Winchester Hospital took place Saturday night, February twelfth, judging by the attendance of over 500 and the enthusiasm displayed, this affair has become one of the social fixtures of the winter season. Beginning with general dancing, the entertainment switched to a costume review acted with wonderful grace by six members of the Club. This number was distinguished by the very delightful singing of Mrs. McGill who opened the scene as a Puritan Miss and sang a descriptive song not only of her costume and period, but also of that of Mrs. William V. Wyman who followed in a most charming Colonial dress, powdered wig and walking stick. Mrs. McGill's performance was a masterpiece of the kind, and the audience was highly pleased.

The cabaret was a most successful affair, and the audience was highly pleased. The cabaret was a most successful affair, and the audience was highly pleased. The cabaret was a most successful affair, and the audience was highly pleased.

OUR GREAT NEED

Nothing is new, in the Summer of 1897, upon the United States Senate the passage of a bill which created a Department of Education. But in two years our country has abolished it. They were the dark days of public education. The passage of the improvement of the Negro was not an inconsiderable factor in the straining of the measure. In general there was no opinion, and the ability of the people to run it. The little red schoolhouse was the extreme limit of public education. And now more than fifty years after there is before Congress a bill, called the Smith-Towner Education Bill, which would again establish a Department of Education with a secretary in the President's Cabinet. In brief, it authorizes an appropriation of $100,000,000 to encourage and assist the States in the removal of illiteracy, the Americanization of the foreign born, the training of teachers, the development of a programme of physical education and health service, and the equalization of educational opportunity as between urban and rural areas. The bill expressly provides that the control of the public schools shall remain with the States and localities.

There is need of it. The standards of public school teachers in this country are the poorest in the civilized world. That is, they receive less preparation for their calling than in any other country. There are six hundred thousand of them, the best trained of whom have had less than the two years of special instruction, the minimum standard recognized in other countries. Thirty million children have no education beyond the eighth grade. We did not know how bad it was. But the great shock came in the examinations of soldiers in the army camps. One man in four was unable to read and write the English language. In hundreds of public schools to-day no English is spoken. Rural communities in numbers have only three months' schooling a year.

How to overcome the perilous ignorance of millions of growing citizens is the problem which all of the leading religiousists, educators, and public-spirited people throughout the country have answered in approval of the carefully drawn bill in Congress. It is particularly strong in its insistence upon each State's right to employ its own methods in carrying out the provisions of the bill, whose whole object is to help with money and technical proficiency the people as a nation, family to be truly American in body, mind, and spirit. It is a curious incident that certain of our authors are afraid it will "put education into politics."

FORNIGHTLY NOTES

It was the privilege of The Fortnightly to have three hundred children as their guests at the last meeting, each of them presented with a dainty valentine before being seated. The children were dressed in their best, and the evening was a most enjoyable one. The musical glasses, disappearing coins, paper ribbons, and bright handkerchiefs were surely a profound mystery, but there was no mystery, only profound enjoyment in the uninitiated supply of no cream cones which followed the entertainment.

The next meeting of the Literature Class will be held in the Fortnightly Room on Monday, February 22nd, at 8 o'clock.

Military classes will be resumed under the able teacher, Mrs. Russell Priest. All who wish to enter these classes for their spring military, consult chairman of Home Economics class, Mrs. C. H. Mason, phone 1319-4.

"How to Cook a Plank Steak Dinner" will be the subject of the next lesson of the Cooking Class on February 25th. Single tickets may be obtained by applying to the same committee, phone 734-M.

The Education Committee wishes to thank the members of the Club who so generously gave story books for the children of the Chapin, Kimford and Washington schools. Three hundred have been taken to them and most gratefully received by the principals of the schools. If there are others who have books to contribute they will please notify Mrs. B. H. Belden, phone 618-M.

The Conservation Committee announces a prize essay contest for high school pupils. Subject, "The Conservation of our Natural Resources." Pupils can choose their own topics along these lines, forests, coal, oil, mineral deposits, water supply and water irrigation, etc. It is the first thing of the kind which has been attempted, and those most interested in the subject at the State House, hope that it will be widely copied.

The full number of tickets for the card party were sold and a merry time enjoyed. Prizes were won by Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Irving Symmes, Mrs. Giles, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Graves. The committee announces that other parties will follow in the near future.

WINCHESTER 51—LEXINGTON 4

Winchester won again Tuesday from Lexington by a score of 51-4. Misses Robinson, Mathews, and O'Melia, starred for Winchester; Misses Batters and Viano did the best work for Lexington.

The line up was as follows:
Winchester: Robinson, Lexington; Butler, Case, Lexington; Hinchey, Lexington; Laraway, Lexington; Roberts, Lexington; Bunsell, Lexington; O'Melia, Lexington; Smith, Lexington; Mathews, Lexington.

M. C. W. GUILD ITEMS

Resolutions opposing the passage by Congress of the Smith-Towner Education Bill have been drawn up by the members of the Winchester Branch, Mrs. Frances Sullivan, and have been sent to the board of directors for approval.

Nomination papers for Frances Sullivan as candidate for School Committee for a term of two years have been filed at the office of the Town Clerk.

In nominating Mrs. Sullivan for the School Board the members feel confident that they are selecting a woman of common sense and business ability. One who is not too radical in her views, and one whose self-interest will not influence her conduct in the office.

Due to the illness of Mrs. Henry C. Blake, regent of the Branch, initiation will be postponed till March.

Information in regard to Registration may be obtained from Mrs. M. C. Ambrose, Tel. 565-W, Mrs. Nora Ireland, Tel. 217, Mrs. R. P. Glenon, Tel. 36-W, and Mrs. John J. Sullivan, Tel. 553. It is the duty of every member of the Guild to register and to take an interest in civic matters.

CHECKER TOURNAMENT WINNERS

The checker tournament given by the Inter-Town Club was an unqualified success. In the checker elimination contest 10 boards were played with entries from Boston, Cambridge, Woburn, Winchester and Stoneham. The first prize was won by Mr. Luther Ames, of Stoneham, 2nd, Mr. Thomas Jones, of Winchester, 3rd, Mr. Leon Richards, of Boston.

The winners had their choice of three prizes as follows: A cigarette holder enclosed with checker board design; a set of Victory checkers; or an Electric flashlight.

The Ladies also spent an enjoyable evening at whist. In fact we were very pleasantly surprised by the interest manifested in our humble efforts in promoting this affair, and hope in the near future to repeat.

BUILDING LAWS

A statement from the Board of Trade:

A statement from the Board of Trade: In interviewing a number of architects and builders, we find that the general impression has been created that the new building laws of our Town are so ponderous and complicated that it discourages building. This impression exists over quite an area. It results in that people who would consider Winchester as a desirable Town to live in are thinking that they can not afford to build in Winchester and are looking around in other towns for locations. The Board of Trade is anxious to let down the barrier so that the Town will have an undesirable class of buildings. It desires to promote good building. It suggests that the old building laws be put in force and that a new committee be appointed by the selectmen to revise the parts of the old laws which do not seem right for the present day conditions.

Signed Winchester Board of Trade.

WOBURN LOSERS AGAIN TO WINCHESTER

The Woburn High School basketball team came to Winchester Tuesday night with a fair following of rooters all prepared for victory but alas for their hopes, the local boys proved that, even if they were in a slump as stated by Woburn, they were still plenty good enough to give their rivals a good thrashing to the tune of 29 to 20. The Winchester score might have been considerably larger had the players of that team veered on several easy chances which came their way. Tansy was the individual star of the game as he scored 25 of Winchester's 29 points. This is no reflection on the work of the other players for they were all in the game every minute of the time. Woburn was good, but the Winchester boys proved that they were better.

SOME FAMOUS RESIDENTS OF WINCHESTER

Most of the people in Winchester are proud of their town. They believe that it is the prettiest suburb of Boston that its location is ideal, and that its streets and buildings are well kept up. But do they know how many famous residents this town has had?

Among the statesmen and politicians, one of the early dwellers here was Edward Everett, who lived on what is now the Robinson place on the way to Arlington. He began his political career as governor of the state, and later filled the positions of minister to England, senator, and secretary of state. He was also president of Harvard for a time. He made many great speeches, among them the one at Gettysburg, which was followed by Lincoln's wonderful address. Later came the Honorable F. O. D. Prime, mayor of Boston, and in his own time, Samuel J. Elder, who, among his important interests as statesman and lawyer, always took a great interest in this school. Now of course, there are Ex-Governor McCall, and our recently-elected senator, Louis Barkhurst.

As for literary men, there was William Everett, son of Edward Everett. When he was a child, he was taught two lines of Latin or Greek every day, instead of nursery rhymes, and when he took up these subjects later, he found himself familiar with a great deal of the classic literature. He was well-known as an author and educator. At the present time there is Mary Auch, author of "The Promised Land" which probably many of you have read.

For artists, there was Foxcroft Cole, who lived here some time ago, and was very well-known for his landscape paintings. Now there is Herman Dudley Murphy, who has won many medals for his artistic work, although he may possibly be more familiar to you as a sportsman. Also there is William H. W. Bicknell, very famous for his etchings.

Among the great business men, we have had Edwin Ginn, who published many of the books which are used here, and Thomas Lawson, financier. A great physician was Dr. Frederick Winslow, who was surgeon of the 4th Mass. Regiment in the Civil War. He filled many town offices here and was frequently called "The Doctor Physician". Winchester has been particularly well represented in military men. Eleven men, living where this town was, later built, took part in the French and Indian Wars, and forty in the Revolutionary War. Many of them were officers, among them Governor Brooks, colonel in the Revolutionary War, and a veteran of Lexington, Bunker Hill, White Plains, Valley Forge, and Saratoga. Here also lived General J. M. Casey, to whom Sherman sent the famous message, "Hold the fort—I am coming!"

As for naval officers, there have been two well-known representatives here. One was Commodore Spicer, the other Admiral Thatcher, who was involved in war with Spain. During the Civil War, as he was sailing in the Mediterranean, he put into the harbor of a neutral island for water. Here ships were allowed to stay only twenty-four hours. After paying off the men, he gave them shore leave, and they all proceeded to get drunk. They were put in jail for disturbing the peace, and so could not return to the ship. Admiral Thatcher sent word that he would pay the fine, but he must have the men. The authorities refused to give them up, and Thatcher replied that he would open fire on the town. The men were returned in time to save a disastrous war with Spain.

These are probably not all the famous residents of this town, but surely these make a list of which we all should be proud.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING

The February Meeting of the Winchester Post 97, will be held on Wednesday evening, the 21st, in the Town Hall, at 7:45 P. M.

On account of the elaborate and snappy entertainment to be given, it is found necessary to use the Town Hall for this meeting, because of the large attendance expected.

The entertainers will be Miss Kathleen Mahony, a dainty and diminutive dancer, whose youthful beauty and personality has made her one of the most popular stage persons of the day; and Miss Shirley Thorne, a Banjo player of great merit and versatility, and who are bound to please and make this evening one to be remembered.

Terrence Cullen's Jazz Orchestra, which met with such great success at one of our earlier meetings, will furnish the music Friday evening.

A Buffet supper will be served after the entertainment.

"Sorry, But We Have No Gas Today"

Just suppose that when you want gas we said: "Sorry, but we're entirely out of it today. We expect to have some next week."

Guess not.

Gas is on tap for your use any time, day or night. At the mere turn of a valve, it is ready when you want it, where you want it. And all because we maintain uninterrupted service.

Consider what this means to us.

When coal companies advance their prices, can we say "Your coal is too high! We won't buy until it comes down?"

Not much.

When the oil man raises the price because he can get so much more for his oil by refining it for the automobile, can we tell him that we'll stop making gas until prices come down?

No again.

And how about labor, the interest on money, and other essential factors? Can we wait until they cost less?

No.

These things we must have. To get them, we must pay the price. That's why, no matter how much we regret it, we are forced to ask more for our gas.

To us it is a matter of being able to continue in business. To you, the average consumer, it means only a slight additional cost per month.

WORK-NOT MEMORIALS WANTED

Editor of the Star:

I was very much interested in the articles that appeared in the Star in regard to the War Memorial. We were so elated when we ascertained that Hindenburg was to erect the Kaiser's monument in Paris that the remains of our National Government and the Town of Winchester from the Eiffel Tower to the world. Von Hindenburg had never reached Paris that we would never give a War Memorial to commemorate the wonderful achievements they accomplished on the fields of France and Flanders.

Now Mr. Editor we elected a moderator who appointed an able committee to prepare plans, secure a site for an estimate of the cost of the erection and equipment of said building. We voted to give said committee $2000 to be expended. Up to the present time I have been unable to ascertain what this proposed Memorial will cost the taxpayers of Winchester. If we decide not to erect the Memorial on Manchester Field the tax payers are relieved of $2000 or in other words the committee's hard work has been in vain.

Far be it from me to criticize any man or men, but I must confess that I shall never vote to erect a Memorial on Manchester Field. Why? Because I believe it will cause too much congestion with two dead end streets and the possibility of a new post office in the near future at the corner of these streets. It seems to me that we Americans who pride ourselves on our patriotism and generosity would first of all find steady employment for some of them could not purchase the arm holes in a vest. Let us by all means provide work for our veterans and not add any more buildings to our over-crowded, congested industrial centre.

I remain your very truly,
Patrick H. Crumwell

MISS MARIA MERDOCK

Mrs. Merdock, who passed away on the 21st inst., at the ripe age of nearly ninety years was the daughter of Sabina (Lowell) and Asa Merdock of Cambridge where the main part of her life was passed. She was descended from Robert Merdock one of the first Settlers of Newton who came to Plymouth, Mass., after the landing of the Pilgrims and is believed to be the first Scotsman to come to these shores. Sixty-eight years of her life were passed in Cambridge, most of them in the house built by her father when he married. Embroiderings of business led her to build her house in Winchester, to be near friends, in 1880, her ties in Cambridge held her there until 1890 when she definitely took up her residence in Winchester. She was one of the founders of the Avon Home and Home for Old People in Cambridge and was associated with the Harvard Centenary Society where she retained two seats for long years after she transferred her connection to the Unitarian Church here. She was a firm believer in woman suffrage and voted as long as she was able to go to the polls. She was always a good citizen, interested in local charities and local business, always insisting on having a scandal of hospitality. She was never keen to say an unkind word to or of anyone. Always amiable, optimistic, open-hearted, and generous, she enjoyed her life to the full.

During her life she filled her house with devoted friends so that her declining years were peaceful and happy.

MRS. RIO FISK ZIEHLIN CANDIDATE, RIDE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Mrs. Ziehl received her education in Evanston, Illinois, where her father was Dean and Professor of Pedagogy in Northwestern University. After receiving her degree from this university, she taught classical languages in a secondary school. Following her marriage, while her husband served on the faculty of Chicago University, she entered into a social and educational life in Chicago, continuing her studies in pedagogy and psychology, identifying herself with civic affairs at Hull House, teaching in the summer school. Three long vacations Mrs. Ziehl spent studying educational facilities in Europe. She has lived in Winchester eleven years. Her daughter attended the Winchester schools until she entered college, and she has a son still in school. A woman of her broad educational experience is just the kind we need on our School Committee.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE VS VOTING

Editor of the Star:

Now is the opportune time for all to see to it that a woman is placed on our local school board. With the equal privileges of voting should also come the equal duties of holding office.

Let nothing prejudice your vote—the welfare of the committee and the children's education.

Consider the candidate most capable, upright and dependable. Consider those who at all times have been actively interested in public affairs.

Be not prejudiced by the fact that a candidate is or has been on the teaching staff. This may or may not be an asset. A capable cook does not of necessity prove herself an able dietitian. An instructor—a primary school teacher will not of necessity prove a more capable member of the board.

Consider the home ties of your candidate—have they the time to give proper assistance to the Board, or have they home cares which make it incumbent upon them to slight either the committee or the home. We want members on the school board who can give time unsparsingly.

Voters make your School Committee a hard purely non-sectarian, where all factions will be dealt with evenly.

Above all, beware of the candidate who would make a place on the school committee a weapon for restoring past indifference or grievances.

"An enthused Voter."

NEWSPAPER POETS

There was a large turn-out at the Calumet Club Saturday evening to hear Mr. James A. Higgins, advertising manager of the George P. L. Co., give a talk on "Interpretations of Newspaper Poets 2." Mr. Higgins' talk was a gem of its kind and a novelty in the way of entertainment. He spoke upon a subject little mentioned, and although there are a few people but what have clipped newspaper poetry at some time or other, the fact that it is from a newspaper or by some unknown writer, lends little value outside the passing thought or sentiment. He recited many bits, sober and amusing, and interspersed his talk with several good stories, entertaining his audience to such an extent that it was hard to allow him to close. The talk was followed by the usual Saturday night lunch.

MR. DUNBAR F. CARPENTER, FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Mr. Dunbar F. Carpenter, of 28 Rangleway is a lawyer, whose profession would enable him to be of special service on the board in an advisory capacity, in addition to sharing in direction of the schools. He is a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1900, and of the Harvard Law School in 1901. For a number of years he practiced in Colorado Springs, where he served three years as chairman of the Municipal Civil Service Commission which he was chosen to organize. He came to live in Winchester in 1917. In 1919-20 he was a member of the Committee of Fifteen which made a survey of the schools of the town, and had a large share in framing its report and in bringing its conclusions effectively before the town meeting. He has two children in the public schools.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Over 250 children attended the afternoon entertainment at the Calumet Club on the 22nd, an attractive program and refreshments serving to hold the interest of all and make the affair one of the most successful yet given. The club was decorated for the day with a myriad of flags and bunting, the bright colors giving a decided contrast to the scene. The entertainment included magic and sleight of hand by Prof. E. J. Thomas, after which refreshments and holiday favors were enjoyed.

At 6:30 after the young folks had departed, over three hundred grown-ups enjoyed a charming dish supper prepared by ladies of the club in the Dutch room. The affair was in charge of Mrs. Phillips C. Simonds, who was assisted at the various chafing dishes by Mrs. J. C. Kerrison, Mrs. George Golda, Mrs. R. P. Priest, Mrs. E. U. Harrington, Mrs. W. H. Bower, Mrs. H. E. Godd, Mrs. Irving Seames, Mrs. A. D. Rogers, Mrs. B. F. Miner, Mrs. E. R. Butterworth, Mrs. F. C. Alexander, Mrs. J. H. Taylor, Mrs. P. A. Goodrich, Mrs. A. D. Dickson, Mrs. F. A. Adams, Mrs. G. H. Sargent, Mrs. G. W. Ansey, Mrs. A. T. Towne and Mrs. A. E. Sanford.

Following supper the evening was spent in dancing, bowling and cards. Callon's orchestra furnished music for the children's dancing in the afternoon and Arnold's orchestra was present in the evening.

INTRODUCTION TO REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ADDITIONAL SCHOOL ACCOMMODATIONS:

We print below the report of the committee appointed by the Town to consider additional school accommodations. The work of this committee, as reported, is herewith made public for the first time, was somewhat delayed by reason of awaiting the report of the school survey. Its decision has been made after careful and painstaking work, including a checking up and listing of buildings by the Harvard Bureau. The matter is of considerable interest to all residents.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ADDITIONAL SCHOOL ACCOMMODATION

To the Town of Winchester:
At the Town Meeting held March 1, 1920 the town voted:

"That a committee of seven, consisting of the three members of the School Committee, one member of the Finance Board and two citizens to be appointed by the Moderator to consider the subject matter of Article 12 and to report at the earliest possible date."

Article 12 was as follows:
"To see if the Town will vote to raise a sum of money by loan for the erection and furnishing of one or more school buildings; or authorize the appointment of a committee to consider if it is expedient to procure and enlarge the school accommodations in the town; or take any other action in regard to the matter."

Acting under the above vote, the committee appointed submit the following report:

Adequacy of School AccommodationsHigh School

The High School Building, completed in 1901, had at that time 120 pupils. In the year 1920 its enrollment was 372, and the building is too small to take care of the enrollment adequately. Already crowded, the natural growth will demand in a very short time an extension to the building unless some means be devised to reduce the enrollment. This can be done by transferring the first-year class to some other building, leaving the High School building to be used for the three upper classes.

Wadleigh School

Such a transfer as suggested above could only be made to the Wadleigh School building; but the building is not large enough to accommodate grades seven and eight, which it now has. Neither can the building be effectively enlarged.

Grade Schools

The grade schools which accommodate the first six grades are, in part overcrowded. This condition is particularly acute in the case of the Wynne School, and this case is so serious that relief must very soon be given either by transfer or by the expedient of putting the pupils on part time. Transfer of fifth grade pupils to a distance is undesirable, and the part time plan would very likely be considered intolerable by many of the parents.

Physical Condition of Buildings

Your committee has had the advantage of the opinion of two groups of experts on our school buildings. The United States Bureau of Education, after making a survey of the schools, recommend that all the wooden buildings be abandoned. They say:

"With the exception of the high school, Winchester has not erected a new school building for 19 years. Five of the nine elementary schools were erected 30 years and more ago. All of the elementary school buildings are small, old, and entirely without modern school facilities. There is not an auditorium in any of the buildings, nor a gymnasium, and there are only two shops in all the nine schools, not counting the three special rooms in the Prince School. In spite of the fact that Winchester is a wealthy city it has provided no adequate playground space for the masses of its children. In other words, the schoolhouses of Winchester are still the little red school houses of olden days, with school seats cut with almost nothing else in the way of equipment for the children's education.

The experts of the Bureau of Education did not make an estimate either actual or relative, of the value of our wooden buildings. They assumed them to be inadequate and out of date.

The School Committee, however, arranged to have all the buildings examined by representatives of the Harvard School of Education, who made a detailed estimate, judged from standards accepted country-wide as desirable. Their recommendation is that all two-story wooden buildings be abandoned as soon as possible.

General RecommendationsJunior High School

This committee believes that the pressing need for more accommodations for our school children can best be met by building a Junior High School. This school will take the first year class from the High School and relieve for some years the congestion there; it will take the seventh and eighth grades from the Wadleigh School and leave that building for the use of grades one to six. The central location of the Wadleigh School will permit of transfer from other grade schools at the least inconvenience and permit of relief in the other grade schools.

Grade Schools

With the completion of a Junior High School the Wadleigh School will become at once a grade school. We believe the town should then take steps to replace the present grade schools with new buildings approximately located as follows and to be built in the order named: the Wynne School, the Wadleigh School, the Rumford School and the Middle School.

This plan will provide the town with five elementary schools to take care of all children up to about the twelfth year and will provide two centralized schools for children of twelve years of age, a junior high school and a senior high school.

Building Site

The requirement for a proper site for a Junior High School necessitate a central location. Since the school must serve all sections of the town and a lot of adequate size for playing the building and providing a playground, which last requirement would preclude a site without some level ground. Such sites are not numerous near the center of Winchester; but the committee believes there is one site which it can recommend as fulfilling admirably all requirements; i.e., a portion of that estate known as Kingley and consisting of about 100,000 square feet on Church Street nearly opposite the end of School Street, lying between the house and land owned by Mr. T. Grafton Abbott and the old so-called "Mansion House" now occupied by Mr. Weeks.

There are at present two houses on this land which will have to be removed and the cost of the tract will depend upon the salvage value of the houses—if they can be moved, the salvage will be considerable—if they have to be torn down the return from the wreckage will be slight. In the worst case the land will cost about $50,000.00.

While the committee has not any specific recommendations to make regarding building site for future grade schools, it does desire to call attention to the fact that land now vacant at the corner of Church and Fletcher Streets would be a splendid location for a new building to replace the Wynne School and doubtless could be secured to much better advantage now than at some later time when a building house may be erected on the site.

Final Recommendation

With a view to starting the program of reconstruction, this committee recommends finally:

First—That the town purchase the tract of land in Kingley for the purpose of building a Junior High School thereon as soon as possible.

Second—That the town appoint a committee to secure plans for the construction of a Junior High School and submit estimates of the cost of same to the town as soon as possible; said committee to serve as a building committee when and if the town makes an appropriation for such building.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. STELLA R. ROOT FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

At the earnest solicitation of many people, Mrs. Stella R. Root has consented to be a candidate for School Committee in Winchester. Mrs. Root is certainly well fitted for the position. She is a graduate of the Potsdam State Normal School in New York, having taken the classical course. She has always taken a keen interest in schools, and has had two daughters graduate from our High School. Those who have worked with Mrs. Root know how efficiently and unselfishly she has served the community in many capacities. She was president of the Fortnightly for two years and was president of the Equal Suffrage Club for an equal length of time. She has done valiant work for the Red Cross, and is now chairman of the Home Service Committee in that organization. She was a member of the committee of fifteen appointed to investigate the schools, and during the past year has served on a committee to consider additional school accommodations. We know in Winchester who will do better work for our schools than Mrs. Root, and we earnestly hope that she will be elected a member of the School Committee.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY HANDLES MANY CASES

District Attorney Nathan A. Tafts of Middlesex County appeared before the General Committee on the Judiciary of the Legislature last Wednesday in support of two measures, the passage of which he has been advocating for a long time.

The District Attorney has been seriously handicapped in his efforts to dispose of the criminal business of the County through shortage of Judges and the comparative infrequency of the terms of Court. There are but five sittings of the Court during the year when trials of cases may be conducted, aggregating in all only eighty days. The District Attorney is now handling over twenty-five hundred cases a year, of which less than one hundred can be tried owing to the fact that the capacity of trial is less than one a day. The result is that there is very great congestion and inability to try many cases which ought to be tried and quickly disposed of.

To remedy this condition, the District Attorney filed two bills, one for the appointment of three additional judges of the Superior Court, and the other calling for twice the number of sittings of the Court are now provided for by statute. The District Attorney cited figures to the members of the Committee showing the utter inadequacy of the present system, which outgrew its usefulness ten years ago.

Mrs. Walter N. Stevenson and Mrs. William C. Flinn, of 33 Elm Street, who were injured when struck by an auto truck on Main St. near Cross St., South Woburn, last week, are being treated in the hospital. They are reported today to be resting comfortably. They were treated in the Winchester Hospital.

"Sorry, But We Have No Gas Today"

Just suppose that when you want gas we said: "Sorry, but we're entirely out of it today. We expect to have some next week."

Guess not.

Gas is on tap for your use any time, day or night. At the mere turn of a valve, it is ready when you want it, where you want it. And all because we maintain uninterrupted service.

Consider what this means to us.

When coal companies advance their prices, can we say "Your coal is too high! We won't buy until it comes down?"

Not much.

When the oil man raises the price because he can get so much more for his oil by refining it for the automobile, can we tell him that we'll stop making gas until prices come down?

No again.

And how about labor, the interest on money, and other essential factors? Can we wait until they cost less?

No.

These things we must have. To get them, we must pay the price. That's why, no matter how much we regret it, we are forced to ask more for our gas.

To us it is a matter of being able to continue in business. To you, the average consumer, it means only a slight additional cost per month.

To Bore a Conical Hole Through Wood.

When you have a conical hole to bore, such as for a handle hole in a wooden nut or other similar place, leave the center of an expensive auger but a trifle loose and begin boring at the side where the smaller end of the hole is wanted. The inner edge of the auger bit being angled, the outer will gradually draw itself out from the body of the bit, making the hole larger as the bit goes into the wood.—Popular Science Monthly.

Keep House Plants Moist.

A piece of sponge, quite wet, and kept in each house plant has been found to result in greenness and freshness instead of the wilting which so often overtakes house plants. Their failure to do well is due not so much to the heat of the house as to the dryness of the atmosphere. The saturated sponge should be pressed in among the leaves and stalks as near to the center of the plant as possible.

First Fort Built in Ohio.

Fort Miami, the first fort built in Ohio, about 1700, was constructed under the direction of Louis de Bau, a Frontenac, the greatest of the governors of New France, as Canada was called in his time. The French chiefs extended down into the Mississippi valley, and they were the Yankees of their time—keen to extend their trading operations through all that extensive region. The Miami river was then called "The Miami of the Lakes," hence the name of the fort.

Glue From Seal's Flipper.

Illustrate the flipper of the whale, made in our waters have been regarded as a waste product, but the fishery bureau made that they will yield 67 per cent of their weight in very excellent glue. It is hoped to find a market for seal flippers with the glue manufacturers. Each flipper about 25,000 for seals are killed on the Prichoff islands, in Bering sea. Reckoning four flippers at eight pounds, the annual production of flippers is 100 to 110 tons.

Porpoise a Fast Swimmer.

There is another mammal that is so fast no one has ever been able to find out how fast he is. This is the porpoise. The porpoise can do stunts in the water of the fastest boat that travels the bounding wave and when he is through after several hours of churning he flirts his tail and touchingly speeds beyond the horizon. The porpoise will do his tricks under the bow of a slowest cargo tramp or a 22 knot ocean greyhound. He is like the antelope in that he sets his pace according to the speed of the pursuer.

Stingiest Person.

A man in our neighborhood recently became independent by receiving a good position and at the end of the first week's pay his father presented him with a bill containing the expense of the young man ever since he was born, including the expense of the attending physician when he came into the world; this was all added up and compound interest was charged. The boy without a murmur has begun to pay it all back to his father. The amount would buy a new home.—Chicago American.

From the Saxon.

Wife and woman spring from the same source, both being derived from the Saxon "wif" and "wom" "wom" to weave, one who works at the distaff. Dryden referred to Queen Anne as "a distaff on the throne." From the same idea springs our word spinster applied to an unmarried woman. While a woman was still spinning her wedding clothes, she was simply a spinster; when she had finished and was married she became a wife who had already woven her allotted task.

MRS. FRANCES T. CONLON FOR MEMBER OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Among the candidates for the school board this year is Mrs. Frances T. Conlon, daughter of Ex-Secretary Patrick Noonan, a present Overseer of the Poor. Although more recently graduated from school than any of the other candidates, Mrs. Conlon would be an addition to the board from a great many viewpoints. Always a brilliant scholar, as her Winchester school records show, and having been particularly successful as a business woman. After graduating from Winchester High school, with honors, and fitting herself for the business profession, she entered the employ of the Eastern Felt Co., a thriving local concern, of which her father is Vice President. For the past ten years, she has held the position of Private Secretary with this firm.

Mrs. Conlon is a thoroughly Winchester woman, with community interests at heart. She was born here, educated here, worked here, married here, has her home here, following her father who was also born in the town and has always lived here, his business interests having always been located here. To Mrs. Conlon's brother, William J. Noonan, fell the sad distinction of being Winchester's only native son to have been killed in action at the World War. Her husband, Thomas W. Conlon served with the U. S. Infantry overseas and was severely wounded in action, being subsequently returned to the States as a invalid. He is at present a patient at the Parker Hill Hospital. During and since the War, Mrs. Conlon served on all the various town drives, captaining her district. She has always been found willing and capable in whatever she has attempted.

If elected to the school board, she will show original cleverness and ability, coupled with keen business perception, and representative views from a rapidly growing district in the town, which has never heretofore had any representation on our School Board.

MR. DOLBEN'S ATTITUDE

Editor of the Star:
Winchester, Mass.
March 1, 1921.
Dear Sir:
Because of misunderstanding arising from the letter that appeared in last week's Star endorsing my service on the Board of Selectmen, I desire to state that I am not, in any sense, a "Moving Picture Candidate." Although personally opposed to the license, I believe it only fair that the majority of our citizens should decide this question of such general interest and I shall be guided by that decision if reelected. This statement is perhaps superfluous from a member of the present Board, considering the position that has been maintained by all the members since the license was first petitioned for, but I want my attitude understood.

TOWN MEETING

FIRST EVENING SESSION TUESDAY, MARCH 8, 1921

The Selectmen give notice that the first evening session of the Annual Town Meeting cannot be held until Tuesday, March 8, 1921.

In order to accommodate the large number of voters it will be necessary to use the main floor of the Town Hall for balloting on Monday and it will not be possible to clear the hall and replace the seats in season for an evening session the same day.

Registered voters only will be allowed in the Town Hall. The capacity of the hall is limited by the State Police to 1000 persons.

MR. FLINN QUALIFIED FOR BOARD

March 2, 1921.
To the Editor, Winchester Star:
Winchester, Massachusetts.

I have recently learned that Mr. James M. Flinn of Dix street has accepted the nomination for our Board of Selectmen. Having been intimately associated with Mr. Flinn in business, he having filled a very important position in the Company of which I am treasurer, I desire to express my convictions in regard to his qualifications for that office.

His work has proved him most able and efficient; his judgment is excellent and I believe he would handle town problems with skill, resourcefulness and impartiality.

I believe Winchester is to be congratulated in having one of her progressive young men running for this office; and if he is fortunate enough to be elected, I believe that the citizens will find Mr. Flinn to be all that can be required. I most heartily endorse his candidacy.

Yours very truly,
Edward S. Foster.

STATEMENT FROM MR. BRYNE

Editor of Winchester Star.

Dear Sir:
I was much gratified on my arrival home last Friday evening to find in your paper such a complimentary letter written in my favor by Mr. Farnsworth.

Although I had no previous knowledge of Mr. Farnsworth's letter it is a great source of satisfaction at the end of a year's work in town government to have at least one of my neighbors say a good word for me. I have tried to serve the town conscientiously during the past year and if re-elected shall continue to do so to the best of my ability.

Yours very truly,
George M. Bryne

JOSEPH A. DOLBEN

Editor of the Star:

We heartily endorse the candidacy of Joseph A. Dolben for re-election to the Board of Selectmen.

Mr. Dolben's experience on the Board, as well as his recognized business ability, will continue to be a distinct asset to the town.

CITIZENS OF WINCHESTER

Have you considered that a Motion Picture Theatre will hurt the tone of this town?

EDUCATIONALLY MORALLY PHYSICALLY FINANCIALLY

It will be a catch-penny for the poor. It will cheapen the town in every way.

We believe the Winchester Theatre Company cannot fulfill its promises as to films. We would probably soon be linked up with the Gordon or some other chain of theatres, getting the same kind of films as other towns around.

Brookline, Weston, Milton and Woburn Hills have kept out commercialized movies. So can we.

Keep this pest to parents and menace to morals out of Winchester.

MRS. ELIZABETH C. MCDONALD FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The citizens of our town are to be congratulated on having for a candidate for the School Board, Mrs. Elizabeth Cullen McDonald. She is a native of Winchester, a product of our public schools, and a graduate of Lowell Normal School, Class of 1904. She began her service in our town as a teacher in the Randolph School, Grade 4 where she taught for six years. She was then transferred to the Prince School, sixth grade. After serving three years in that building, she was transferred to the Wallace Lawrence School, where she remained until 1919, teaching the 6th and 7th grades. During this time she came into contact with parents and pupils from every section of the town.

During the entire term that the Fortnightly Club conducted its Vacation School in the Chapin building in 1919, ten years ago Mrs. McDonald, then Miss Elizabeth Cullen, was a teacher in the school, giving all this time most satisfaction. Also, she served for four years as a teacher in the local Evening School, and for two years, in the North End Evening School, Boston, where she did Americanization work. I feel that if she is elected to the School Board, she will give the same splendid service to her work that she brought to her position as one of our teaching staff.

JAMES W. BLACKHAM

Winchester, Mass., March 1, 1921.
Editor of the Star:
Letters advocating the election of several of the candidates for the Board of Selectmen appeared in last week's Star, but there was nothing printed in that issue in behalf of Mr. James W. Blackham who is a candidate for re-election.

As retiring members of the present Board of Selectmen, we wish heartily to endorse Mr. Blackham's candidacy. From personal observation we know that his service for the town has been faithful and valuable. He is a conscientious and efficient worker, whose judgment is sound. He deserves re-election.

A Winchester Theatre Eventually—Why Not Now?

ATTENDANCE OF CHILDREN

The Directors have agreed that the license is to be issued RESTRICTING ATTENDANCE OF CHILDREN UNDER 16 YEARS to special and suitable children's matinees on Friday and Saturday afternoons and providing that at all other times they shall be admitted only when accompanied by or with the written consent of a parent or guardian.

This is not a regulation of the theatre management and subject to change, but is the basis upon which the license is to be issued by the Selectmen and COMPLETELY ELIMINATES the objections which have been raised in regard to the ATTENDANCE OF CHILDREN.

The Advantages The Opportunity

In undertaking to establish a First Class Motion Picture Theatre in the town, the Winchester Theatre Inc. has always assumed that the project would receive the support of a large majority of our citizens for the following reasons:
That it will PROVIDE DESIRABLE ENTERTAINMENT for all classes of the citizens of Winchester, old and young, rich and poor, keeping young people off the streets and from going out of town, and providing the tired worker and mother with an easily accessible, inexpensive place for INOCENT ENJOYMENT AND RELAXATION.

That it is to be operated UNDER PERMANENT LOCAL CONTROL, in Directorate, Stock Ownership and an effective Censorship, thereby ELIMINATING THE HIGH COST OF TRANSPORTATION out of town, eliminating the long trips and late home comings.

That it will simplify one of the serious difficulties of the DOMESTIC HELP PROBLEM.
That an attractive building will replace old and undesirable ones and IMPROVE THE CIVIC CENTRE.
That the improved real estate will attract better taxation, to the INCOME OF THE TOWN.

And that the theatre will INCREASE THE BUSINESS OF OUR LOCAL MERCHANTS.

The INCORPORATION has been completed to conform to specific requirements, under the direction of EMINENT LEGAL AUTHORITY.

The By-Laws ESTABLISH THE CONTROL IN THE PREFERRED STOCK and include a provision against OPERATING ON SUNDAY.

THE OFFICERS are all Winchester men who have pledged themselves to maintain the high standards commensurate with the best interests of the town. THE PREFERRED STOCK WILL BE ISSUED ONLY IN AN AMOUNT to cover the cost of land, construction, equipment and a reasonable fund for operation, the balance to remain in the Treasury as Treasury Stock. This precludes the possibility of overcapitalization.

THE FINANCIAL SUCCESS of the Winchester Theatre in agreeing to produce only the best, and the opportunity to discriminate in securing films of this character, will show in its contracts and patronage, is assured by the most THOROUGHLY AUTHORITATIVE.

Investment by the Directors of THEIR OWN MONEY and the acceptance of responsibility for that of their neighbors, should be a satisfactory guarantee of their belief in the SUCCESS AND PERMANENCE of this policy.

THE TELEPHONE, THE PHONOGRAPH, THE AUTOMOBILE, THE MOVIES, all wonderful modern inventions have their uses and abuses. We cannot get along without them but should enjoy their advantages and eliminate their misuses. That is, our policy is practical in the operation of the new theatre is supported by competent authorities. The following letter from a large agency is but one of many proofs:—

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The members and friends of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a splendid dinner and a very pleasant evening in the Chapel of the Church Tuesday, March 1st, 6:45 p. m.

The speaker of the evening was the Rev. Nathan E. Wood of Arlington, Mass.

The music was furnished by a trio, under the direction of Miss Hazel Stark, violinist, of Melrose, Mass., who rendered selections during the evening.

About two hundred and twenty-five people sat down to a dinner which was prepared by a group, and served by the young people of the church.

The tables were tastefully decorated for the occasion and much credit is due the Social Committee of the Church for arranging this successful event.

The committee in charge were Mrs. Frank W. McLean, chairman, Mrs. L. C. Prime, Mrs. E. A. S. Prime, Mrs. W. E. Cobb, Mrs. A. O. Weld, Mrs. H. W. Moulton, Mr. F. W. McLean, Mr. A. O. Weld, Mr. H. W. Moulton, Mr. Donald Eldridge.

VOTING IN WINCHESTER

Editor of the Star:

Reading over the Town Warrant seriously, is a thing to most of the women in Winchester. Heretofore it has come to our doors as a matter of course for the men of the household. This year it means as much to every member of that household and should be given just and careful consideration.

It is with regret we note that unless voted in the early morning the three main questions to be decided will not be given the justice of a ballot vote, namely, Moving Pictures, Under Pass and Appropriation for the War Memorial.

Few of the voters can be at the polls as early as five forty-five a. m. I make sure that these three important articles are placed on the ballot. One must still have confidence in the men. They could not conscientiously take any action that would keep the voters, as a whole, from voting on important issues that should be decided by a full expression from and by the people.

With more than four thousand voters, only by ballot can a square deal be given the majority, there is no just medium.

Winchester is indeed fortunate to have for her citizens men of such high principle and type as would not stoop to cheap common political intrigue to put through some pet scheme or satisfy a "hobby" by taking advantage of this unfair condition.

Mrs. W. F. Ellefson.

WINS FOR ASSESSOR

Certain qualifications are very desirable for an Assessor.

He should be a man who knows values here in Winchester.

He should be a man of experience, proved good judgment, and without bias.

Mr. Harry T. Winn, candidate for office of Assessor for three years, is such a man, and more.

Mr. Winn is a Winchester business man of the old school.

H. Winn's Sons, manufacturers of Hat Bands. He has had personal experience in building of Houses, Bungalows and Factories and those who know him well, regard him as a level headed, practical man, of good judgment, with whom it is a pleasure to deal. If elected, all sections of the town, and all classes of taxpayers, will be served as fairly as his men.

I believe Mr. Winn is in a position, as well as admirably qualified by age, natural characteristics, and experience, to give the best possible service to the town as Assessor.

Mr. Abraham T. Collier, formerly a well known resident of Sheffield road until within two years, and formerly a resident of Chelsea for over 28 years, died on Friday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James M. Patterson, at Watertown. He was formerly a vice-president of the National Shawmut Bank and for a half-century was intimately associated with Boston banking interests.

He was a native of Charlestown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collier, and was born May 17, 1848. In early life he entered the insurance business, and in 1870 he entered the employ of the old National Bank of the Commonwealth as a clerk. He was vice-president of the bank at the time it was absorbed by the National Shawmut, having risen successively to the positions of cashier and vice-president. He continued in this office in the National Shawmut until 1918, when he resigned.

He married Miss Adeline E. Foster of Chelsea, who died in 1915, and is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Patterson, and by two sons, Forrest of Billerica and Arthur L. of Beverly.

During his residence in Chelsea, Mr. Collier was a member of the church connected with the board of aldermen and was a city councillor. He was a trustee of the Chelsea Trust Co., and a member of the Boston Athletic Association, the Boston Yacht Club and the Calumet Club.

The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the chapel in Mr. Auburn Cemetery.

50th ANNIVERSARY

The 50th anniversary of the founding of the Winchester Savings Bank was celebrated by a most enjoyable informal dinner given by the Trustees to the Corporation last evening at the Harvard Club, Boston. There was an attendance of 35, including officers of the Bank and Town, and several of our clergymen.

Mr. Alfred S. Hall presided, and a feature of the affair was an attractive folder, with portraits of the bank and its founder, the older D. N. Stillman. The invocation was given by Rev. Clifton H. Wolcott. And among the speakers were Mr. Stephen Thompson, one of the original incorporators, who was presented with flowers; Mr. Preston Peck, Chairman of the Selection Committee; Arthur A. Kilgus, James W. Russell, Jr., Harry C. Searson, Edgar J. Rich, Daniel B. Badger and Rev. Howard J. Collier.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

WAR MEMORIAL

Editor of the Star:
In regards to this agitation for the War Memorial, I would like to add my protest against the reckless expenditure for the above building at the present time, and think that the money intended to be spent on the proposed Memorial could be put to better cause by caring for ex-service men and the poor of the Town.

As it is now the poor man has no chance at all, only to submit to whatever tax rate is set by the Finance Committee. I agree in every respect with the remarks in the Star by Mr. Traugott and Mr. Blackman, and the present condition of employment does not warrant the expenditure of $150,000 on a Memorial to be built on Manchester Field. The most absurd proposal I ever heard of.

The time to build this War Memorial is when the Tax rate is about $20 or less. Give the poor man a show, and not push this proposal to the limit to satisfy a few, who care not how the poor are living. As an instance, I quote the working man, with a large family to keep; the husband out of work for a half year or more. Rents and taxes to pay, must certainly be a heavy burden to the poor man; more especially so if he is paying for his house.

I hope the proposal for War Memorial will be dropped for the present. In sympathy,

For the poor man

SIMMONS COLLEGE ENDOWMENT

The local alumni of Simmons College have formed a committee to work for the $300,000 Endowment Fund and to interpret to the public the unique character of the College.

Simmons College has a remarkable history. Although it is one of the youngest of colleges, it nevertheless ranks as the third from the largest college for women and as the largest vocational college for women, in the country. The College offers at present eight types of professional training: in household economies, secretarial work, library science, general science, social work, industrial teaching, social service and public health nursing.

LOCAL COLLEGE WOMEN RAISING FUND

Wellesley Working on Quota For $27,000.00

Mrs. Alexander S. MacDonald is directing local college women in the national campaign for the Centennial of the birth of Wellesley College, which is to be raised by Commemorative Day at Wellesley next June.

The money will be devoted to salary endowment and to the most pressing of Wellesley's building needs.

The ultimate goal for a complete replacement of the losses occasioned by the fire of 1914, as a gift to the College in 1925, will be approximately $9,000,000.

The national organization is headed by a distinguished committee, including the Hon. John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain; the Hon. Ira Nelson Morris, minister to Sweden; Dr. William Mayo, of Rochester, Minn.; and the Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, Miss Elsie Goddard, '06, of New York, is the executive chairman.

The local executive committee is as follows: Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, Mrs. Charles S. Dutch, Mrs. Henry M. Shreve, Mrs. Joseph Worthen.

The Wellesley women of Winchester held a meeting Saturday, February 26, at the home of Miss Minnie Joy to determine methods of procedure to raise the local quota.

Ten was set, and Miss Grace Crocker, of the National Committee on Quotas, gave a stimulating address on the progress of the drive and the part which Winchester is to play in it.

JAMES M. FLINN

I am pleased to learn that Mr. James M. Flinn, whom I have known as a very progressive man, is running for our Board of Selectmen. I feel that Winchester is very fortunate in having one of her young, but capable, men willing to serve in the above capacity; and I heartily endorse his candidacy.

WINCHESTER BRANCH, M. C. W. G. ENTERTAINERS WOUNDED SOLDIERS

WAR MEMORIAL

Editor of the Star:

Believing that a statement showing the approximate year cost of the proposed War Memorial will be of interest to the citizens of Winchester, and of assistance to them in determining whether or not the Town shall erect the building as proposed by the War Memorial Committee, I am submitting the following statement showing fixed charges and cost of maintenance.

I have assumed that the initial cost of the memorial will not exceed $150,000, and that if all of the proposed features, including a swimming pool, etc., are carried out, the first cost of the ultimate plan will not exceed $250,000. I have also assumed that the money will be raised by a series of bonds, on the interest is five and one-half percent (5 1/2%), and which will be matured in equal yearly installments covering a period of 20 years.

The yearly cost of maintenance of the building, including fuel and light, service and supplies, repairs and other expense, I have estimated to project the yearly cost of maintenance is estimated to be $6000. For the $250,000 project the average cost of maintenance will be considerably higher on account of the cost of operation of the swimming pool, and is estimated to be $20,000. The two figures are subject to some fluctuation.

No allowance has been made for depreciation or insurance.

Based on an initial expenditure of $150,000, the Town must raise by revenue an average of $18,000 a year for the first twenty years, or a total of about $360,000. At the present valuation of the town, this is equivalent to an increase in the tax rate of about eighty cents ($0.80) per $1000.

If the initial cost should amount to $250,000 in accordance with the proposed ultimate development, the Town would have to raise yearly by revenue an average of about $28,000 for the first twenty years, or a total of about $560,000. At the present valuation of the Town, this is equivalent to an increase in the tax rate of about one dollar and eighty cents ($1.80) per $1000.

After all of the foregoing have been matured there will be a yearly charge for operation and maintenance, which has been estimated to be about $6000 and $20,000 respectively, for each scheme.

The following tables show the expenditure, each year, for the first twenty years based on initial costs of $150,000 and $250,000.

THE SMITH-TOWNER EDUCATIONAL BILL

Much comment has been made and several communications have been printed in our columns against the "Smith-Towner" Bill. The following, from the New York Globe, presents the other side of the petition. We print upon request of a reader.

THE SMITH-TOWNER EDUCATIONAL BILL

By Dr. Frank Crane
This is one of the most important measures before Congress. Every body ought to understand and house it. Hence this criticism.

What is the Smith-Towner bill?

It creates a Department of Education, with a Secretary in the President's Cabinet, this being the first time up to the level in importance of War, the Navy, the Postoffice, the Treasury, etc.

And it provides Federal aid for Education to the States.

But (3) prohibits Federal control of Education within the States.

Why should there be a Department of Education with a Secretary in the Cabinet? Because Education is far and away the most important interest and business of the people of the United States.

Does this bill mean the control of Education by the Federal Government? It does not. It specifically provides that the States be left in control.

Will the bill affect private and parochial schools? Not in the least. This is purely a State matter.

Is the policy of Federal aid to Education new? It is not. It is a continuation of the settled and accepted policy of the nation since its beginning. It is normal evolution, not radical change.

Why should the Nation help remove illiteracy? (1) Because one-fourth of the men in the draft were illiterate. (2) Secretary Lane estimated the annual loss to the Nation through illiteracy at $30 million dollars. (3) There are 100,000 foreigners who cannot speak English working in the mines of the United States. It is stated by the director of the Bureau of Mines that to remove illiteracy here would save 1,000 lives and 150,000 injuries annually.

(4) Illiteracy is not sectional. It is not a Southern problem. There are 100,000 illiterates in New York and 25,000 in Pennsylvania.

Why is illiteracy a National Danger? Because the illiterate and the uneducated are the most susceptible to the ignorant.

Why should educational opportunities be equalized all over the land? Because the greatest need for education is found where there is the least taxable property. And because people are more important than money.

Should the wealthier States help the poorer? Surely. We all stand or fall together. "A square deal for all," said Roosevelt.

What must a state do to get Federal aid by this bill? It must (1) provide a public school opportunity of at least twenty-four weeks, (2) provide compulsory attendance at a public or private school of all children between seven and fourteen, (3) make the English language the basis of instruction, and (4) appropriate at least as much money as it expects to receive.

All this is a long stride in the right direction.

There can be no solid and enduring Democracy that does not begin with child training.

A lecture on the Operation of the Telephone will be given by the Lynn's League in Metcalf Hall next Friday evening, March 18, at eight o'clock. This is an open meeting, and all members of the Society are cordially invited to attend including those of high school age.

CAUTION AGAINST OVER INSURANCE

For five years the values of buildings, merchandise, machinery and raw stock have been advancing, and we have very properly advised property owners to increase the amounts of insurance carried.

The tide has now turned and prices are beginning to come down. Building costs show only slight reduction, but merchants are selling their stocks at reduced prices to meet the readjustment.

During the past four months the fire losses of the country were tremendous. Under these conditions, it is our imperative duty as Insurance men to do our utmost to prevent over-insurance. It is our duty not only to the Companies, but to our customers whose good will we wish to retain and to the public generally. In the past we have advised increased insurance, but now we must advise against carrying more than can be properly collected in case of loss; any other course will bring discredit upon our business and will lose to us the respect of our insurers.

TOWN MEETING AND ELECTIONTown Meeting

increasing the Assessor's appropriation from $3,875 to $6,000. It appears necessary that the board have an office for the transaction of their business in place of the open room now used jointly by the Town Clerk and Cemetery Commissioners. This room, furniture and filing cabinets, it being desired to put the records in proper shape. In addition the doubling of the number of voters carried increased expense all along the line. The Poll Tax Book will be doubled in size, clerical assistance needed, etc.

Mr. Hayward was opposed by Mr. Carey of the Finance Committee and the motion was lost, $9,875 being voted.

In the passing of the budget items all recommendations were accepted as made by the Finance Committee except as follows:

Health Department. The sum of $11,448 was voted, with $1,500 for the Public Health Nurse, making the total of $12,948 as recommended.

Highways and Bridges. Mr. Thomas M. Vinson moved to increase the sum of $72,165 asked, to $92,465, the increase to be used to relocate and rebuild High Street.

In receiving this motion Mr. Vinson moved the sum as an even $90,000, and Mr. Vinson, in talking to his motion, did not make the correction. Mr. Vinson made a witty and eloquent plea for the relocation and reconstruction of High street, using as a forcible argument the fire of Sunday which destroyed several buildings. His remarks were met with instant favor and the increase went through. Following this passage the attention of the Moderator was called to the omission of the old $100, which meant that there would really be a slight decrease in the funds available as recommended by the Finance Committee. There was, however, no attempt to include this sum.

The vote was opposed by chairman Carey of the Finance Committee, who stated that in going over the account it had been planned to spend about $200 on High street and its vicinity, and as the houses there were very few, it was felt that for the best interest of the town it was best to spend such a large sum there. Mr. Locke, another resident beside Mr. Vincent on the street, advocated the appropriation, and the meeting in a whole appeared even more than willing to rebuild the street.

In considering the appropriation of $500 recommended for Independence Day, Mr. Davidson moved to make the sum $1,000. His contention that for years we have not had a July 4th celebration for less than this sum, the balance being paid by patriotic citizens, was well founded, as all stars and the address was voted without opposition.

The School Department desired an increase of $800. Mr. Chapman of the committee stated that this money would be used for increasing the salary of grade and elementary teachers, now much underpaid in comparison with surrounding places. He stated that it was difficult to find teachers here owing to the small salary paid and that furthermore this was undoubtedly an expensive town to live in, several of our teachers seeking living quarters in Medford to live within their stipend. Mr. Chapman was seconded by Rev. Mr. Parker and Mr. C. A. Warren, while Mr. Laraway, while not opposing, desired to be sure that the money would go to increased salary for the teachers and not be spent in other ways. The increase was voted unanimously.

The meeting adjourned after a lively session over the increase of $800 for water. This increase was passed on a second motion by Mr. Vinson who evidently thought that as he had had such luck with his previous motion he would try again, notwithstanding his statement that he would be thoroughly satisfied if he got High street rebuilt. Mr. Vinson made an able plea, undoubtedly, and his remarks were received with considerable more applause than is usually accorded in town meeting orator. His motion was opposed by Mr. Laraway and by Mr. Kendall of the Water Board, who stated that if the Town was determined to place this water main, time should be allowed to ascertain costs. In Mr. Kendall's opinion the work would take considerably more than $10,000, and as it was specifically voted to put the water on Ridge street, the Town should not allow it. The argument then appeared to convince some of the voters, for the Moderator called for a standing vote. The motion to act upon the larger sum (the increase of $10,000) was carried 260 to 267. At this, those opposed decided to attempt to kill it on the original vote, but as this would throw out the whole appropriation and tangle things up, it was very fortunate that the motion was carried, and so $10,000 was voted.

It was at this point that a motion for reconsideration was offered, and during the argument the motion to adjourn was made and carried, the meeting holding over to next Monday night.

Notes

The total registration in Winchester, men and women, is 4611.

Of the five women elected to town office, only two were present at the evening session to be sworn into office—Town Clerk pro tempore Mabel W. Schmitt and School Committee woman Ethel E. Zuehl.

The applause at the evening session was very noticeable. It was not unites, for there were several remarkable good arguments presented, and a little enthusiasm is probably a good thing for the average male voter.

Tuesday night's session started in to spend some money—and it succeeded very well. With several important articles yet to be acted upon it would be a good thing to drop into bed, especially through the High street mad. It is more than probable that some of the votes carrying additional appropriations may be reconsidered next week.

As a simple, money saving proposition, why would it not be wise for the Town to insure those two houses on High street?

A LITTLE SERMON BY REV. MR. DEWART

3 Glenarry, Winchester, Mass., March 5, 1921.

My dear friends:

The other day I saw two little boys fighting. They were both little but one was much littler than the other.

The smaller boy was sailing into the bigger one as if he had found the easiest bit of picking imaginable. The big boy was backing up—and finally ran away.

Then I remembered the multitudes of fights of my own boyhood days. I came over me that in those days, the issue never was determined by superior skill or strength. It was always nerve alone which determined the victor in every boyish fight.

As I thought particularly of two bigger boys I used to play with, I confess even after 40 years, vain regrets surged through my soul that I had not been a more useful and practical truth years ago.

I thought of those two big boys—and of great satisfactions which might just as well have been mine.

Today I haven't the slightest inclination to rebuke anybody's nose in the dirt and I'm sure you haven't either but it's worth a lot to know how to win a fight for I've got some fights ahead of me still.

Sometimes I find myself in against conditions where it seems to me as if I were as for a rubbing good and plenty.

I fancy we all have known the sensation. We all feel sometimes as if we were little Davids facing some giant Goliath.

But it doesn't matter very much how little, little David is—or how big, great Goliath.

Whoever said in morosely against any Goliath, if he only will sail on bravely enough will practically always come out a winner.

Isn't that true?

Very sincerely yours,
Murray W. Dewart

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

It takes a harder to discern the weak points of a safety razor.

When a man's head begins to swell he discovers that most of his friends are fools.

Before burning your bridges behind you it might be well to see that they are fully insured.

Anyway, the rising generation usually manages to get up in time for breakfast.

A young man should learn to paddle his own canoe, even if his father does own a motor boat.

Has Mr. Vinson drowned High street in town water?

How did the millinery look from the rear of the hall?

Yes Alice, it is still called the Board of Selectmen.

Water, water, water and more water.

Isn't there an old proverb about the pitcher that went once too often to the well?

A peculiar circumstance occurs this year in that Massachusetts voters outside the cities will not participate in an election until March 1922.

The terrible railroad accident at Valparaiso, Ind., is now blamed upon the deadly cross-over, notwithstanding the fact that the human element was at fault as well. Winchester have a condition not greatly removed from the Indiana feature. When our accident comes, as come it will, we will find that it is caused by the conditions rather than the human element. The time to correct such a state is before the accident occurs; the lamentable part is that it takes a toll of human life to correct such a condition.

We believe in good streets, but of course with moderation, and if a huge expenditure is only going to benefit a very few of us it does not appeal to the Editor himself has a street grievance, along with seven other reputable citizens—and his street is only a half-mile from the Town Hall. Away back in 1918 the Selectmen promised the bettering the conditions, but as late as Monday two autos got stuck in the mud and few of the market delivery attempted to use it. We have waited three years, and it looks as though we would wait at least another—unless the present Board takes pity on us, but we are no longer, and if there is $20,000 laying around here we are glad the two residents on far-away High street were fortunate enough to pick it up; only we do wish that little $400 had been remitted, for it would have just about taken care of the taxes at that. It is all a question of grasping the opportunity. Possible the ladies had something to do with it, they certainly showed their appreciation of a good speech, and we were not lucky enough to produce a five at the right time, although the fire on the spinning auto wheels make considerable smoke in the wet mud. We realize we were caught napping, so go to it, High street, ride, drink and be merry. We are going to invite the Selectmen to call on us the next wet evening and serve them hot coffee and sandwiches, while they are marooned in the bottomless pit, and if that does not soften their hearts we will turn the whole matter over to you, but we give ample warning that High Street folks are not the only ones who have mud holes for streets, and the Town is going to really consider individual cases, regardless of cost, there are other sections which are awaking up.

PRIZE STORY CONTEST

Prizes have been offered in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades for the best original story. There will be first and second prize given to each grade. The prizes will be books, the winner choosing his own from a given list. The money for the prizes is to be given by interested people of Winchester.

The judges are Mr. Parker, an editorial writer for the Globe, who will act as chairman, Mr. Chapman of the School Board, Miss Weeks, English teacher at the High School, and Mrs. Higgins.

The rules of the contest are these:

1. In the seventh and eighth grades the story may contain from 250 to 500 words. In the sixth grade, from 100 to 250 words.

2. The writer may choose his own subject.

3. The story may be imaginary or true. It must not be a product of the pen.

4. All stories must be handed in by March 11th. The names of the winners in this contest and their stories will be printed in the April and May issues of the Waileigh Life, the Waileigh School paper. Citizens of Winchester are urged to give a copy to read these stories, which promise to be extremely interesting.

SECOND MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST

For Winchester School Children
Unique Plan to Stimulate Appreciation of Good Music to be given second time

The music memory contest organized two years ago met with such success, that there has been an insistent demand that it be repeated again. It will be remembered that the object of the contest is to arouse an interest in good music among the children at a time when they are most receptive to the development of musical appreciation and to encourage familiarity with the standard classics, as well as the Fortnightly. The Star and other organizations will offer prizes for the greatest proficiency in recognizing and naming the compositions.

Mr. Richard W. Grant, supervisor of music, has again selected fifty compositions representative of the different types of classics. The children of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades, will be trained over a period of two months to listen to the numbers and to write the name and composer of the composition. At the end of that time a public test will be held in the Town Hall, when the contestants will be required to identify fifteen compositions selected from the list.

The classes will be played at stated times during school hours by the teachers and Mr. Grant, but numbers and others interested are urged to assist, not only in lending records to the various schools, but whenever possible in the form of gifts to bear these selections outside of school.

The first prize is offered by the Board of Health for the child identifying the greatest number of selections will receive a musical instrument or a check for the equivalent amount.

The second prize will be a check for $10 for identifying the second greatest number.

The third prize will be a check for $5 for identifying the third greatest number.

The next fifteen highest will each receive a check for $1.

Although it could easily be arranged to have one person donate the money for the last fifteen individual prizes of $1.00 each, it would be more in keeping with the spirit of the contest if fifteen parents or other interested people would contribute $1.00 each. Mr. Grant will gladly receive contributions.

The following comprises a list of the vocal and instrumental numbers selected for this test:

CALUMET AT LEXINGTON

The Calumet Club, including ladies and gentlemen, was the guest of the Old Belfry Club of Lexington Friday evening, the visitation being a return courtesy of a few weeks previous when the local club entertained its Lexington friends. There was a large attendance from Winchester, almost a hundred going to Lexington by auto and being royally entertained.

Matches in billiards, pool, bowling and cards were enjoyed, the bowling, which attracted the largest number of gentlemen and ladies, holding chief interest. Old Belfry also held a dance in Calumet's honor, and a large number spent the evening in the club hall. Calumet proved the best in all departments, winning all points represented except two strings in bowling.

D. W. Comins and Edward B. Snalley took both billiard matches, playing against Joseph Hale and Hopkins. Harry Stevens and Bob Reynolds won at pool from Lewis and Glynn, and Dr. Cutter and Wilcox likewise won from Emery and Barber.

At cards Calumet was represented by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Kerrison, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Tucker, Mr. Willard T. Carleton and Mrs. William H. Bower. These players, too, held all the cards.

The bowling attracted a large crowd, the alleys being the chief center of attraction on the dance night. Calumet had two teams. The first team dropped the first and second strings but won the third and fourth. The second team won all four. Calumet did not roll as high as the various members of the two teams usually score, but several good strings were marked up. Both Mrs. J. R. Faussey and P. C. Simonds made strings of 100, Mrs. A. T. Towne rolled 90, Mrs. M. C. T. Towne 80, Mrs. S. E. Newman 80 and Mrs. W. T. Carleton 80. Mr. Berry got a single of 100.

Various matches at cards were served in the dance hall, after which the dancing was resumed until a late hour. The scores were as follows:

WINCHESTER BRANCH M.C.W.G. ITEMS

The Gulls all over the State will hold Election of officers at their business meetings this month.

Regent, Mrs. Elizabeth Blake, attended the Guild meeting at the Diocesan Centre, Arlington St., Boston last Saturday. The affair opened with a tea at 2 p. m. Regents were present from all over the State, and many invited guests among whom were State Chaplain Rt. Rev. A. F. Roche of Watertown and Rev. Irving L. Gifford of Brookline.

Thursday night, March 10th was Social night for Winchester Branch. Entertainment was in order and the members and their friends enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The hostesses for this affair were Mrs. Mathew Meen, Mrs. Richard F. Glendon, Mrs. Chas. Hayes, Mrs. John Hanlon, Mrs. L. Ledwidge. Refreshments were served at 10:30 p. m.

Plans are nearly completed for the "Green Whist" to be held on the evening of St. Patrick's Day in Lyceum Hall. The affair will include a concert with many novelty features, and the following committee has been appointed to serve: Mrs. M. J. Hurlbut, chairman; Mrs. Nora Holland, Mrs. May Harrold Sullivan, Mrs. Sarah Brine, Mrs. Susan Quigley, Mrs. Frances Sullivan, Mrs. Annie Hanlon, Miss Mary Holland.

A "Feast of the Seasons" dance and entertainment, has been looked for March 20th at Lyceum Hall. Plans for this affair will be announced later.

HELP RELIEVE UNEMPLOYMENT

Mr. Editor:

It seems to me at this time, with all the unemployed men around this town, that the Board of Selectmen and also the Water and Sewer Board should start work at once, so that as much of this distress as possible may be relieved. I was talking with one of the town officials who has to do with the spending of these appropriations and he told me that it would be some time before the work could be started. This town is no different than any other place in the Commonwealth, and in all other places, money is and has been spent freely to relieve the unemployed. Of course, some work cannot be started at present, we all know, but surface drainage, Water Main and sewer work can and should be undertaken at once.

A day's work now to men out of employment is better than two days work later when there will be work of all kinds for everyone. The City of Woburn, which does not compare with Winchester in wealth or public spirit, will start Monday with an appropriation of $50,000 to lay Water Mains, giving employment to 300 men; 150 working three days a week.

This letter is not meant for any criticism of our officials but merely to call their attention to the present state of affairs in this town.

5 Middlesex Street.

pose. He did not feel, however, that it was a fair proposition for the Town to assess and tax him three times what he paid for the installation of his private water supply. That, he said, rather rubbed it in. Mr. Vinson followed. His remarks lacked the brilliancy of his previous advocacy of the votes and his argument was rather unconvincing, especially his thought that the water pipe could be laid as far as the money lasted and then the end be plugged up to await another appropriation on another year. His contention concerning the valuations placed on real estate, however, was clever, for, he asked, how is it that a house over one hundred years old, in an undeveloped neighborhood, could suddenly jump three times in value unless the assessors regarded it in the same light as antique furniture, which increased with age. Some of those present would have welcomed a discourse from him on the relative value of real estate in place of his down-hill battle for water.

Mr. Parsons made a good speech in advocating reconsideration. Always a convincing and eloquent speaker, he wholly removed any possible doubt which may have remained in the minds of the voters as to the wisdom of reconsidering the previous votes, and when a rising vote was taken on the question, reconsideration was carried 687 to 31.

Three votes were required to get back to the original motion and much local acumen used in throwing the switches without ditching the whole affair. The original recommendation of the Finance Committee of $30,000 finally being voted.

At 9:05, the highway appropriation was again taken up on a motion for reconsideration. The vote for reconsideration was 626 to 17. Several long arguments against reconsideration were made. Mr. Vinson speaking until the five minute rule, previously not taken up at this year's meeting, was requested. Those long arguments took three-quarters of an hour, which was to be regretted, as the attitude of the meeting was unquestioned. It was finally voted, after another long series of reconsiderations, to appropriate $80,000 for highways, $10,000 of which will be spent in the rural district. By this vote it is anticipated that money may be used for other streets in the vicinity of High street.

Article 10 was then considered. This article called for reports of committees. Under it the report of the committee on Town Hall, appointed last year, was received and the committee discharged, the report of the committee of seven on school accommodations received and the report of the War Memorial committee received and the committee discharged. A vote of thanks was extended to the last named committee.

Under this article the following vote, calling for a committee of seven to consider town meeting procedure and the best means of handling future town affairs was passed: Moved: That a committee of seven be appointed by the Moderator of this meeting to carefully study and consider the subject of our town government, the method of voting thereat, the division of the town into voting precincts, the adoption of by-laws and the provisions of the general laws of the Commonwealth relating to town meetings and procedure thereat, and the advisability of petitioning for such special legislation as may be necessary, to facilitate the transaction of town business and the conduct of elections, in view of the increased number of voters; said committee to report at a town meeting as soon as may be to have power to fill vacancies in its membership and to expend a sum not exceeding $100, the same to be charged to committee account.

Under article 12 the Selectmen were authorized to employ a Town Counsel; and under article 13 the Selectmen were authorized to employ a Town Engineer. Under article 14 the number of assessors of wood and bark are to be set at not more than eight, and under article 15 the School Committee is authorized to transport school children living in more remote parts of the town.

Article 16 was moved to be left to a later session of the meeting. This concerned temporary quarters for the American Legion, with an appropriation of $1,200.

Articles 17 and 18 called for the exchange of the old Washington School lot on Cross street for a lot of land owned by the New Hope Baptist Church on Washington street. The deal gives the Town a much larger lot of land adjoining the playground at the Highlands in return for the small school building and its lot.

There was no opposition and the two articles were voted, the sum of $500 being included in the first article to cover the law governing such a transaction, although there was no actual cost to the Town.

At this point the meeting adjourned to next Monday evening at 7:45.

NOTES

Several important matters are yet to be acted upon by the Town before the close of the annual meeting. Chief among these is the matter of a Junior High School, provision for the purchase of land for such having been inserted in the warrant, together with that for the building itself. There is some opposition to this step, many feeling that our school accommodations are ample at present; and this opposition grows. Some say we have vacant rooms available and others state the coming need of more modern building for the lower grades.

Another question is the fire protection for schools. In this connection it is reported that the only building which really needs fire escapes is the High School, which really furnishes a dangerous situation in considering egress from its assembly hall and its third floor, which no ladder of our fire department will reach.

They say the Legion is after the old Cutting house for its headquarters. In addition this place has been mentioned as desired by the school committee and by the Visitation Nurse Association for its clinic uses.

It is quite evident that by the time of the next election the Town will be divided into voting precincts, so when you get the next returns you may as well be prepared to tour the town.

The "Emerald Whist" at Lyceum Hall on March 17 was a great success, both financially and socially. It was decidedly an "Irish night" and the hall was decorated for the occasion. The concert, under the direction of Mrs. Mary J. Halwatz, consisted of folksongs by Mrs. Philip Joseph Kelley and Miss Alice Kelley; solos by Mrs. James McGrath and Mrs. Madeline Jackson; songs by Master "Sonny" Murray; and Miss Mary Quigley. Irish melodies by Miss Esther McCarthy, and readings by Mr. Martin Hunt.

A "Feast of the Seasons" dance and entertainment will be given by the Branch at Lyceum Hall, Wednesday evening, March 20th. The decorative scheme for this affair will include four booths representing the four seasons, Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter; and the following members will take charge: Mrs. Annie Hanlon, Mrs. Lillian Leisewitz, Mrs. Clara Hayes, Mrs. Mary Meul, Mrs. Margaret McKeon, Mrs. Nora Ambrose, Mrs. Mary A. Carr and Mrs. Anna De Courcy. A musical program is scheduled for the early part of the evening. General dancing will follow till 1 a. m.

A degree team, composed of younger members of the Branch, under the direction of Miss Ella T. Foley, is preparing for the Spring initiation, the date of which will be announced later.

WARNS OF DANGER TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Commissioner Smith Says Others Agencies Shirk

Payson Smith, state commissioner of education, speaking before the Church Service League at St. Paul's Cathedral, yesterday afternoon, said that the most progressive education today was being carried on in the public school, but the public school was "in great danger of breaking down because of the tendency of the public to blame and shift its share of responsibility upon it."

He pointed to modern motion pictures as "a perfectly clear case of faulted responsibility," and asked that he "wouldn't attempt to say how much harm had been done to education by this defaulted responsibility." He declared that he regretted the necessity for censorship of motion pictures as much as he would regret censorship of the press, but asserted that the press would have been censured long ago had it "been guilty of the indecencies" found in many motion pictures.

The commissioner said that "much damage was being done by private schools of an inferior sort that are being established for social reasons to meet the idea of parents who do not want to send their children to public schools." The increasing number of schools of this kind, he said, was "setting up an idea of caste that is doing great harm in a democracy like ours." "Our education," he continued, "is also breaking down under the excessive social demands on our young people. One of the most challenging needs of the times is for other institutions to assume the responsibility of the home as an educational institution. I believe it is also the duty of the church to study this question and see that its major effort is put forth with the youth of the land."

MOTION PICTURES AND THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

March 16, 1921.

The enclosed clipping from the Boston Herald March 16th, I think might be inserted in the Star to good effect in the light of our recent agitation under the caption of Motion Pictures and the Public Schools. Perhaps if this does not reach you in time for this week's issue, it can go in to next week's Star.

Very sincerely yours,

Elizabeth R. Dennett.

"CRUCIFIXION" TO BE GIVEN

At the musical service to be given at the church of the Epiphany next Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock the large vested choir of forty-five men and boys will sing Stainer's "Crucifixion," a very beautiful musical setting of the story of the cross. Mr. George Boynton a tenor soloist of distinction who has sung in both concert and oratorio in Boston and New York has been obtained to sing the tenor solo. Mr. Kenneth McLeod will sing the baritone solo and Mr. John Spenser will be the bass. The musical service will be under the direction of J. Albert Wilson organist and choralmaster.

It does not surprise a lot of Winchesterites to learn that there never was a real sugar shortage. The average Winchesterite wasn't born yesterday!

CAUTION AGAINST OVER INSURANCE

For five years the values of buildings, merchandise, machinery and raw stock have been advancing, and we have very properly advised property owners to increase the amounts of insurance carried.

The tide has now turned and prices are beginning to come down. Building costs show only slight reduction, but merchants are selling their stocks at reduced prices to meet the readjustment.

During the past four months the fire losses of the country were tremendous. Under these conditions, it is our imperative duty as Insurance men to do our utmost to prevent over-insurance. It is our duty not only to the Companies, but to our customers whose good will we wish to retain and to the public generally. In the past we have advised increased insurance, but now we must advise against carrying more than can be properly collected in case of loss; any other course will bring discredit upon our business and will lose to us the respect of our insurers.

GIRL SCOUTS

On Saturday, a group of girls including Charlotte Healey, Jean Ryan, Margaret Smart, Natalie Thumlin, Nancy Holden, Elizabeth Brown, Helen Buch, Estelle Simonds, Frances Mason, Ruth Bove, Lucille Skellings, Clytie Brooks and Lucille Harrington, went with the Commissioner, Mrs. J. E. Ryan, to the Carnegie Food and Nutrition Laboratory at Brookline. A special supper was served to the girls in the laboratory, after which they spent the night there, sleeping in a chamber especially equipped for registering the pulse and observing the effect of certain diet on the growing girl.

A detailed account of this work is being given in a series of articles now appearing in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal from the pen of Dr. Frances Henslett, Director of the Laboratory.

This is the second group of Scouts which has had this wonderful experience as Captain Emerson had previously visited the Laboratory with Margaret Merrill, Amy Merrill, Margaret Newman, Elmer Gordon, Ruth Bove, Helen Beach, Dorothy Park, Elizabeth Hallock, Jeanette Smith, Hester Harrington, Jean Ryan and Lucille Skellings.

This was a most interesting thing for the girls and they are to be congratulated upon having this opportunity to contribute their "bit" to Science, in this way.

TUESDAY NIGHT

Many citizens who have the best interests of Winchester at heart feel that the failure of the voters at the last Town Meeting to give the Station Under Pass Resolution the two-thirds vote it required was due to the failure of citizens to understand the problem.

No other suburban town in Winchester's class is forced to put up with an elevated structure which is an eyesore to all persons who patronize the Winchester station.

"Undoubtedly, during the last few years," says George T. Davidson, "we have lost many valuable additions to our population and much increase to our valuation by this monstrosity."

For the purpose of giving the under pass suggestion the publicity it evidently needs, the Winchester Board of Trade has asked Town Engineer Hinds to be the chief speaker at its next meeting in White's hall next Tuesday evening, March 22.

Mr. Hinds will exhibit the model showing the town plan for a grade crossing which has been accepted by the Board. He will explain the details as they relate to both the grade crossing and the under pass. The under pass is a part of the general grade crossing plan.

It is believed that the discussion of this project will be a lively one because of the many of our citizens' feelings strongly on this subject. Some of them argue that the town officials had no business to put this question on the town warrant with moving pictures and the war memorial. Both of the other questions had been discussed in open town meetings, but the under pass had never been discussed publicly in fact, hardly any consideration had been given to it except by the few who had been giving it detailed study.

Supper will be served at 6:30. The public is cordially invited to be at the meeting which opens at 7:30.

Each member is urged to bring at least one guest.

D. OF L. NOTES

On Tuesday evening, March 15th, Santa Maria Court No. 150, D. of L. furnished a program of entertainment for the Stoughton-Woman's Catholic Club at Red Men's Hall, Stoughton.

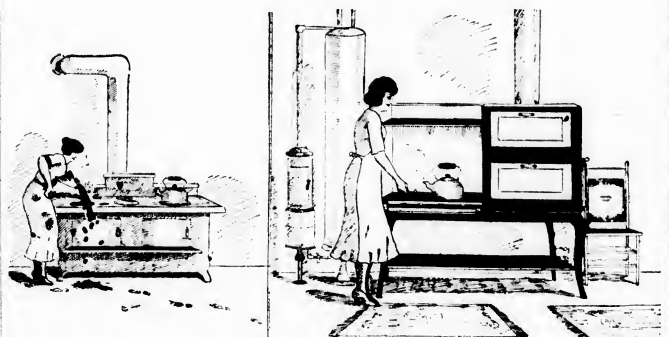

Solos were rendered by Miss Mabel City, Mrs. James MacIntyre, and Mrs. Helen Studley, and readings by Mrs. Thomas W. Conlon, all members of the local court. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. Wm. E. McDonald, Jr., whose subject was "Woman's Civic Duty." Her address was most instructive and was delivered in her usual interesting style. It met with exceptional appreciation by an audience made up of club women from various organizations who were guests of the evening. The club president, Mrs. McCarthy, presented Mrs. McDonald with a beautiful cut glass compote.

On Thursday evening, March 17th, the Court held its annual "Irish Night" which was a huge success. Character songs, sketches, readings and dances made up the program and among those taking part were: Mrs. James Maguire, Mrs. George Wynn, Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Thomas Conlon, Miss Emma Nauman, Mrs. Helen Studley, Mrs. Agnes Lynch, Mrs. Katherine Lynch, Miss Ethel Keam, Mrs. Mary Kelly, Mrs. Maria City, Mrs. Thomas Conlon, and others. In charge of the Wm. E. McDonald, Court Lecturer.

The Hall was decorated in Green, White and Gold with the American colors and fancy frosted cakes were served with ices made up in the Irish National Colors, a very effective innovation, this being the first time these attractive ices in the Irish colors have been used. Games in which every one took part followed and the evening was pronounced one of the most entertaining the court has ever provided.

A most delightful bridge was held for the ladies of the Calumet Club at the club house Friday afternoon. The honors were won by Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Charles H. Symmes, Mrs. Arthur E. Sanford, Mrs. Joseph A. Dolben. During the afternoon tea was served, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth and Mrs. C. Edward Jennings presiding. The afternoon was in charge of a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. George B. Hayward, she being assisted by Mrs. Robert L. Emery, Mrs. C. Edward Jennings and Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth.

WOMEN INTERESTED IN AFFAIRS AT BEACON HILL

Stimulated by the intelligent oversight the Massachusetts League of Women Voters is exercising over the present session of the General Court, Public Health center Women Voters of Winchester is organizing a legislative speaker's bureau and is herself meeting many engagements.

Other speakers are Mrs. Martha Helen Elliott and Mrs. Arthur G. Roth, Chairman of the Legislative Committee.

BOY SCOUT SUPER

Father and Son Night

Are the Winchester Boy Scouts alive? Please erase the question mark and substitute an exclamation point. The proud and "popper's" place in town last Friday night was in the Unitarian Church Vestry (kindly provided for the occasion) when one hundred Boy Scouts sat down with about fifty of their "Dads" to a sumptuous supper, which went all the way from Beans to Apple Pie and Ice Cream. Were the mothers there? How could you have a supper without mothers? Yes, they were there holding up the hands of Mrs. L. M. Crowell, Chairman of the Committee and adding their grace to the festivities of the evening. The other kind of grace, oh yes, that was offered by the Rev. George Hale Reed, minister of the entertaining church, and every scout head was bowed, because it is part of his law. A Scout is Reverent, he is reverent toward God, and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

Was it a live bunch of boys? You should have heard them sing, "The Lone Lone Trail," "Pack Up Your Troubles," "Keep The Home Fires Burning," and especially "Oh, How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning" under the stirring leadership of Mr. Howard Bennett. Were they alive? You should have heard the howl when Dr. Howard J. Cholley, President of the Winchester Boy Scout Council, arose and loudly announced that he mothers, he requested that the Scouts be urged to eat more pie. At the head table sat the Scout Executive, Scoutmasters, High School Principals, Ministers and members of the Scout Council. The speaker of the evening was Judge Charles Almy of Cambridge, who presides over the Third District Court of East Middlesex County and is also Judge of the Juvenile Court in Cambridge. From his wide experience with boys he brought a strong message. He made the remarkable statement that during the thirty years of his experience on the bench, he had never had a Boy Scout appear before him. Does the Scout movement pay? Ask Judge Almy. There ought to be twice as many Scouts in Winchester as there are. When the opportunity is given the citizens of the town to support this great movement they will surely remember the Scout Motto: "Be Prepared."

The Committee in charge of this fine supper and program were appointed from the Winchester Boy Scout Council and consisted of Mrs. L. M. Crowell, Chairman, Mr. Howard Bennett, and Mr. Robert Fay. About fifteen of the mothers rendered first aid to the hungry boys at the supper. Scout Executive. Fathers must have felt encouraged in his fine work by this demonstration of Scout spirit. Other events of a similar nature are being planned by the council for the Winchester Scouts. Let the good work go on!

Mr. Edward Sachse returned from Miami this week, having received his discharge from the U. S. Navy after four "year's" service. He held the rank of chief machinist mate and enlisted early in the war. During the recent cable trouble in Florida waters he was the one who was the one who was in action with the cable ship.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

The early worm fills a long felt want.

We would rather hear our faults overlooked than overheard.

Cut out the worry about yesterday's sorrows and get busy with the joys of today.

Virtue may be its own reward, but vice can't always give its own punishment.

The man who is always on time wastes many valuable hours waiting for the other fellow.

What a flood!

Among the best, Mr. Ives? Congratulations.

And at that, they say on High street that they got much more than they expected.

And the applause! The ladies do appreciate a good speech, and were very impartial, to say the least. We may from now on look for some real oratory at our town meetings, for who can resist the lure.

It looked as though that five minute rule for speakers would be allowed to rest this year, but no one knows how long Mr. Vinson would have talked had it been invoked. This feature, all too prominent in our town meetings, is the one thing which causes dissatisfaction and keeps many away.

The old board of Assessors came in for their share of criticism, and it is not difficult to see why the average citizen regards the present valuations. Even if antique houses are in the same class as antique furniture, it does seem hard when a citizen who does not enjoy the privilege of town water is assessed three times what it cost him to install his pipe for the rest of us.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE I-DELAWARE

TO DELEWARE falls the honor of being the first of the original thirteen states. December 7, 1787, it officially adopted the Constitution and thus was made a beginning of our present Federal government. According to the seventh article of the Constitution, however, it was necessary for nine states to ratify it before it actually came into force. So it was not until the following June, by which time eight other states had accepted the Constitution, that the United States of America actually came into being.

The early history of Delaware was a varied one. It started in 1638 when a small party of Swedes settled on the mouth of the Delaware river in the month of New Sweden. In 1655, Peter Stuyvesant, the governor of the Dutch colony of New Netherlands, annexed this territory. But it did not long remain Dutch, for in 1664 the English took possession. When Pennsylvania was decided to William Penn he desired access to the seacoast and at his own request Delaware was transferred to Penn's proprietorship. From the beginning of the eighteenth century, however, Delaware had its separate legislature, and at the time of the Revolution it became an independent state.

Delaware is next to the smallest of our states, having an area of only 2,370 square miles. Its participation in presidential elections is limited to three electors. This is arranged according to population. Each state is entitled to the same number of presidential electors as it has members of congress, so the influence of the different states in voting for the President varies from Delaware's three electors to New York's 45.

As to the derivation of the name Delaware, this was apparently given to the state from the river, which in turn was named after the bay and the bay was called Delaware in honor of Lord Delaware, who was governor of the Delaware colony in 1610.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

On Monday evening, March 22, at 8 o'clock, the music committee of the club will present in the Town Hall, an unusual musical attraction. A two-volume record given by Guy Maser and Lee Pattison. These artists have a world-wide reputation, they give a program absolutely unique and individual, of such artistic quality that they have appeared with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic, and many other leading musical organizations, yet through the efforts of our music committee we are to hear them in Winchester, and at a reasonable price. It behooves the club members and the Winchester people who like good music, to realize this privilege and not to miss hearing these great artists.

High school pupils all over the State entered the poster contest for clean roads originated by the Thrift Department of the State Federation. These were shown for the first time at the last club meeting. Sixty-four posters were entered, three from Winchester. Prizes were awarded, first to Brookline, second to Weston, and third to No. Attitboro. Later on the club will give prizes for those entered by our own school. These posters were seen at the High School on Tuesday, and will be shown throughout the State. The School Supervisor and members of the School Board were guests of the club, and expressed much interest in this work.

One of the most enjoyable events of the club year is the annual Club Luncheon which will take place in the Town Hall on March 30, at 12:30. The very efficient house committees, who have departed from the usual formal idea, it will be a progressive luncheon and doubtless will occasion much fun. Club members may bring guests, and by the rules of progression which the committee have arranged, will be with their guests at the opening and closing courses of the luncheon and through the entertainment. Tickets may be obtained from any member of this committee. All money and unpaid tickets must be in the hands of the chairman, Mrs. Chas. Tarbell on March 28th.

One class in millinery is already under way, another is being formed, any person wishing to join please notify Mrs. Tarbell, telephone 734-M.

The Literature Class will meet in the Fortnightly Committee Room on Monday, March 21st at 3 o'clock. Miss Richmond will have charge of the program, Subject, "Works of William L. Locke." Three of his books will be reviewed, and some account of his life will be given by Miss Richmond. We have many talented women in our club, and it is very gratifying when they give us the pleasure of listening to such a program as that of last night, each of which has had its own charm, and we wished it might be like a Kreisler or McCormack recital, with unlimited energy and power. We are all watching the clock, which will arrive at five, no matter how attractive the program. We hope there may be another of the same kind awaiting us in the future.

American Gods as Gondollers.

American gods are learning how to become gondollers, and an American school of gondolling is first being considered as a regular course. In Venice the Knights of Columbus operate a social service club on the banks of the Grand canal, and in connection with the club the Knights of Columbus maintain a well equipped school, run on the lines of the Knights of Columbus free night schools in America. French, Italian, Turkish and other languages are taught in the school to the men of the American Mediterranean naval unit, as well as navigation and other technical courses.

Now gondolling has been added, as the American sailors polish driving themselves and their Venetian friends around the gem of the Adriatic in gondolas. Some of the sailors are becoming expert in handling the petreous craft, and the "Commissioner" Edward L. Hearn reports.

Only Natural.

The school principal had been busy all day selecting children from the various classes, to do some special work. She was very tired and also very much pre-occupied when the janitor entered her office. In response to her mechanical nod he began: "Miss M—, that crossing out there is dangerous. If they don't send us a traffic officer some of the children in this class are going to get killed."

She had not really heard his speech, for he was always complaining, so she made no answer. And then he repeated his assertion with some emphasis, adding: "Why are you going to get killed out there—some of our children?"

She had caught the last phrase, and mechanically, after her day of classifying said: "Then I had better pick out this one for that."

And the door closed.

Goat Disposed Rich Mine.

A mountain goat recently was responsible for the discovery of what is believed to be one of the most valuable mines in British Columbia, which had been hunted by prospectors for years, after rich lode ore had been found. A film was burning mountain goats high above timber line. He had trailed an animal for miles when it came to the glacier and stood in plain view against the sky on a pinnacle of ice. The goat creaked and the goat fed and then a steep precipice and rolled several hundred feet. Its body fell over a cliff and was broken in pieces. When it fell it was found it had dislodged a massive rock beneath which the long-searched-for vein lay.

Tells of Web-Footed Men.

The most curious tribe, called Agamabari, are to some extent web-footed, double thumb and shell pattern, consisting of blotting paper. They live in a marsh and are so much at home in the water that they seem to stand upright in that element without any perceptible effort. They catch ducks by diving under them and catching the birds' legs.

Their diet consists chiefly of fish, water lilies, sage and the roots of water lilies. They keep pigs, swing in hammocks, underneath their houses (which are in the water built on ten foot poles), lying on their bellies with their legs stuck through the bottom, and feed them on fish and sage. The dead are buried by being tied to a stake, the body secured well above the level of the water, and the head on a "dead pole." From "Some Experiences of a New Guinea Resident Magistrate," by Capt. C. A. Monkton.

Napoleon's Desert Service Sold.

A French desert dish of split plums, double thread and shell pattern, consisting of two sugar sitters, four spoons, a fork of sugar tows, 24 small spoons, 24 forks and knives with porcelain handles, formerly the property of Emperor Napoleon, and bearing the imperial order of the bee, was sold in a London auction house not long ago. The service was the property of a nobleman whose name is not revealed.—London Times.

Wood Preservatives.

Wood preservatives are found by the United States forest products laboratory to be necessarily soluble in water to produce a true solution, though in some cases the solubility may be as slight as one-millionth. Sodium fluoride and zinc chloride are freely soluble, the cresols are soluble in water, and the pentachlorophenols appear to act as preservatives of the toxic ingredients, and to feed them out slowly to the wood.

Whole Meat Resembles Beef.

The meat of the whale extends in great boneless masses, in uniform quality, from the base of the skull to the tail fin. In appearance it is similar to beef, but is somewhat coarser in texture. Its flavor is said to suggest venison. One of the best "steaks" of the whale is the heart, which weighs 3,000 pounds.

WINTER BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Matches Close With Next Week's Games and Dinner

With but two more matches to roll, the interest in the winter bowling tournament now stands wholly about those teams standing either first for prizes or who have a chance to escape the penalty of paying for dinner. On Monday night team 4, standing in second place, lost an opportunity to clinch the top position by dropping one point to team 7. Team 4, in fourth position, lost another opportunity to strengthen its standing by dividing honors with team 5. Otherwise team 15 won all four from 11, neither being materially affected by the match. Excellent scores were rolled, specially by the members of team 6. Goals made 340 for a total, 129 being his best single string. Goalside rolled 331 with 117, McDonald 320 with 117, Aveline 314 with 117, Miner 303 with 124, P. Kingston 300 with 102, Kewes 125, Adams 121, Gubsmith 111, Saubins 110, Staple 108, and Tarbell 106.

FIRE ON CROSS STREET

Box 33, sounding at 9:35 on Monday evening interrupted Alfred S. Hall's speech in Town Meeting, as it called the fire department to the scene of a fire on Cross Street, near the corner of the old Maxwell house on Cross Street, now occupied by Carl O. Jewett.

The fire department found a brick blaze going under the tin covered piazza roof, and 700 feet of hose and three-quarters of an hour were used before it was extinguished. The fire is thought to have been caused by a cigarette being thrown from a party window and landing in the gutter, a group playing pool during the evening in the upstairs portion. The fire was extinguished without any great damage, although the party who was extinguishing the fire by a passer-by, it might have assumed more serious proportions.

CALENDAR OFFICERS NOMINATED

President—Wilbur S. Locke.
Treasurer—Dr. Robert D. Blacker.
Secretary—Fred H. Barnham.
Governor—Charles B. Swallow.
Bartlett C. Stephenson, James M. Plinn.

RED CROSS NOTES

Mrs. Ront, Mrs. Maynard and Mrs. Russell have been appointed delegates to a conference, arranged for the Metropolitan chapter, to consider the plan of separating from the Boston Metropolitan chapter and reorganizing as chapters of the American Red Cross under the New England division.

This proposed change is due in part to the reduced resources of the Boston chapter and to a conclusion that the better plan is for most communities to carry on and support their own chapters. The conference will bring out the wishes of the branches, adjust their finances and will enable them to hold the ground already gained.

POP CONCERT MONDAY

This annual Pop Concert, held yearly for the benefit of the Winchester Hospital, will take place on Monday evening in the Town Hall. Arrangements for the concert have been taken and a large number of the balcony seats. Extensive preparations have been made by the committee in charge, and this is the last concert of the many already held.

VESPER SERVICE

April 3, 1921.

First Congregational Church

Miss Marion Carley To Play

On Sunday, April 3rd, at five o'clock in the afternoon there will be the usual Vesper Service at the First Congregational Church. With this service the series for the season will be concluded.

The artist on this occasion will be Miss Marion Carley, a pianist who has won unusual recognition during the comparatively short period since her appearance on the concert stage. She has been enthusiastically received wherever she has played in all the principal cities of the Middle West and South.

Playing at a recent recital in Boston, Mr. Philip Hale, who is acknowledged to be the leading musical critic of the day, wrote as follows: "Miss Carley's playing was well contrived and impressive. She has an agreeable touch, a smooth and supple touch, and she plays with a certain ease and grace. Her playing is a fine stage presence and plays with excellent aplomb, having plenty of technique and a musically intelligent ear."

It is evident that Miss Carley's playing is well understood and it is hoped that our townspeople will take advantage of what is an unusual opportunity to hear one of the best of the younger pianists.

5000 FOR SWAN ROAD

Editor of the Star:

At the first session of the annual town meeting your humble servant ascertained that $5000 had been appropriated for the improvement of Swan Road. At the second session of the meeting the chairman of our Finance Committee reported that the statement made at the first session was misleading. If my memory serves me correctly, the Finance Committee were informed that the town had $5000 to put Swan Road in the excellent condition that it is in at the present time.

If I am correct, the chairman of the Finance Committee informed the electorate assembled that the road was completed for less than $5000, hence our very readily ascertain that we are fortunate in having a superintendent of streets who certainly has a very efficient superintendent when he constructs a road for less than the Finance Committee recommended.

If I am correct, the statement on the floor of the town hall or through the columns of the Star that was misleading, I assure you, Mr. Editor, that I am very much interested in the error. I simply try to point out facts as I see them in my own humble way. If the Finance Committee has eventually paid the bill.

In conclusion I write these few lines simply to point out to the voters who are interested in the town's annual town meeting that I know what I was talking about. I am sure that the Finance Committee recommended that the sum of $5000 be appropriated for the construction of Swan Road.

Yours very truly,

Patrick H. Croughwell

UNDER PASS AT STATION

Acting upon numerous claims that the railroad tunnel was not underpinned by many voters when it was built or at the recent town meeting, the Winchester Board of Trade, at its meeting of last week, discussed ways and means of getting before the voters all the facts about this project.

Members who brought the matter up at the Board's meeting, maintained that the project did not get before the voters at the town meeting, first, because it was not understood and secondly because it was mixed on the ballot with a bond issue and the Finance Committee recommended that the two-thirds vote to pass, so that the underpass project, although receiving a substantial majority, was lost. It was claimed that many voters, who were opposed to the "movies" and confused and voted "no" on every motion on the special ballot.

The element of danger involved in the present grade crossing because many school children and older persons have used the overhead bridge and its long climb up and down, and cross the track at either end of the railroad tunnel, was one of the reasons that the Board decided to take in the matter and make sure that all the facts about this project be presented to the voters.

WINCHESTER BRANCH, M. C. W. G. ITEMS

The Emerald White, March 17th, in charge of Mrs. Mary J. Halvartz was the most successful affair run by the Branch thus far, and netted quite a substantial sum. The hall was decorated for the occasion after the manner of a ship's saloon, with flags and emblems of every description. The Irish colors predominating. Mrs. Halvartz was assisted in the work of decorating by Mr. Halvartz and Mr. Siles of the U. S. Navy.

There were many beautiful prizes donated, and among the lucky winners were the following: Mrs. Daniel O'Leary, Mr. Hugh J. O'Leary, Joseph Foley, Miss Kathleen Trainor, Mrs. Doris Fitzgerald, Miss Mildred Kennedy, Mrs. P. Glendon, Mr. John Boyle, Mrs. Mary Roach, Miss Theresa Hanlon, Miss Agnes Murphy, Mrs. Amy Walsh and others.

Plans are nearly completed for a "Feast of the Seasons" Dancing Party to be held in Lyceum Hall, Wednesday evening, March 30th. Elaborate decorations will be the most salient feature of this affair, and to carry out the idea of the four seasons four booths will be arranged to illustrate Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.

The booth in charge of Mrs. Margaret McKoon will have as its solo dancer little Miss Lois Stowers who will represent Spring.

"Summer" booth in charge of Mrs. Mary A. Carr and Mrs. Anna DeCoursey will have as its special dancer Miss Margaret McDonald. The Autumn booth, in charge of Mrs. Clara Hayes and Mrs. Mary L. Ward will be represented by little Miss Philip Jones in an Indian dance "Harwartha".

The Winter booth in charge of Mrs. Ann Hanlon and Mrs. Lillian Ledwidge will have as representative a dancing frost-queen, little Miss White.

Miss Alice White will act as soloist for the four booths: thus each season will be interpreted completely through song, dance and color.

Other members on the program will include piano selections by the Misses Ellen and Alice White, songs by Mrs. Lillian Terry, violin selections by Mr. John Garvey and patriotic dances by little Miss Lois Stowers of Everett. General dancing will follow the entertainment till 1 a. m.

TOWN AFFAIRS DISCUSSED

Board of Trade Advocates Tunnel Under Tracks at Station

The Winchester Board of Trade held its regular monthly meeting and dinner on Tuesday evening in White's Hall, there being a good attendance with the members of the Board of Selectmen, Chairman Burton W. Cary of the Finance Committee and Chief David H. DeCoursey of the Fire Department present as guests. President Arthur P. Downer presided. About 50 were present.

Dinner was served at 6:30 and following at 7:45, the meeting was opened and such regular business as was at hand transacted. The larger part of the evening was given over to a discussion of the proposed foot tunnel under the railroad tracks at the station.

In this discussion the relief model of the centre, prepared some years ago in connection with the elimination of our grade crossing, was used, it being set up at the head of the hall. Town Engineer James Hinds explained the detail of the tunnel and displayed plans and outlined the project.

The Board went on record as still being desirous of pushing this project through, and numerous members gave voice to their regret that notwithstanding the large vote in favor of the tunnel, it was turned down at the annual meeting. It is reported to be the thought of many that by placing this matter on the ballot an expression of opinion only was sought, and that the matter would come up in open meeting for discussion and action. Had this been done, they feel, the bond issue would have been ordered by a two-thirds vote.

Again, others present stated that they never knew that it was the plan to finance this tunnel by a bond issue, and that it was done by opponents of the measure.

The meeting was greatly interested in the relief model of the centre, showing the appearance of that portion affected by lowering the railroad tracks, with all of the buildings modeled to scale.

The following nominating committee has been appointed by President Downer to prepare a list of officers for the coming year: George F. Arnold, Edward R. Grosvenor, Charles E. Kennedy, Frank L. Drummond and Herbert Wadsworth.

Report of the various committees in charge of the coming annual dinner, to be held at the Chalmers Club next month, were made through chairman Charles A. Lane.

BRUSH FIRES START

The warm weather and high winds started brush and grass fires about town over the weekend. Friday morning at 8:10 the department was called by telephone from the residence of Mr. R. F. Bacon on Grove street, to extinguish a dangerous blaze in the dump in that neighborhood, and later in the forenoon grass at the rear of Mr. J. W. Johnson's residence on Wilkes street also necessitated attention.

On Saturday afternoon at 3:15 burning woods off Chisholm road at the highlands resulted in a telephone call to the department, and at 4:20 grass burning near Fells road was the cause of another call.

WINCHESTER HAS A NEW STORE

Winchester will have another new store tomorrow, a store which will tickle the palate of all. Arnold & Colgate, well known through their fine confectionery and ice cream store at Woburn, are opening a Winchester branch on Main street near the Gas office. This store is already known as a candy store, but never before has it had the excellence of the confections it will henceforth carry. Candy and ice cream—your kind, for this firm has already ready a large Winchester trade, and it is to accommodate their Winchester patrons that they are opening their new branch. The store opens tomorrow. See Arnold & Colgate's announcement in this issue of the ST-AR.

A WISE DECISION

The decision of the Legislative Committee on military affairs to postpone until next year all consideration of the report of the Soldiers and Sailors' Memorial Commission is wise. And, considering everything, we believe the people of the State will approve it.

It is not that Massachusetts forgets or will forget her sons in the Great war. A worthy memorial is certain to come, perhaps not in the material form of a marble hall, or a towering arch or a stately bridge, but in some shape that will express the affection and respect of a great Commonwealth for men who dared the deeds for their country.

It is over-early to say what that memorial shall be. It is not the time to decide upon any monument costing many millions. The mere expenditure of money does not ensure a fitting remembrance. Let us wait awhile and see what is wholly best.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

At the home of Mrs. John L. Cayton on Sheffield West, last Friday, the March meeting of the Winchester Union was held in the form of a silver tea. Owing to the fact that there were two speakers, the business session was cut very short in order to have more time for the social portion of the program. Mrs. Marion Rice Taylor gave a most interesting and timely talk and Mrs. Anna Dorr Bryant, M. D. of Melrose, superintendent of the department of Social Hygiene in the Massachusetts W. C. T. U. spoke of the need of constructive work along the line. She called attention to the present day disregard for the fundamental principles formerly recognized and the need of women above all, mothers, with a vision to help keep the world safe and sane. She spoke especially of the present styles of dress and the menace of unbecoming movies. Miss Jean McLellan delighted all present with her rendering of a group of songs and with Mrs. LeFavour the accompanist, and also a solo during the devotional exercises. Mrs. Walter Tibbitts and Mrs. Louis Chandler presided at the tables during the social hour which was unusually enjoyable.

The next meeting of the Union will be held at the home for the Aged on April 15. On April 14 will be held a Rummage Sale for the benefit of the work of the State W. C. T. U. which needs more funds to meet the current expenses and carry on forward work and has asked each Union in the commonwealth to observe April 14th as State Day, for the purpose of raising funds to "carry on." Members and friends are asked to collect what "rummage" they have in order to make the sale a great success. Further details will be given later but it is not too early to take an account of stock.

Mrs. Hamilton, president of the Winchester Union and also County president presided at the meeting of the Middlesex County Executive at Melford last week.

JOE MITCHELL CHAPPEL AT BOARD OF TRADE DINNER

Joe Mitchell Chapple, widely known writer and lecturer, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of the Winchester Board of Trade on April 26. Mr. Chapple is the editor and publisher of the National Magazine and a brilliant speaker.

Through the courtesy of the Calumet Club's directors, the dinner will be served at that Club. The dinner committee has selected a first class caterer, and in addition to the speaking there will be entertainment features.

Tickets for the dinner probably will be ready next week and may be secured from Harris Richardson, Charles A. Lane, J. A. Horsey and T. H. Barrett. Inasmuch as the seating capacity of the dining hall is limited, the members are urged to secure their tickets early.

The dinner committee includes: Charles A. Lane, general chairman; Emma E. C. Sanderson, A. B. Allen, G. A. Bancroft, entertainment, Herbert Wadsworth, J. C. Sullivan, Harris Richardson.

MOTHER GOOSE PICTURES AND FOLK DANCES

The children of the Washington School featured in a representation of Mother Goose characters last Friday afternoon at the High School. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the efforts of the young players.

The pictures were planned and directed by Mrs. Iris Phillips who took the part of Mother Goose. A large sum was realized for the milk fund of the school.

CAUTION AGAINST OVER INSURANCE

For five years the values of buildings, merchandise, machinery and raw stock have been advancing, and we have very properly advised property owners to increase the amounts of insurance carried.

The tide has now turned and prices are beginning to come down. Building costs show only slight reduction, but merchants are selling their stocks at reduced prices to meet the readjustment.

During the past four months the fire losses of the country were tremendous. Under these conditions, it is our imperative duty as insurance men to do our utmost to prevent over-insurance. It is our duty not only to the Companies, but to our customers whose good will we wish to retain and to the public generally. In the past we have advised increased insurance, but now we must advise against carrying more than can be properly collected in case of loss; any other course will bring discredit upon our business and will lose to us the respect of our insurers.

DAILY PHILOSOPHY

Keeping a man's nose on the ground stone doesn't sharpen his wits.
The man who stands at the bottom of the ladder and studies it is often of more benefit to the country than the one who climbs to the top.
Women are naturally charitable, they would much rather share a secret with others than keep it.

Give people what they think they want instead of what they really need and they'll go on their way rejoicing.
Knowing Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, we likewise know that the Town of Winchester will erect a suitable War Memorial to it, and the dangers who served in the World War. Knowing the Town of Winchester, we likewise know that Mr. Parkhurst will receive any and every honor in the erection of this memorial.

Postmaster Will Hays has a job on his hands which probably appeals to the public at large more than any other proposed governmental reform. To have our postal service placed on a plane with post, but not forgotten, years will cause more than one business man to leave a sigh of relief. That the whole service is demoralized and has been demoralized for some time will make his job a hard one if he will re-form, organize or systematize our service so that we can venture to send second class mail without marking and paying for it. We, the class, and our first class without registering it or sending it special, and above all give us a little confidence, that any man who is received by the party addressed, it will be considerable towards establishing a little confidence that the country has a future so far as government and public utilities are concerned. Any private business run on a plane similar to that of the service would not survive the year, and we do not envy Mr. Hays his job. Meanwhile we have a messenger our ordinary mail, paying two or three hundred per cent. or more, than what it should cost us and did cost us many years ago.

The next large problem to confront our Town is the question of voting precincts and the method of holding our Town Meeting although thus far, from this year's observation, our present meeting system is safely being continued. If we do not have any more crowded meetings than we have had thus far this spring, especially considering the importance of the matters under consideration, we would do well to make no change. As providing an example of the good old Democratic New England Town Meeting we have outdone ourselves this year. We have had a good attendance and exceptionally good debate, with all matters having received the deliberation, if we except the little flier in High street mud and water which some unkind male voters are inclined to attribute to the over enthusiasm of the new feminine voters. It was said that more than one wife received her first real lesson in public behavior at Town Meeting procedure after that first session and it was evidently taken to heart, for beyond the abundant and important matters of no treatable character in our meeting is apparent. Possibly it is to this audience that we may lay our excellent deliberation. In the old days when the ladies sat in the balconies it was noticeably lacking, so who could it be? either an ornate male or really a male or female. It will be too bad if all of us who desire cannot attend the annual meeting and listen and take part. For course if we all cannot get to the ball we have not to make other arrangements, but if we can get in, why exclude any who desire to take part? As regards the voting it is a different matter. While our town hall seems fully capable of handling the voting, and the method of appearing to satisfy all, there are some living in the outlying districts who desire to be able to step around the corner and cast their vote instead of riding in a ten thousand dollar limousine heated to exactly the right temperature to suit their mood. To us it is a pleasurable as well as a necessary part of an election to arise a little earlier in the morning; to meet all our nearest and dearest; to get a little fresh air into our lungs before eating and to mark our ballot in common with our democratic teachings. Still this is an age of progress, who would have thought in days gone by, had our government decided to adopt "sun time" of striking off by themselves, either as a State or a single county, and defying the market? Yet today we see States under one time, cities and towns under another, while small groups decide themselves just what they will do, and do it, making a law or other to protect them. The worst of it is they get away with it. The tendency of today is to do just as you individually desire, with no heed to the wishes or desires of the majority, and if we cannot abide by the choice of the majority, but must arrange everything to suit ourselves and our own small individual tastes and dislikes, our democracy loses its lustre and a wise dictatorship appears inviting. Winchester, as representing a group of intelligent people willing to live along democratic lines and live up to God and man-made laws, provides a pretty good example of what this country stands for. Concrete illustrations are furnished of this every week in the year, and it does not need a citizen who stands in the shadow of the home he has selected and purchased to stand up and say he is satisfied if it will benefit the many. If our Town Meetings get too large we must meet the condition, so it will be wise to be prepared, even if we do not put a new method into immediate practice. Likewise we may do well, if the majority wish, to divide our voting places about town, even if some of us put too weight by the extra hour of slumber.

THE WOMEN'S BENEVOLENT SOCIETY OF THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The mothers and daughters of members were the special guests of the Women's Benevolent Society of the First Baptist Church at their meeting, Thursday March 17th. About 35 were present and 21 new names were added to membership. The tables were prettily decorated in green and white and a delicious supper was served at 6.30. After the supper the president, Mrs. Richard Taylor, introduced in turn the past presidents of the Society, Mrs. Ella Saborn, Mrs. T. J. Blank and Mrs. Anderson, who each responded with a two-minute speech. Mr. Walcott also spoke briefly and interestingly, after which the speaker of the evening, Miss Gertrude Hordley of Melrose, gave a delightful and inspiring talk on "The Work of Women in the Church."

JEREMIAH LUCY

Funeral services were held Friday, March 25, at St. Mary's Church for the late Jeremiah Lucy, who passed away Wednesday, March 23, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Ambrose, 5 Elmwood Avenue, after a short illness. He was 82 years of age. He was married for the past twenty-one years and had been held at all times in the highest esteem especially by those who knew him. He was a native of New England, the "little folks" in his neighborhood. Many beautiful floral tributes were received.

WINTER BOWLING ENDS

The Settled and Extra Games Yet to Decide Dinners

With the rolling of the final match in the series and of the roll-off match to settle first place honors, the winter bowling tournament at the Calumet Club was finished last night. There is still a four team tie to be rolled to settle the tenth place in the dinner contest, and this will be rolled next Tuesday evening. The tournament included 20 teams this season and was one of the most successful ever held at the Club.

Last night's matches settled first, second and fourth places. Teams 6 and 18 were tied for first place and team 14 needed at least a three win to beat out team 4 for fourth position. There was a large gallery and great interest in the matches.

Team 6 won out in the roll-off and takes first place over team 18. The winner, dropped the first string by a large margin, but came back in the second, which they took by 225 pins. They made new work of the third and totals. Goldsmith proved high roller with a total of 330 on a single of 116, while Pilkington of the same team rolled 225 with 119, and Fenno got a single of 105. Hildreth of team 18 rolled a string of 165.

The win of team 1 over team 19, giving the former fourth place, was likewise a three point victory, team 11 taking the first, dropping the second and winning the third and totals. These scores were not as high as the others, although Crafts rolled 312 with 122, Dolben 110 and Butterworth 101.

The teams standing in the first four positions follow. The individual prize winners are yet to be announced, and on Tuesday evening teams 3, 5, 15 and 7 roll off a four team tie to see which will occupy tenth place and thereby escape paying for a dinner. The usual dinner will be held on Saturday evening, April 24.

1st place, Team 6, Earl B. Goldsmith, Capt. R. B. Fenno, R. M. Donald, H. L. Pilkington, W. F. Goldie. 58 won and 18 lost.

2nd place, Team 18, J. R. Faussey, Capt. T. J. Fredburn, H. A. Peterson, J. W. Johnson, H. W. Hildreth. 58 won and 18 lost.

3rd place, Team 1, M. K. Berry, Capt. James M. Ellen, B. K. Stephenson, J. H. Taylor, Lambert Hunt. 55 won and 21 lost.

4th place, Team 14, W. D. Eaton, Capt. A. G. Barr, C. M. Crafts, S. E. Perkins, A. A. Dolben. 45 won 30 lost.

Current Compromise.

When South Africa became federated, ten years ago, a controversy as to the capital city was settled by one of the most curious compromises in history. Pretoria became the administrative and Cape Town the legislative center. So United South Africa has two capitals, which are almost exactly 1000 miles apart—Brooklyn Eagle.

Plants in Bedroom.

Do not have flowers or plants in the bedroom, particularly overnight. Poisonous gas is evolved from the colored parts of flowers both by night and day, and from the green parts in addition at night. It is pleasant to have flowers in a guestroom, but for the reason just set forth they should not remain in the sleeping chamber. The way to get around the difficulty is by the use of a window box.

How Lampreys Lay Eggs

Lampreys are not the monsters in the ocean that run into the fresh water at the mouth of every river. They are the most common of the fish in which their eggs are deposited. They pick out the pebbles in the bottom of the river, using the suction power of their jaws to dislodge the stone, and deposit eggs in the spot selected.

House With Straw Walls.

A house with walls made of compressed straw has been erected in Paris. The framework of the building is of wood and the sides are filled in with blocks of tightly compressed straw, which are staked to its hard concrete and just as inflammable, owing to the high-temperature of the materials only small fumigations are needed, and a house of this kind can be built in a month. The idea of using straw in this way is attributed to a French textile manufacturer.

H. L. Frost of Arlington reported to the police Tuesday that he had struck and run over Ralph Wells, 14 years of age, the son of George Wells of 651 Washington street. According to report of the accident the Wells boy, with two companions, was leading a ride on the back of one of the one-man electric. The conductor stopped the car and started back to drive the boys off and the Wells boy ran directly in front of Mr. Frost's car. He was knocked down and run over, but was not injured so far as could be ascertained. On Monday evening there was an auto collision in the centre at the traffic sign in front of Allen's pharmacy. Cars owned by Miles S. Maxim of Somerville and George A. Proctor of Waverley, travelling at right angles, came together, the rear fender and a spoke on a rear wheel of the Proctor car being broken and the bumper and front fender on the Maxim car being damaged.

Fire Proofing Cotton.

A process has been devised for treating baled cotton with a chemical compound which renders it flame and spark proof and at the same time apparently provides an inch or two of cotton in addition to aid in rapid drying without deterioration in case a bale is exposed to weather. On an average, 20,000 bales of cotton are destroyed by fire before the crop is harvested and most of this loss can be traced to flash or spark fire. Cotton stored in suitable warehouses would be evidence of a progressive step, for there is probably no crop of so great value that is treated with so little thoughtful consideration—Scientific American.

MIXED BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Matches in the mixed bowling tournament at the Calumet Club Tuesday night produced some of the low scores of the year, and all wins were due to the victorious teams. Individual work was far below the average, Mrs. Johnston leading the ladies with a total of 176 and a single of 96, with Mrs. Black second with a string of 85. The best score of the gentlemen was Mr. Eberhardt's string of 113, while others of note were Mr. Howe's 106 and 101 by Mr. Freeman.

AN ESSAY ON THE BRIDGE BY MR. CRAUGHWELL

Editor of the Star:

After very carefully scrutinizing the article that appeared in regard to the underpass at the station in the last issue of the Star, I am amazed, and to say the least it certainly was humiliating to your humble servant, to find that the following few lines that appeared in that very lengthy article:

"Winchester has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in the construction of the new bridge over the river, and to acquire the Whitney mill privileges, and would not hesitate to appropriate the sum asked to build the abutment that the railroad has forced upon us. Every one on first coming to Winchester comments unfavorably on it. Undoubtedly during the last few years we have lost many valuable additions to our population and much increase to our valuation by this monstrosity."

Now, Mr. Editor when we had a tannery of the name of Manchester, and five other leather factories, namely Maxwell's on Cross St., Johnson's on Walnut St., the Parkway, Lord's, and the Gardner's, and beautiful bridges now stand, Loring and Avery's on Swanton St., Blank Brothers on Middlesex St., and last but not least the Gardner's, and the reputation, undoubtedly believed that Winchester was an ideal place to meet a home the late Theodore P. Will on the Winchester. Mr. Star, Edward Everett, ex-president of Harvard, who served as United States Senator and Governor of Massachusetts, also served as minister to England and secretary of State; the Honorable P. O. Prince, ex-Mayor of Boston, and ex-Governor, Samuel W. McCall; State Senator Lewis Parbur; General J. M. Corcoran, ex-postmaster of Boston; Colonel Charles Adams; Thayer; Patrick Holland, who helped construct the Boston and Lowell Railroad and was one of our largest taxpayers; and the late Thomas W. Lawson of frenzied finance fame, who moved to the satisfaction of Winchester, and a investigation recently held in Washington that he was a farmer from Boston who raised pink pigs, coppers, pigs, horses, cows and bulldogs, and certainly did his part to reduce the high cost of living.

Now then readers of the Star as I understand the situation here are the facts: the Boston and Maine engineers crossed the bridge at the depot to meet the inhabitants of the town. It did not cost the taxpayers one cent. There have been no accidents since the bridge was erected and yet some of the largest taxpayers of the town, $50,000 for a tunnel that will not protect the lives of human beings or even any better protection than we have at present. Possibly we could dig in the tunnel if it rained or if it was a real warm day.

Now then, assuming that the taxpayers expect $300,000 for said tunnel, what will it cost the struggling farmer or the poor widow who has to maintain her family on a narrow board in order to maintain her little home? How much money will it cost the taxpayers every year to keep a watchman in order that said tunnel will be kept in a sanitary condition? When we wind our way to Fenway Park to watch Babe Ruth put one over on the Fenway team, and climb the steps of the elevator; although perhaps the structure might look ugly, is not much better for our health to climb up the stairs and off our lungs with fresh pure air? Some folks assert that the bridge will be the death of some folks, and a monstrosity will have a tendency to decrease our valuation and prevent many valuable additions to our population. The most absurd nonsense that I ever heard! Why, very recently, the powers that control the Bay State Railway erected a new factory house in the center for the switch men and furnished him with lace curtains and an electric heater to keep his lower extremities warm, and to think that the gentlemen have no lace curtains on the windows of their shave parlor, that they have great difficulty to put on their watch, and the bridge at the depot.

The big cabins and little red school houses were ugly looking structures, but they certainly did produce some wonderful scholars, patriots and able sailors.

The same great purposes we all
